

La Grande Evening Observer

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.
Published daily and weekly at La Grande, Oregon, by La Grande Evening Observer Publishing Company.
BRUCE DENNIS, Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at La Grande, Oregon, as Second Class Mail Matter.

Address all communications to THE OBSERVER, 2118 Adams Ave., La Grande, Oregon.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carrier.
Daily, per month 75c
Daily, per three months $2.25
Daily, per six months $4.50
Daily, single copy 5c

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

By Mail.
Daily, per year, in advance $1.00
Daily, six months, in advance $1.50
Daily, three months, in advance $2.25
Daily, per month 8c
Weekly, Observer, after, by mail, per year, in advance $1.50
On sale in other cities—Oregon: Home News, Astoria; Portland; Imperial News, Seaside; Portland; Multnomah News, Stand; Portland.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of retransmission of special dispatches here also are reserved.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

ROAD TO SUCCESS.—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. . . . Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him.—Psalm 37: 5, 7.

Mark Sullivan's Wisdom

In his special correspondence, Mark Sullivan, the veteran newspaper writer, says plainly and openly that the farmers are broke and are sullen. That no political party can claim them this year; that they are looking for any means of financing. All of which is true. And then he sounds another trumpet which seemingly the metropolitan press have paid little attention to, namely, that Henry Ford is looked upon by many as the saviour. Henry Ford, the richest man in the world, according to Sullivan, is heralded as the man to save the farmer. Impossible as it may seem on first glance, there is much to Sullivan's argument. That the farmer has an abundant reason for being sullen who will deny; that he should turn to any political nostrum that promises relief is possible. Whether he would receive it or not is another thing, but the drowning man is excusable for grasping at every straw. Hence the situation becomes very complex. With Borah bolting his party in Idaho, with Republicans in Oregon openly supporting the Democratic nominee and Democrats openly supporting the Republican nominee, it would seem that political chaos has hit the northwest with a vengeance, and behind it all Mark Sullivan has pointed to at least a part of the cause—the farmer is getting nothing for his work while many other people are.

Fighting Men

We once had a Roosevelt—a great man, a fighting man. He was the greatest character of his time and next to him came Lloyd George of England who is still in his active career. Now the opposition to Lloyd George has crystallized as it never has before. His enemies are after him. Does Lloyd George see their movements and give the easy excuse that he has served the public a long time, that he is old and will retire? Oh, no. Like the late Roosevelt, he sees their moves all right, but instead of quitting he says, "I will fight on." That's the kind of men the world must have as leaders—men who will fight on in the cause of right and justice. The compromiser who has sprung into public life much as the mushroom after a heavy rain, is in the vast majority, but the Lloyd Georges and the Roosevelts and other men who will fight on, are not numerous. In his fight Lloyd George will carry the interest and best wishes of the better people of the civilized world. His character is such that gold does not buy him, nor power make him foolish. He is plainly the biggest man England has ever had, barring none. And this includes all the kings and crowned heads.

Editorials From Over the Nation

HONORS FOR THE GIRGHEL.

Washington Times. It is all hard. Very hard. Every three weeks since Adam and Eve lost the Garden of Eden some prophet has arisen and declared that the human race was headed for the howdah.

Conditions however, have improved. Life has been made more comfortable and under have steadily grown. Men have become bolder and women stouter with the progress of the ages and the same.

A woman wrote a book called "The Future," which was supposed to contain much happiness and every literary nose was turned up.

A man wrote a dissertation entitled "The Future of the World," which was supposed to be the most brilliant work of the century. It was a study in gloom.

high know unless he has some sort of communication to his soul. And this is not confined to the intelligentsia. There is not a village in the United States where you cannot find a fellow who is in the habit of talking out to himself. The fellow who talks out to himself is the most common type in the country. There are a few who talk out to a dog. And there is one who talks out to the stars. Last night there was a boy and a girl.

As a matter of fact, it is a pretty good world. All that is said to be, talk and all that is said to be done.

TUNNELS FOR SALE.

Now, this journal, A San Francisco woman, the mother of three children, the oldest is about 12, has offered to buy another woman's husband for $100 a month. The husband is willing that the husband should be bought. The wife has decided to sell. The matter came up in a trial court. The judge said that the husband was a good man, but the wife was a better one. There is something that rather has the edge on trial marriage and free love. When trial marriage fails, when free love taken on the taste of dead sea fruit, the parties concerned have no advantage from the wreck. The structure falls as a total loss. There are no profitable by-products.

Marriage, under the San Francisco idea, becomes a sort of asset. The wife who tires of her husband need no longer go through the boredom of a divorce and suit for alimony. If he has possibilities, if he is that strange thing called "the life of the party," she may sell him outright or else rent him on a term lease. Perhaps he might even bring more at public auction than at private sale. We may yet see what aid in the newspapers calling attention to the fact that a husband is for sale who stays home nights, does not smoke in the house, and is inclined to put out the milk bottles and sign the dishes after the evening meal.

THE OFFICE CAT

—BY JUNIUS—

A FAILURE

Snobblough: "And what did you find out about my family tree?"
Genealogist: "That the crop was a failure."

One reason there is so much sadness in the world is that somewhere it is always time to get up in the morning.

What's going to be the penalty for bootlegging coal this winter?

When a man is courting a girl he just can't hear to have her out of his sight. When he's married to her a short time, she just won't let him get out of her sight.

