BAND CONCERT

La Grande Band Received Fine Ovation Last Evening at Rex Hall When They Appeared in Concert

La Grande's Municipal Band in their concert and dance held last evening, were welcomed by a large ovation coming from a capacity crowd. By the time of the opening of the concert, the Rex hall was crowded. Citizens went away at the end of the concert pleased with their band and proud that such a remarkable musical organization existed in their midst. "Don't ever let anyone tell you that we haven't a band," one man remarked. "We have and the northwest knows it."

The concert which began at 8:30 o'clock, consisted of three main numbers. "Washington Grays," a stirring march by Grafalia opened the program and was followed by a selection from Herbert, "The Fortune Teller." The closing number was a delightful overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," by Von Suppe. At the close of the concert the band took their places in the center of the hall and played for one-half hour for the dance. Then an eight piece orchestra, composed of members of the Olson and Loney orchestras, took their places and the dance continued until midnight. A considerable sum was taken in that will be used to pay off outstanding debts incurred by the purchasing of instruments and other necessary articles for the band.

MRS. RACHEL HILTS DIES IN PORTLAND

A telegram was received last yesterday by Pauline Lederle from Mrs. Eva Andross, stating that Mrs. Rachel Hilts passed away in Portland yesterday morning. The deceased had many friends in La Grande who mourn for her demise which came as a sudden shock to them.

Mrs. Hilts remains will arrive in La Grande Saturday evening and the Bohlenkamp undertaking par. the Bohlenkamp chapel will take charge of the body.

Mrs. Hilts was a member of the Eastern Star lodge in La Grande. Funeral arrangements will be made following the arrival of the body.

FINES MAY GO TO STATE

(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, Nov. 22.—The highway commission indicated today that it would ask the legislature for a law providing that fines imposed for violation of the state traffic law be placed in the highway fund instead of county treasuries.

CONTEST IN SENATE YET DEADLOCKED

respective forces of each. Some of the Eddy votes will go to Moser, but not all, and few of the Moser votes will go to Eddy. In short, neither can deliver his entire strength to the other or the contest for president would be quickly decided.

Klan Complicates Move.
The intrusion of the Klan and the federation of patriotic societies has complicated the organization. At most, counting all noses, there are but nine affiliated with one or the other of these societies. Particularly enough, the federation and the Klan are not backing the same candidate. It is said that the refusal of Senator Klepper to pledge himself to Upton is what prevented Upton's victory Monday night. Leaders of the federation expected him to go with Hall, Clark, Fisk and McGarry, and the Upton headquarters in Senator Dennis' room in Hall's Oregon was informed that Upton was "in." This was supposed to be the Eddy vote, and on this representation Upton was supposed to have won. Upton was supposed to have won. Upton was supposed to have won.

at taking orders from the federation. Considering that he had unintentionally misrepresented the situation to Brown, Rinner became angry and as fast as he could got a telephone message to Brown explaining the situation, not wishing Brown to feel that Rinner had tricked him into a pledge. Some Feeling Aroused.
Senator Strayer, learning the facts, also telephoned to LaFollette, but in the meanwhile LaFollette had telephoned to the Eddy camp and ascertained the prevailing conditions himself. This controversy aroused some feeling toward Hall for having placed Rinner and Strayer in an embarrassing position with Brown and LaFollette. The eastern Oregon bloc of seven, of which Upton is a member and which is supporting him, is not irreversibly committed to the senator from Crook. This bloc is doing all that it can to elect Upton, but if it is agreed that Upton is stopped at 14 votes and cannot make the grade the seven from east of the Cascade range are likely to hold another caucus and decide whether or not they should go to someone else in body or dissolve their pact to stick together and each man be permitted to make his own contribution. Almost Anything Can Happen.
Apparently almost anything can happen. Potential dark horses are watching the developments with interest and it is within the cards for lightning to strike Corbett or Farrell of Multnomah or Edwards, or Dennis or Rinner. The presidency of the senate is very much in the air, admittedly. Senators Taylor and Robertson left for eastern Oregon Monday night believing that Upton was over the top. Last night Nickelson was taken off a train just as he was leaving for his Hood River home, and a short time later Senator Campbell arrived from Lebanon, going into conference with Eddy, Nickelson, Joseph and Staples. The latter three are considered by Moser as among his supporters, although they are originally pledged to Eddy. Unless the deadlock breaks within a few hours by someone of the two main contenders capturing at least 16 votes, there will be real fireworks today.

EXPLOSION AT IRON MINE KILLS EIGHTY-FOUR MEN

(By Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 22.—More than one hundred men were reported entombed late yesterday afternoon by an explosion in number three mine of the Woodward Iron company at La Grange, Ala. The mine is about 1,000 feet deep.

COMPLICATED RACE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

states, "I beg to advise that the association has never established a definite rule in regard to the percentage system. There are numerous objections to the percentage system, chief of which is that the various schools have schedules which vary greatly in difficulty."

From his communication, if La Grande and Athena should be left in the lead, it appears that the only means would be to play off the lead in a post season game, preferably to be played on December 9.

Elgin Considered.
From Elgin and from a reputable source, comes a letter dealing with the matter. Cecil Ghent, last year's coach of the Elgin team that defeated La Grande 20 to 0, states: "Elgin's team this year should be considered in the championship race Elgin, handicapped by a small schedule, has only lost one game, that to La Grande. On the other hand we defeated Wallawa by a decisive score and overwhelmed Enterprise 57 to 0. Enterprise states that Pendleton would be helpless against Elgin now. Other teams who are rated strong will not schedule games with Elgin and give us a chance to prove our strength. There is no question in my mind but what La Grande is stronger than Pendleton, but at the same time, Elgin today can defeat Pendleton."

There is justice in Ghent's claim. And should Wallawa win from La Grande, Elgin should be the team to play Athena for the championship.

MR. JACOBSEN PASSES AWAY

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 22.—Funeral services for Ernest Jacobsen, who was found dead at the wheel of his automobile yesterday at Vista House, on the Columbia river highway, will be held in the Dalles under the auspices of the local Elks' lodge. It was announced today, states a Portland newspaper, Jacobsen, who was employed as a salesman for the J. K. Gill company at the time of his death, was well known in the Dalles, by reason of having been one of the city's pioneer business men.

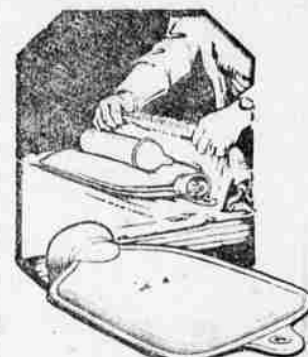

About 25 years ago he operated a music and book store here. He is survived by his widow, living at the ranch home near Mosier, a son and a daughter. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death.
