

CAMERAGRAMS

THEY'RE GOING TO BE AN AMERICAN LEAGUE convention in New Orleans this October, and you can just bet that H. C. Haskell and Paul Myers, owners "Ladies" of South Bend, Ind., will be there. And every town they pass through knows it, too, because they're making the trip in a truck painted in a patchwork design such as once upon a time was the pride of our grandmothers.

THIS INNOCENT-LOOKING BUILDING was once one of the most notorious dance halls and saloons in the Wild West. It still stands in Medora, N. Dakota. In front of the building is shown "Dad" Kendall who often rode range with Theodore Roosevelt, and who still lives in Medora. Says "Dad": "The relation of the dance hall to the barroom had its advantages, especially when the shooting began."

IF YOU ARE AMONGST THOSE who despair of ever owning a car, consider the case of Charles Sharkey of Cincinnati, O. Here he is shown standing beside the de luxe machine which he built entirely out of a motorcycle and of material found around his home. So if you own a motorcycle and want an auto, just go to it.

WHEN YOU WERE A BOY SIX YEARS OLD COULD YOU—Run three miles? Perform on trapeze and rings with the skill and grace of a finished acrobat? Swing Indian clubs like a past master? Punch the bag like Dempsey? Play baseball and tennis better than kids twice your age? Carry your load around on your shoulders? Maybe lick any kid in the county? Well—could you? Probably not. But you have produced George Wain, Jr. "Sunny" is a veritable little titan in physique. He is six feet tall, weighs 125 pounds, and can lift 275 lbs. And can wrestle ever since they could toddle. Every day "Sunny" goes through his drill for two hours—running, then boxing, wrestling, does breathing exercises and lifting. The picture on the left shows "Sunny" carrying his 125-pound dally around on his shoulders. In the center, "Sunny" is boxing with a girl, age 8. And on the right is "Sunny" and his physique.

KINDNESS TO A PATRON of a Kansas City restaurant, in which she worked as waitress, has been repaid by Mrs. Jennette Glynn of Denver, Col., by a $20,000 bequest. A year ago Mrs. Glynn visited on W. P. Quisenberry of Los Angeles and was kind to him. She had just received word that he is dead, and left $10,000 in cash and $10,000 in real estate to her.

Miners Write Own Epitaph

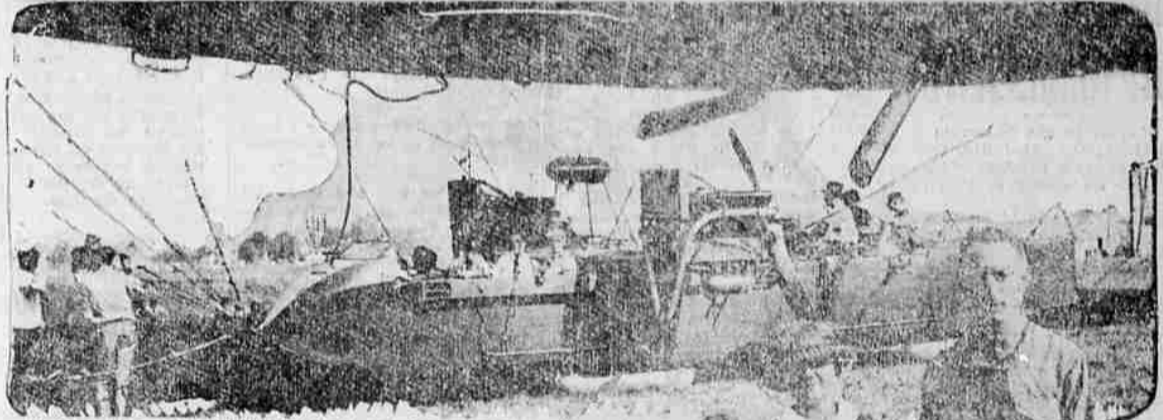

A few chalk marks on a wall of stone tell the tragedy of the 47 miners whose bodies were found entombed in the Arconaut mine at Jackson, Cal. While their fellows were working feverishly to dig through the rocks their men tried to keep a report of their suffering. These marks will stand as their monument.

Navy Belle Takes to Stage

Miss Belle Bennett, daughter of Commander Nelson H. Goss, United States Navy, has forsaken social life to appear as a dancer on the stage. She was a part in a New York production.

HERE'S THE GREAT DIRIGIBLE C-2, and her commanding officer. Notice the multitudinous and delicate machinery shown in this close-up view of the C-2's car. This is what controls the flight direction and height. In the picture to the right, the C-2's commander, Major H. A. Strauss, is the taller of the two men. The other is Bobby Strauss, who isn't a balloonist yet, but says he's going to be some day, "just like Daddy." With them is Mrs. Strauss, proud of them both.

OH FOR THE LIFE OF A COUNTY TREASURER! Besides counting money, once in awhile you could have a nice little chat with some charming young lady like Lila Lee. The seven star is at least that's the experience of P. J. Carr, county treasurer at Cheyenne, and here's the picture to prove it.

LOOK OUT BRIDGE! MAH JONGG IS AFTER YOUR TITHE. The greatest indoor sport, Mah Jongg, is a Chinese game, popular in the days of Confucius, and declared to be the oldest game in existence. It is a cross between dominoes and rummy. Recently it staged a big revival in China, crossed the Pacific via returning tourists, made its appearance on the Pacific coast, and now threatens to head east. Who said, "The Never-Come-Back!"

WHILE FLYING ON THE WASHINGTON FRONT during the World War, Mrs. Lila Lee, who is now a young lady like Lila Lee, was a pilot. She is now a young lady like Lila Lee, and is now a young lady like Lila Lee.
