THEATRES

AT SHERRYS—LAST DAY OF "REMEMBRANCE"

We have had heart appeal ap-mother pictures, such as Goldwyn production of "The Old Nest," and now comes an equally sympathetic story of the father of a family la-"Remembrance." Goldwyn's newest super-feature. It is a remarkable picture, unlike anything heretofore attempted on the screen, and is bound to interest all classes and ages of theatre-goers.

The reception accorded "Remembrance" at its first showing in the Sherry theatre proves beyond a doubt that Robert Hughes, the author and director of the picture has struck upon a popular theme.

"Poor Old Dad" is the hero of this story and all the sympathy goes to him as he toils to meet the demands of his extravagant family.
 The mother is a social climber, but she is the sons and daughters, but
 she is the sons and daughters, but

But Dad, just when his illness reaches a crisis, decides that he can't afford to die, so he starts to get well. And by this time the family has learned its lesson. Dad isn't going to over-looked any more.
 He is going to have time to enjoy life a little and the family is considering stop deluging him with bills.
