Mr. French is well known in the Grande Ronde valley having lived at Union for a few years.

Dr. Murphy Back—Dr. and Mrs. Ray Murphy motored into La Grande yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at the conclusion of a three weeks' trip that commenced with the American Legion State convention at The Dalles. Following the termination of the convention they motored to Astoria, returning to Hood River and then going to Hayden lake, Idaho, where they spent a week. While at Hayden Lake they met Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, of La Grande, who also returned to La Grande yesterday by way of Lewiston, Ida.

Elgin Man in City—S. A. Chapman, of Elgin, is in the city today on business.

Spending Day in City—Wm. Rosewall, of Union, is a business visitor in the city today and will return to his home this evening.

Westenhaber Returns—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Westenhaber and family returned from a ten days visit in Portland this noon on 24. While in the Rose City Mr. Westenhaber attended Buyers' Week and attended to some other business.

Fishing Sunday—E. O. Baker, Chas. Daggott, Chas. Eikel and I. Crawford spent Sunday up the Wallowa river indulging in the old sport of fishing. Mr. Baker states that "the waters of the Wallowa was very muddy yesterday due to the heavy rains in that section of the country. The river cleared up in the evening and many fish were caught."

Two Reds in City—"Red" Blakely and "Red" Watson, both hailing from Baker, motored to La Grande Saturday evening and attended the dance, then returning to their homes. "Red" Blakely is quite prominent in athletic circles, having been pronounced by a certain college coach as being one of the most promising athletes on the coast.

Home to Visit Parents—Miss Ina Watkins, who has been attending the Lewiston State Normal school, has returned to La Grande to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Watkins, of Allice. Miss Ina has accepted a position as teacher at Waha, Idaho, where she taught last year.

Looking After U. S. Affairs—Lee Morelock, deputy United States marshal, under Major Hotchkiss, was in the city Saturday looking after Uncle Sam's business in this territory. Lee formerly lived at Elgin and at one time was a member of the Evening Observer's mechanical force. Later he was employed by the state at Salem from which position he went to the federal work.

Twin Falls People Here—Two former residents of La Grande motored into town earlier in the week and made their quarters at the tourist camp at the city park and after getting comfortably settled they came up town and commenced to look up their former acquaintances. Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Haviland are the two and after spending several years in La Grande they went to Twin Falls, Idaho, where they have lived for the past seven years. Dr. Haviland is a member of the city park tourist camp commission at Twin Falls and considers his duty to visit every tourist camp on the way if possible. He is quite impressed with La Grande's matchless park, situated on the banks of the Grande Ronde river and with the tourist camp adjacent. Mrs. Haviland is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Moore of this city.

Held Up Ice Cream Wagon—Jesse James, the banisher of national renown, may take a back seat now because La Grande has a bunch of bandits that will stop at nothing—not even an ice cream wagon. In the pursuit of their criminal procedure they are impartial and it makes no difference to them whether they steal an ice cream cone or ten cents in real money. This said band of enterprising bandits yesterday came into public light when they ambushed an ice cream wagon driven by Jack W. Bush's son and proceeded to divert the wagon of its ice cream and other jaunty edibles. So sure were they of their ability that they carried no weapons and neither did they bind their victim up as is usually the case. The scene of the above robbery occurred near the Palmers mills yesterday afternoon and although the boys made good their escape, the boy driving the wagon recognized two of them and the city police has the situation well in hand.

Kentuckians in City—Miss Lydia Young and her brother, Jack, of Kentucky, are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Robinson, having arrived yesterday from Tucson, Arizona, where they have been spending a few weeks. They will be in La Grande for a few days before going back to Kentucky.