POSITIVELY NOTHING

"A bribe, sir? That's an ugly word."
"True."
"Suppose I agree to do this for consideration?"
"Suits me. What is a syllable, more or less, between friends?"

PRAYER OF A MAIDEN

"Dear Lord, I ask for nothing for myself—only please give mother a son-in-law."

TOUGH LUCK

Agent: "But, mum, it's a shame to let your husband's life insurance lapse."

THE FAST MAIL

Is coming.

Cool and Clean

That's the way you will feel all day, if you get into the habit of shaving every morning.

The most modern necessities make the task easy.

Razors, Safety Razors, Straps, Honors, Blades, Soaps, Creams, Powders, Brushes, Mugs, etc.

If you are not already a self-shaver, you'll be delighted after making the start. Prices are reasonable.

Newlin Drug Co

Lady (over wash tub)—"I'll not pay another cent. I've paid regular for eight years an I've had no luck yet."

FINE ART OF QUITTING
The world despises every kind of a quitter—except the orator, preacher or news or ad writer who knows how to quit when his message is delivered. Such a quitter is a boom and a benediction to a weary world stopping over with verbosity.

FOOLED HIM
"The thief took my watch, my purse, my pocket book, in short, everything."
"But I thought you carried a loaded revolver?"
"I do—but he didn't find that."

AN EXTREMIST
"Mrs. Exe is a great stickler for form and ceremony, isn't she?"
"I should say so. Why, that woman would insist on dressing up to entertain an idea."

One reason a fellow doesn't attract much attention after he is dead is the ad he's changed often enough on his tombstone.

The only two who can live together as cheaply as one are the flea. Ain't we got 'em?

One of the prominent evils that the country is suffering from now is tough roast beef.

An erudite young man has invented an invention, reports the Tapska Pink Rag. He has placed mirrors at the intersections where collisions are likely, with the idea that a motorist may see a car coming from the side street. As a matter of fact, explains the Rag, the motorist sees himself coming at himself—and has a fit.

HOME HUMOR
Wife (just returned from movies): "The picture was wonderful, all about a young couple who were marooned on a desert island with nothing to eat."

Hub—Why didn't they eat the macaroons?

He who swells in prosperity will shrink in adversity.

Scientists say the earth is cooling off slowly and in these hectic days an exchange mops its brow metaphorically and heartily agrees.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS
Dr. Arthur T. Hadley, who is mentioned for the presidency of the University of California, was president of Yale University for nearly 20 years and is now president emeritus of that institution. Dr. Hadley has had an exceptionally brilliant career as a scholar, having been graduated with the highest honors for his A. B. from Yale when but 20 years of age, and later, after specializing in history and political science, having been accorded the LL. D. degree from Yale, Harvard, Columbia, and Johns Hopkins and other universities. He served as professor of political science and political economy for a number of years prior to assuming the presidency of Yale. Aside from his duties in association with university work, Dr. Hadley has been a prolific writer and has served as Commissioner of Labor Statistics for Connecticut. In 1914 he also served as lecturer at Oxford University, in England.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
U. S. senate ratified the peace treaties with Germany and Austria.

Mrs. Wintringham took her seat as the second woman member of British parliament.

Nutritious Breads for Growing Children
CRACKED WHEAT BREAD
Made Round, Easily Sliced, 10c Each.
HEALTH BREAD, very coarse, each10c
WHOLE WHEAT, made from all of the wheat finely ground, each10c
These Cereals are All Raised and Milled In the Grande Ronde Valley.

Macpherson's Bakery

Turn the Corner and Save a Dollar

- EXTRA FANCY BACON, lb45c
- NEW CODFISH22c
- QUALITY BROOMS98c
- STOCK TONIC, 50 lbs.98c

Our Prices are Delivered to Your House.

J. G. HOLM
GROCER
Quality and Service
Main 43

We Are Showing From

The Shop of Original Modes
RUSSEKS
FIFTH AVENUE
34th & 35th Streets

A Paris Replica of MATELASSÉ BRODÉ $65

Another New Model In The Newest Paris Fabric

THE SOFT, CREPY TEXTURE OF SELF FIGURED MATELASSÉ BRODÉ, AN EXCLUSIVE MATERIAL, ADMIRABLY EXPRESSES THE SLENDERIZED EFFECT IN THIS PARIS REPLICIA MODE, DISTINGUISHED FOR ITS LONG WAISTLINE AND SMARTLY DRAPED SKIRT.

Black, Navy & Cocoa
SIXTY FIVE DOLLARS

MacWest & Co
THE COUNTRY STORE

EVERY DAY PRICES

Good Beef Steak, lb.18c
Pot Roasts, lb.12c, 14c, 16c 18c
Boiling Meat, lb.8c, 10c
Becon, lb.25c
Sugar Cured Hams, lb.28c
Our large stock always on hand enables us to supply our customers' demands in an exceptional manner. Trade Here and Be Satisfied.

The Grande Ronde Meat Co.

Confidence

The successful man has confidence in himself. He also has confidence in his banker.

This bank has enjoyed the confidence of its thousands of clients through thirty-five years of successful business and public service.

We invite your confidence and offer you our best service in our business relations.

La Grande National Bank
Sound Reliable Progressive

FOOT BALL
WHITMAN vs. U. OF OREGON
Pendleton, Oregon
Friday, October 20th, 1922
Only Collegiate Football Game to Be Played In Eastern Oregon This Season
Grandstand Admission $1.50—Round Top Park, 2:30 p. m.
Special Rates on All Trains.