AMERICAN FLAG AS TALISMAN

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—An American flag was carried beside the Greek colors in every Greek division which took the field against the Turks, according to Alonzo Wilson, national director of the Near East Relief.

"The troops carried the American colors for luck, and they had extremely bad luck. Nevertheless, their choice of a talisman indicated the men's respect for America and its republican form of government."

Biggest Bill in Washington

The biggest bill in Washington—bigger than the bonus bill or Bill Page—is that of Miss Alice, American woman, the net of Georgia Mayan. Miss Alice has introduced a bill for the relief of the Georgia Mayan people.

only thing which will save the European quarter of Constantinople from a fate like Smyrna will be the control of that city by the allies.

"Many of the 25,000 girls who were reported kidnapped at Smyrna were college-trained and as beautiful as American girls. Before they were captured the Near East Relief rescued 125,000 Christian girls throughout Turkey."

Hep-Scotch Ancient Game.

Hep-Scotch is a game with a very long history. It is even said that some of the pavements of the ancient forum in Rome, are marked with the same diagrams as those which boys and girls draw on the pavements in our streets today. So Julius Caesar and Nero and all the Roman emperors may possibly have played at that, too! Who knows?

Natural Craving for Rhythm.

In dance and song and rhythm there is a craving for rhythm—the rhythm of the world that is sex and poetry and freedom. It is an ugly, horrible, tortured rhythm—the dancing of a crippled child.—Ludwig Lewisohn.

FINAL SCENE OF "HENRY AND ME" NOW

(By Associated Press.)

SCOTSDALE, Kan., Oct. 3.—The final scene in the latest episode of "Henry and Me" is scheduled to be staged in the district court here at the term opening October 3. This will certainly be a "legal adventure," rather than one of a martial nature, as was the original, a book written by William Allen White, Emporia editor and author, concerning the execution of his life long friend, Gov. J. Allen, of Kansas, and himself, in Red Cross service overseas during the World War. In the coming "adventure" Mr. White will be defendant on a charge of violation of the Kansas industrial court act, sponsored by Governor Allen because Mr. White, in the window of his newspaper office a placard expressing sympathy for the striking railroad shopworkers. If the case comes to trial, the issue of "free speech" involved may be legally determined. Mr. White contended that the order directing he and others to remove the strike sympathy placards was a violation of the privileges of free speech. Governor Allen has stated repeatedly that the question of free speech is not involved—that the display of the signs constituted joining a conspiracy to prevent men taking the places of the striking shopmen. The Kansas industrial court law prohibits conspiracies designed to interfere with the operation of any industry necessary to public welfare. Mr. White refused to remove the placard ordered to by Attorney General H. J. Hopkins, but, following issuance of the state warrant and his technical arraignment in the district court, he agreed that pending determination of the validity of the act, the placard should remain down. Both the governor and Mr. White declare that this upshot of a "legal adventure" has not at all violated their long personal friendship, which became so firmly sealed by their "martial adventure" overseas.
