THEATRES

AT SHIRREYS TODAY—LAST DAY "IN THE NAME OF THE LAW"

Lovers of thrills as dealt out in rapid-fire melodramatic picturing of home life stories, will find plenty to satisfy them in "In the Name of the Law," the latest Robertson-Cole production which had its premiere at the George M. Cohan theatre, New York City, last week.

The production is well cast, finely photographed and the story is one that holds the interest throughout.

While the simple story of the life of a plain American family with the home life love dominant, the even tempo is disrupted by an action prompted by another love, during which every phase of human emotion is used to mystify and attract, peace and love returns to the domestic circle.

The story is that of the loves, adventures and misadventures in the domestic message of a police officer. With two sons and an adopted daughter the father and mother are striving to own a home of their own. The father, one son and the girl are breadwinners, while at the mother's solicitation, the elder boy is sent to college to study law.

From this time on the picture unfolds rapidly with many tense situations. The bank is robbed, a policeman killed, the boy is shot and then arrested by his own father. Then comes the big court room scene during which the boy, on trial for the murder of the officer, is defended by his own brother.

Also showing Franklyn Farnum in "The Uphill Climb."

NO DULL MOMENTS IN "REPORTED MISSING"
"Reported Missing," playing at the Arcade theatre today and Saturday, is a moving picture that really moves. If ever the phrase "not a dull moment," was rightly applied it has been to this picture in which Owen Moore is the leader of a company of performers who have completely mastered the art of entertainment.

The story concerns the efforts of an Oriental shipping king to gain control of a fleet of ships upon which Owen Moore, as Richard Boyd, has an option. In order that young Boyd's option will lapse, the ally Chinaman arranges to have him shafted—and then the fun begins. It is just one thrill and laugh after another and the comedy sequences produced a state bordering on the hysteria at yesterday's showing, particularly when Tom Wilson as the hero's faithful colored servant, began wailing a wicked looking razor in the general direction of the yellow cohorts of Oman the villain.

Nita Naldi, the statuesque Lolita beauty, attracted with her marvelous gowns and Pauline Garon, the flapper de luxe, had everybody's eyes popping.

The biggest thrill in the picture is a race between a sea sled and hydroaeroplane which is followed by a chase in high powered machines.

The fight in the home of Oman is the greatest ever and one no lover of conflict should miss. It had yesterday's crowd hanging on to the seats. If you want to be thrilled, amused and have a chance to hiss a villain see "Reported Missing."

"SONG OF LIFE," ALL-STAR SPECIAL IS COMING HERE
"The Song of Life," an all-star production, heralded as one of the most dramatic and interesting photoplays of the year, is coming to the Arcade theatre on Monday for an engagement of two days only. It was produced by Director John M. Stahl for Louis B. Mayer and is a First National release.

Georgia Woodthorpe, at one time leading lady for Edwin Booth, portrays the central character, that of an elderly woman, who years before had left her home and husband because of her dislike of the menial tasks around a house and because of her love for pretty things. She realizes her folly when the happy married life of another young couple is disturbed for the same reasons.

Gaston Glass, distinguished as the star of "Humoresque," is seen as the juvenile lead, while Grace Darmont, a famous screen star and beauty, portrays the ingenue lead. Richard Headrick, four years old, universally beloved for his work in "The Child Thou Gavest Me," has an important role, and Woodward Nowell, a distinguished actor, takes the part of the hoary.
