Camel's Hair
Leather epaulettes make an appropriate trimming for the tailored one-piece frock of camel hair cloth. This is the far best for the smart or choice color. Of course, it is understood that camel's hair cloth has the slightest connection with camels. It is all wool, considerably finer than a good quality, and does not vary much.

POETRY MAKES CONVICT HUFFY

(By Associated Press.)
BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 16. (By Mail)—An inmate of the national penitentiary recently contrived to convey to the newspaper La Nacion a message in which he complained bitterly of the cruelty to which the prisoners were subjected by the governor of the establishment.

A representative of La Nacion, who went to the penitentiary to investigate the charge, was sympathetically received by the kindly and gentle governor who explained that contrary to the reports in question, his treatment of the prisoners was marked by extreme consideration. It was only toward the end of the interview, when the governor confessed that on occasions he read poetry of his own composition to the prisoners, that the mystified reporter was able to guess at the origin of the denunciation received by his newspaper.

Something to Worry About.
"I am never able to figure out," an Atchison barber tells the Globe, "what a switch razor or a plover tamer is trying to do."—Atchison Globe.

nesday, December 13. Owing to the weather being very disagreeable the attendance was not as large as usual. The circle will give a program Wednesday, December 20, to which the public is invited. The place of the entertainment will be published later.

Miss Alous Lilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Lilly, was hostess for a party given at her parent's home on Fourth street last Thursday evening when she entertained a number of boys and girls of the younger set. Games, music and dancing were the attractions of the evening. A two course luncheon was served at an appropriate hour and everyone present reported a delightful time.

The Women's Foreign Missionary had a very interesting and profitable meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Smith. Mrs. Ira Aldrich told of "Handicaps to Progress in India" after which she and her little daughter Ruth gave a demonstration entitled "At the Well." Mrs. Smith served delicious refreshments.

The choir of the Methodist church was pleasantly entertained Thursday evening after the regular practice at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nelson.

The evening was spent in conversation and song after which dainty refreshments were served.

The next of the series of the Country club dances will be held December 29.

Gottfried and Ina Wright-Herzog were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Richardson Wednesday.

An excellent program was given last evening in the assembly room of the Greenwood school by the junior high and the students displayed some real talent.

The following program was rendered: "Long, Long Trail" and "America" by junior high orchestra; play by Miss Foster, teacher of the fourth grade; violin solo, Miss Bertha Young; "Reading School House Parson," Mrs. Chariton; "Papa's Christmas," by junior high (solo); hango solo, Cleo Platt; reading, "Swinging in the Grape Vine Swing" Ana McIntosh; "Coming Thru the Rye," dramatization by Gertrude Clark; solo "I Hear You Calling Me," Mrs. McPherson; double quartet "Autumn Lullaby" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," junior high solo, Evelyn Baker; character sketch, Idell Quinlan; Lucivar, dramatization, junior high; solo "The Sand Man" Bethel Tall; Spanish dance, Marian Harris; Good Night address, May Curry.

The Jazz Village show staged by the Knights of Pythias of Enterprise and Wallowa at Enterprise Friday and Saturday evenings was a success in every particular.

Community hall was elegantly decorated for the national colors, the decorations being the property of Richardson the man who decorated Enterprise for the stockman's convention last May. Mr. Richardson himself is one of the originators of the Jazz Village idea and had personal charge of the show at Enterprise.

Various characters representing the celebrities of the newspaper comic were in evidence. Dirty Moore, the Hall Room Boys, Andy Gump and others who claim the attention of millions of readers every day, were characterized by members of the order. Some had booths to look after where novelties of one kind or another were sold while Dirty's place was unusually popular as that was where the food and drinks were on sale. Corned beef and cabbage were not in evidence, but there was an abundance of pies, sandwiches and coffee. Several men were kept busy both nights serving the crowds.

The receipts from the Jazz Village were quite satisfactory to those presenting the show. The Knights of Pythias of Enterprise and Wallowa are pledged to raise a certain sum for the Oregon-Washington Pythian home which is being built at Vancouver, Washington, and the lodges are to raise the fund by activities outside of the regular lodge work. Owing to the stormy weather of Friday and Saturday which made it practically impossible for the people of Wallowa to reach Enterprise, the show was repeated at Wallowa Monday and Tuesday nights.—Joseph Herald.

Col. W. G. Ayte took his departure last evening for New York City where he will join Mrs. Ayte and her mother, Mrs. Bullis, who preceded him several weeks ago and with them will start on a winter tour of South America, sailing from New York on the steamship, Vandyke. They will attend the world's fair at Rio de Janeiro. A return to Baker will be in the spring.—Baker Democrat.

Miss J. A. Huskins returned to her home in this city Sunday from San Francisco where she accompanied Mr. Huskins who recently underwent a serious major operation in that city. Mrs. Huskins states that her husband is steadily improving and expects to return to Baker between Christmas and New Year.—Baker Democrat.

On Wednesday, December 6th, Miss Ethel Snuffer became the bride of John Bethel. The bride is well known here and at Promisio, her home. The groom is of Portland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ross of the Presbyterian church at the Henry Pfeiffer home in La Grande. The decorations were of red roses, while the bride was attired in blue. A bounteous wedding dinner was served.—Wallowa Sun.
