SOME ILLNESS AT THE PARK

THE PARK, Dec. 29.—As usual, a Christmas program was held for the school children. Every year has been marked by a regular up-to-date entertainment, and this year did not lack any of its joyful cheer. If it does not surpass the previous anniversaries of the most of the memorable days. All of the Park people are noted to do their best for the children as well as the older element because in fact they class all as children of the same maker who was born of the flesh on that day.

Clarence Vanorder was at Bert Van's helping build up his cow barn. George McDowe, who has leased the old Boyle place, was called to his family who reside on the "Cove" road close to Union, has returned. It is reported that sickness at his home is somewhat alleviated.

Mrs. Will Vanorder with her daughter Birdie, passed thru a severe cold, but are much better at the present time. It is reported. Symptomatically is extended to the two women having quite an amount of work of caring and boarding George McDowe and J. H. Barton, the school teacher. Mrs. Mary Titus, mother of Mrs. Eva Vanorder, who has been quite ill for the last few years, is reported in much better condition this winter. Her home is at Union. Her daughter Myrtle lives with her.

Mrs. Lola Wiggleworth, with her new baby, that she stork brought to her while on a visit to her mother Mrs. Maud Vanorder, will return home to her husband Frank Wiggleworth, who wants the new boy there to spend his first Christmas at home. Lola is feeling fine so is the boy—no mentioning her little daughter Lula May, who is an exceptional fine baby of twenty-one months.

Kenneth Vanorder was visiting with friends over on Big Creek and Lower Powder.

Mrs. Clarence Vanorder, her daughter Lola, and the babies were given a fine sleigh ride by Bert Van, who came and drove them to his home, enjoying the good sleighing made by the recent snow, which although cold is somewhat appreciated when used accordingly. Mrs. Liddle Van served refreshments and had a fine visit in general.

Some of the Park youngsters attended the basket ball given by the Big Creek Grange. They report an overwhelming success.

Joseph Lay and family are passing through a severe cold, almost bordering on the "flu." It is hoped that they will recuperate soon.

Mrs. Art McMurdock, of Lower Powder, will visit her mother, Mrs. S. Godday during Christmas and holidays. Mrs. Godday resides on Lower Catherine creek.

Mrs. L. F. Ingram of Union thru a telephone message to Mrs. Ida M. Hunter of the Forks, reports that their grandson, Cedric Gale, is down with pneumonia. All hope for a speedy recovery.

Ida O. Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hunter, who is attending school at Union, will spend the holidays with her parents up at Catherine Forks homestead.

Robert A. Hunter of North Powder is recuperating from a severe cold and influenza at his parent's home at the Forks.

Winn Duncan will take care of Bob Hunter's team until he returns to North Powder, at his ranch at Medical Springs.

Mrs. Irene Groupe, who recently went through the sad experience of losing her husband by such a tragic death, being lost in the mountains and frozen to death, is reported as improving slowly. She was for some time in a critical condition. She is with Mrs. Lena Groupe, the mother of the deceased.

Jack Hunter, while going for the mail at Summit, saw ten fine mule deer going across the road.

The cougar or panther that was really the sad cause of Adolph Groupe's death, is heard screaming around the Hunter homestead. Preparations are made by Robert Hunter and his father to try and hunt him down. The tracks indicate that it is a large specimen.

All indications show that this will be an open, but cold winter. Magpies and Bluejays are flying way high in the air.

Most all have done their butchering.

ing, the supply of meat is ample and the Park is ready to "let 'er ride" cold or not.

Marvin Wood drove up from Union to the Hall ranch to get a load of hay for his father, Claude Wood, who resides on the old Martin place.

Ida O. Hunter, who is stopping with Mrs. Claude Wood, while attending school, came with Marvin Wood, who took her up to the Hunter mail box at the Paddock ranch. She walked the rest of the way to her home which is five miles up the creek. This was fun for Ida, as she had been before in the occupation of herding a fine bunch of sheep, previous to going to school in Union. Ida is a regular mountain girl. With her little brother Jack they are known by nearly all the sportsmen of La Grande and Baker. They have a multitude of friends. "Little Jack" has guided many a hunter for a radius of 20 miles on the Catherine creek and Mimaon river. He is only 13 years old and controls many other hunters in manipulating a gun.

Bob Hunter, who is somewhat recuperated from the "flu," is with his little brother Jack, hunting the cougar, which the late Adolph Groupe started for on his fatal trip, where he so tragically lost his life.

Urania Hunter will spend Christmas with her parents before going to Union.

Lola Wiggleworth has gone home at Raymo Flat. Her father, Clarence Vanorder took her half way, while her husband Frank met them with a team, taking her home. She was accompanied by her two babies, Lula May and Marvin La Blonde.

They stood the trip very nicely, while it was pretty windy and cold.

Joseph Lay and family are recuperating nicely from the slight attack of the notorious "flu." An old timer believes that this "flu" will exist until the "ratification" of the "peace treaty" is signed. "This is a product of the war and will not go until all signs of the war are put out of commission," he was heard to say.

Irene Groupe sent a letter to her mother, Mrs. Ida M. Hunter, stating that she is perfectly well, but is heart-broken at the sad loss of her husband. The sympathy of the whole community is with the sad girl. She is now with her sister-in-law Mrs. Mary Winters her address is 1301 N. Avenue, La Grande.

J. W. Lay, the mail man, reports an immense traffic through the mail during the holidays, loading him to full capacity. He also reports that the people on his route are all very cheerful and predicted a happy and merry celebration as a whole on Christmas day.

Jack Haley is trapping extensively along Catherine creek and Little Catherine creek.

John B. Hunter has received a letter from his father in Detroit, Michigan, stating that his mother was very ill. Hopes are that news will get here soon that she is out of danger.

Mrs. Ida M. Hunter learned that her parents in Long Beach, California, had called on their daughter, Gertrude Murphy from Fresno, California, to take care of them this winter. They are very old and feeble.

New Minister

Signor Gelasio Castani, Fascist ambassador to the United States, is shown here arriving in New York. He was greeted by a large delegation of prominent Italians.

Through to Jewish Chant. Caruso is quoted as saying: "I have discovered that the Jewish chanters employ a peculiar method of intonation and vocalization in their service. They are unequalled in the art of shifting the melody, of picking up a new key, of modulating their vocal chant, and of overcoming vocal difficulties that may occur in the work rather than in the melody itself. For this reason I visit Jewish synagogues whenever I have the opportunity."

Peculiar Rent Clause. A plot of ground in London was once let to the British admiralty on condition that a ship was to be always on the stocks. Failing to do this, the land would revert to its former owner and in the deed a clause was inserted to this effect.
