Yee Defeated La Grande—

Fog was too much for X. Neal, of La Grande, when he attempted to drive his automobile to Salem on Wednesday night. Until he reached Milwaukie Mr. Neal trailed a car, but at that point the fog was so thick that the pacemaker quit, and not wishing to try the trip alone the car from La Grande abandoned his car on the road and returned to the hotel Portland by street car. He reported seeing several cars wrecked in the fog. John O'Brien, Portland clerk, was in a somewhat similar predicament going home and was the unconscious pilot of a second machine. Mr. O'Brien was ready to call a halt when the machine behind him aided by aiming the spotlight on the pavement beneath him. By this arrangement the pilot man was able to see his way and the car in the second car retained his pilot. — Oregonian.

Taking Desperate Chances. It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, may be had for a trifle?—Adv.
