No more exquisite event has ever been held at the La Grande Country club than the dinner dance given by Miss Alice L. Priest Thursday evening for thirty-two of her friends.

The beautiful floral designs made by the Cherry's Florists were especially appropriate for the occasion. The marigold and lily chrysanthemums appeared in profusion and were so arranged as to impress the skill of the florists at first glance. Lighted candles studded the three floral pieces which combined here the date of the party, "11-25-22."

It was an instance of Iowa and Oregon meeting and the meeting was most delightful convincing every guest that people from the grand old state of Iowa when transplanted in beautiful baby Oregon find lots of pleasure in the great, big western country.

The dinner dance was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hooker of Blairland, Iowa, and Mrs. and Mrs. H. N. Ashby, lately of Kansas City, but now residents of LaGrande. Mrs. Hooker is a director in the George Palmer Lumber company and has made many trips to LaGrande in the past few years, while Mr. Ashby is a member of Bowman-Hicks Lumber company and has charge of that company's business in LaGrande.

Following the serving of the elegant dinner, dancing occupied the evening, which coupled with social conversation made the event one of extreme pleasure for the entire thirty-two guests in attendance.

A twenty-year-old eagle would be some tough, old bird, said Sydney Happersett last evening, "but," he continued, "there is just as much change going on in the Eagles' lodge as in other organizations, hence tonight, when we celebrate this twentieth anniversary of the Eagles' lodge, we are happy to state that all of us are included with the few old Eagles who scorned the charter and have held the fort during sunshine and storm for all of these years."

With such an introduction the twentieth anniversary of LaGrande's Eagles' lodge was celebrated last evening in their hall on Washington street. A chicken dinner kicked off the evening off to a good start. A program consisting of several recitations, a boxing bout by Ford brothers, a sketch by Mr. Wise and Dana Partner, and a talk by Judge Thomas Crawford on "How to Elect a Governor," were enjoyed by everyone. The evening closed with a dance for everyone which was thoroughly enjoyed.

On Wednesday, November 22, the Parkdale club was entertained at the home of Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson, with Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Anson, and Mrs. Wilkerson acting as hostesses. The home was tastefully decorated in autumn leaves which gave a very attractive appearance to the rooms.

The visitors for the afternoon were Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Elberhard, Mrs. Rickman, Mrs. Lloyd Pierce, Mrs. Cass, Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Pye.

After the business session a program was rendered. A double quartet, composed of the Junior high school girls of the Greenwood high school sang several songs; Alice Struch gave an instrumental number on the piano; Saxophone number by Leslie Row of Greenwood school; Violin solo, Bertha Young accompanied by Mrs. Wilkerson, and current events by Mrs. C. M. Riddle, all of which received much applause.

At an appropriate hour an elaborate luncheon was served by the hostesses, and the meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Ed. Beaudette.

The Young Ladies Educational Auxiliary of the Methodist church will meet at eight o'clock on Monday evening, November 27th, at the Methodist parsonage, 908 Spring street for a Thanksgiving program. The committee in charge of the program consists of Ruth Queley, chairman; Alma Nelson, Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. Bairs.

The beautiful home of Mrs. A. B. Davis of Union was the scene of a delightful gathering yesterday when the Presbyterian ladies entertained a party of La Grande ladies who motored over early in the afternoon.

Those comprising the party were Mrs. James Ross, Silverthorn, L. Robinson, J. K. Wright, Eakin, A. Anderson, L. Dunn, Mrs. R. Newlin, Hanna, Thompson, Humphrey, Snook, Durney, Moran, Pickens, Hesse and Mohr.

The play entitled "Cynthia's Choice" was most ably presented by the Union ladies and was enthusiastically received. The program was followed by a delicious luncheon.

On Saturday, November 18th, the Ladies' Society of the R. of L. P. 202 X. gave their third annual Thanksgiving dinner at the K. of P. Hall and about 150 guests were present.

An attractive grab box was prepared by the ladies, at the price of $1.99 a grab, and the gifts that were drawn out consisted mainly of hand-made articles.

The evening was spent at cards and dancing. Mrs. F. R. Barnes furnishing the music. Quite a few out of town guests were present, and a most enjoyable time was had by everyone.

The lodge will give their annual ball December 8th, at the Rex hall.

Mrs. Giles Harnden entertained the Pythian Sisters club at her home on V avenue Wednesday of this week at a party of $500. The first prize consisted of a fruit cake which was won by Mrs. Frank Cleaveland and a station falling to Mae Cure, 18th avenue.

Decorations of poinsettias, chrysanthemums and roses were artistically placed about the rooms. Among the ladies present were Mrs. Lee Stark, Mrs. W. C. Holman, Mrs. Caryle, Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Chris Mays, Mrs. Frank Cleaveland, Mrs. Willard Moss, Mrs. Elmer Rose, Mrs. J. D. Smith and niece, Kate Riley, Mrs. J. R. Oliver, Mildred Crowley, Mrs. W. D. A delicious dinner was served at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hug on Wednesday evening, November 22, the occasion being Mr. Hug's birthday.

The invited guests present to enjoy the dinner and the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Palmer, Mrs. Lee Pine, and children, and Miss, Lytta Hug.

The Young People's Bible class of the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, with a few of their friends, making a company of about forty, enjoyed a delightful party Wednesday evening. A progressive dinner was served, the first course in the Methodist parsonage, the second course in the church parlors, and the third course at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bairs. The evening was spent in playing progressive rick.

Great credit is due the social committee, consisting of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bronson, and Mrs. Proctor for the success of the affair.

Mrs. J. J. Carr and Mrs. J. T. Scroggins will entertain the Wednesday Bridge club at the Country club Wednesday, November 29.

The Enterprise Philharmonic orchestra is rounding out their program for December 1st. While there are yet some rough spots, Prof. J. D. Haines is beginning to polish these off by constant practice. The overture selection for the coming concert will be the "Humorist Lullspiel" which introduces many different and charming movements. Among the specialties will be the "Culver Polka," a triple tongue solo for the cornet which will be rendered by Ray Craig.

The program will introduce several numbers with a Spanish movement introducing tambourine and other Spanish accessories to music also a very peculiar movement in the Russian march.

It is the intention of the orchestra to introduce different nationalities' interpretation of music at the several concerts during the winter, as well as standard arrangements of the most famous American composers.

Other solo numbers and innovations will be announced before the December concert which bids fair to be one of the bright spots on the musical horizon for the year—Enterprise, chiefman.

The M. J. A. will have a conjoint program Sunday evening at 7:09 p. m. in the L. D. S. church. The
