A case recently was reported of a professor drawing approximately 12,000 marks a month. An American paid 2,000 marks more than this every day for a hotel room with bath, facing on Unter den Linden. Four moderate diners easily spend this on drinks and food at one sitting in a first-class Berlin cafe.

Former Resident Here—

J. L. Carter of Portland is visiting in the city at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Raymond McKennon for a few days. Mr. Carter will be well remembered in La Grande as he taught school in the valley in the "pioneer" days and was also proprietor of a drug store at Island City. While here Mr. Carter is renewing old acquaintances and states that La Grande never looked better to him than she does now.

Stopped in City—

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Box, who have made their home in Enterprise for the past year where Mr. Box was proprietor of a confectionery store, arrived in La Grande today and are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Fitzgerald. Mr. Box will leave for Milton where he has accepted a position with the Standard Oil company and Mrs. Box will remain here for some time.

GERMAN WAGES ARE PITIFUL

When Compared With American Wages, Those Paid to German Workers Are Inadequate.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Manual labor is valued above the products of the brain in the industrial top-heaviness of Germany today. If prevailing wage standards can be taken as a criterion.

Ordinary laborers receive an average of about 100 marks an hour. (The present rate of exchange gives 47 marks for one American cent.) Wages for an eight-hour day range from 400 to 1,200 marks.

making a monthly pay check of approximately 9,600 to 21,200. An agreement has been effected whereby shoemakers and cabinet makers receive from 67.15 to 116.15 marks an hour. The truck makers have been striking for an hourly wage of 100 marks.

In September the salaries of German newspaper editors were fixed by agreement to range from 10,000 marks to 21,500. (Translated into American money, 10,000 marks amounts to $319.) A scale was adopted providing that newspapermen receive $15,000 marks a month if they are in their first year at the business, 16,500 if in the second year, and so on up to 21,500 for a man of eight years' experience. "String" news pays at the rate of 4.50 to 2.75 marks a line, according to its nature. Reporters get 20 marks for small notices, 125 for reports of meetings, and 125 for investigations. Articles by writers are paid for at the rate of 10 marks each. A man who works on Sunday gets 500 marks for the day.

Even such wages are acceptable among the journalists of the capital, for high costs are rapidly thinning the ranks of newspaper men and many employees are being thrown out of work. The situation has reached such a pass that a movement is under way among conservative publishers to establish a fund to aid unemployed newspaper men, the leaders being actuated by political as well as humanitarian motives, since they fear much discontent among the writers will drift to the radical press.

The managers of three large theaters in Berlin have announced their houses may have to close because of the wage demands of the stage folk. Actors and actresses recently received a minimum wage of 7,500 marks a month. Now that this has been raised to 22,500 marks, the stage hands are demanding a minimum of 24,000 marks monthly.

The doctors in the medical profession have been repeatedly employed, and many doctors throughout Germany have commenced business with private services for patients. Cases have been reported in Berlin in which physicians found the income from their practices so low that they have taken on criminal work as mechanics in moving picture theaters.

When the board which examines candidates for college teachers met recently was called to assemble at Lichterfeld, a Berlin suburb, the members protested that the salaries proposed to them were too low. They asked for 36 marks a hour, but continue to receive only 25. Even this is more than three times the 120 marks an hour which a student-teacher draws in Berlin today. Regular teachers are said to receive a much higher salary, the public schools providing shape the outstanding instance of salaries for intellectual workers which compares unfavorably with those of manual laborers. An elementary teacher's yearly wages, with pension allowances, amounts to 31,361 marks, while one who is married and gets additionally 1,200 marks for his wife and 2,210 for each
