

BERNARD SHAW'S "TRIO TO MEDUSAE" is a unique thing which you cannot see elsewhere. It is a play which is being staged in the Chinese theatre, just arrived from Shanghai. There are three players in the play, which runs five hours each night for SIX MONTHS before it is completed. Just think of the duration!

China's most celebrated actors are included in the cast, which works with great stage effects, costumes and makeup. The play is the first of the kind, being shown in the Chinese theatre, which is the largest of its kind in the world. NO MORE PLAYING TUNES with the "shine-on" cloth. Old man Science has turned his attention to the footlock's activities, and the result is this invention, which polishes your shoes in less than two minutes. Electricity drives the brushes.

WHEN ED HUGHES' 427 POUNDER is parked in his fiver, this somewhat portly Cincinnati man is said to be the heaviest man in the world. He's been driving the same car five years. It is braced with steel rods to sustain his weight, and the steering wheel is raised way, way high, in order to let his tummy get under it.

What Caused the Argument

Here's the start of the race between the Canadian Illnesses and the Henry Ford, American entry, of Gloucester, Mass. The Henry Ford (right) won. Captain of both fishing schooners considered it a race, but officials declared it "no race" since the skipper disregarded their signal to return after the start.

What Was Left of Haileybury After Forest Fire

This is all that remains of Haileybury, county seat of Temiskaming County, Ont., following the disastrous forest fire which killed between 40 and 60 and drove 6000 from their homes. This picture shows what was Haileybury's principal residential district.

Camera Seizes Emotions of Tragedy

Modern photography reproduces the intense emotion in the tragedy of "Blood" which thrilled city and tower into the Athenian audience of 2500 years ago. The great team Spens has decided to kill her children. There is determination in her eyes as she looks at the camera. The woman of the tragedy is shown in the foreground, with the background showing the ruins of the city.

NO MORE ALIBIS about not seeing a traffic cop are going to get by in Boston courts—for if you can't see a policeman in the street, you are liable to fine for driving while blind. The white cross belt and gloves recently adopted make the officers easily distinguishable.

MOST BOYS BEGIN SHAVING AT 15—but Joe Keady has been using a razor since he was 12 years old—on other folks, that is. He's 13 now, works in his father's shop at Cincinnati when he's not in high school, and is considered the youngest barber in the world. Already, the boy has had up a following who want him to shave them.

WHEN THE CHURCH GAVE UP ITS ORPHANAGE, the superintendent, J. W. Draper, and his wife couldn't bear to give up the kiddies, so they adopted them all, moved out to the Marine, Wash., and started their own orphanage. "Daddy" on the left, and "Mama" on the right, are the parents of the "Daddy Draper's Kids" who the Pacific Northwest every summer as a vacation, giving concerts to raise money for their own institution.

EXHIBITION A lot for those little girls who are wearing and displaying their beauty in the land of China. The picture was taken during the 1922 Chinese Exposition. The subject, they were Chinese women, and they were wearing Chinese costumes—just as they will be around the world.
