WILLIAMS HAS GOOD 'FAIR'

La Grande Investment Company Manager Has Hot Competition in Windows.

There are county fairs, state fairs, world fairs, grange fairs, but Sherwood Williams of the La Grande Investment company is the only La Grande man who ever started a fair of his own.

With the large show windows in his office building making a decidedly fine place for produce and fruit exhibits, Mr. Williams started the ball to rolling by placing a few choice apples in one window. Soon a Grande Ronde valley fruit man came along, and after looking at the apples, remarked that he had apples better than those. Mr. Williams invited him to bring them in. Others followed until today he has an exhibit that Weatherspoon of Elgin would enjoy, and everyone is calling it "Sheb's" fair.

The interesting feature is the disposition of the produce and the prizes to be awarded, which will be in the nature of ribbon distinction, with impartial judges to pass on the different displays.

QUARANTINE IS MARKED BY LINE

BAKER, Oct. 10.—Judge J. L. Dodson is in receipt of official notice from H. H. Weatherspoon, of Elgin, Eastern Oregon member of the state horticulture board, regarding the quarantine lines against the shipping of hay in Baker county. The line as established will be one and a half miles south of Baker city limits and will also apply to the Bridgeport road from Burnt river.

Judge Dodson stated today he has ordered signs painted, which will be placed so as to clearly show the quarantine lines, prohibiting the bringing of hay from the infected areas across the line into Baker or Baker valley. He requests that farmers exercise care in observing the quarantine. Failure to do so will doubtless result in the Board ordering the quarantine for the [illegible]

Blaine Hallock is in receipt of the following wire from Mr. Weatherspoon: "Official notice of quarantine received today with authority to release. I am sending to county judge and general freight agents of the O. W. and Sumpter Valley lines."

A letter from Charles A. Park president of the board, received by Mr. Hallock, states: "I have just written H. H. Weatherspoon, the horticulture commissioner at Elgin, to attend to the releasing of the clean area of Baker county as soon as same has been determined by H. B. Fulton. Mr. Fulton will continue to report to me as soon as he determines the clean areas. I am much gratified to know you have some area not infested with the weevil, and hope that something can be done to hold back the weevil from advancing further in your country."

Throngs Wait Outside World Series Gates

Waiting hundreds spent the night before the first world series game in line outside the gates at New York. The most popular form of killing time was arguing anent the merits of the two teams. Each new edition of the papers was eagerly bought for new dope and read by the flickering light of candles.

CATHERINE ROAD TO BE SURFACED

Standard Oil Company Has Hard Time Getting Location for Its Tank Station.

(By Associated Press.)

UNION, Oct. 10.—Nolan Skiff came over from La Grande last Saturday to take in the Union-Baker football game.

School will close Tuesday afternoon for the remainder of the week in order to enable the teachers to attend the annual institute at Baker.

Slater and Blacker are not to have the marshal race all to themselves, as two other candidates have thrown their hats into the ring—D. A. Van Houten and W. W. Bayham.

W. J. Beach made a business trip to Enterprise last week.

After two failures to obtain a suitable location, owing to the titles of the places selected being faulty, the Standard Oil Company is negotiating a third site, in the vicinity of the Union Pine Planer property. If successful in securing this location the improvements will no doubt be built this fall or early in the spring.

A portion of the road up Catherine creek will be graveled this fall. The heavy traffic this summer has put the dirt road in bad condition, and work of grading will be hurried along in order to complete it before winter.
