ARKNESS MAY BE DISPELLED

(By Associated Press.)

OXFORD, Oct. 27. (By Mail)—A prospect of London being lit by the noise of its own traffic is quoted as the result of a new invention of piezo-electricity, a gas by which sound is converted into power.

Piezo-electricity is the property possessed by certain crystals when they generate electricity when subjected to vibration. Two German undergraduates have harnessed this force to the needs of commerce, and the invention is being shown at the Wireless Exhibition.

They Gussed It

A few weeks after I was married I went to a department store and purchased a rug which I wanted delivered. I gave the clerk my money and she asked me my name. I completely slipped my mind, and I stood in front of her and numerous impatient customers for two endless minutes, when the clerk remarked: "It must be a new one."—Chicago Tribune.
