Silver Tea A New Year's Event

One of the very finest social gatherings La Grande people have ever experienced was the Silver Tea on the afternoon of New Year's day in the exquisite home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Richardson at Second and D streets, given by the Neighborhood club for its new club house. The Silver Tea idea in this extremely popular club got its inception from a desire on the part of club officials to promote a greater spirit of sociability and friendship among La Grande people and it ripened into this event of outstanding social importance.

It was very similar in spirit to the old custom of making the New Year call of one friend to another, except that the Silver Tea offers an afternoon of sociability in one center. Popular as the former custom of making the New Year call once its place but is even more enjoyable.

The Richardson home is one of the most elegant and on this occasion beamed with extraordinary cheerfulness throughout its spacious interior. Many pairs commended themselves as they entered the lounge. The drawing room with delicate touches of pink and white, the dining room further carrying the pink and white gave a beautiful harmony to the center piece of Opheila roses and pink sweet peas, the sun room with its red curtains, all combined in decorations for the afternoon that were delicate and beautiful.

In the drawing room Loney's orchestra rendered a superb program adding the harmony of music to the harmony of colors, which, blended with the happiness of the guests and the cheerful conversation certainly made the New Year afternoon one of superb delight.

Pride of organization and enthusiasm of achievement were reflected in every member of the Neighborhood club for the success of this club has been so marked of late that every lady feels a personal interest. Guests were met at the door by Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Mrs. Norman Fries and Mrs. D. M. Pargas, with a cheerful New Year greeting. In the drawing room Mrs. E. E. Kiddle, Mrs. H. M. Bouvy, Miss Margaret Anson, Mrs. Alvin Duryen, Mrs. D. E. Silverthorne, Mrs. C. B. Eberhard, Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. E. T. Andrews, Mrs. J. D. Lynch and Mrs. A. J. Slange assisted in receiving. As the guests visited in that good, wholesome La Grande manner they advanced to the library where Mrs. Lee Warnick and Mrs. Bruce Dennis added further enjoyment. In the sun room Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp, Mrs. H. A. Zurbick and Mrs. W. H. Reuter aided the cheerfulness of the event with their marked hospitality and well wishes.

The dining room with its beautiful interior invited the guests with a most impressive invitation. Mrs. E. P. Mossmar poured from 3 until 4 o'clock and Mrs. George Stoddard our last during the same period. Mrs. Tusha Oliver poured from 4 to 5, Mrs. Stella Ingle cutting ices for that hour, while Mrs. Charles Hayte poured during the last period of from 5 to 6, and Mrs. F. L. Meyers cut ices. Assisting the ladies in the dining room were Mrs. Ray Murphy, Mrs. Adolph Seeger and Mrs. R. E. Westphalen. Later Mrs. Chas. Bohnenkamp and Mrs. R. P. Landis also assisted.

Leslie J. Bennett of Oregon City, sang "The Song of the Anvil" (Petrie) in his ever pleasing manner and responded to an encore with an excellent number.

Miss W. H. Bohnenkamp Jr., always a favorite among La Grande people rendered "A Treasure Rare" (MacDermid) and "I've Been Roaming."

Stuart Bennett gave two numbers and his rich tenor voice brought forth vigorous applause. Mrs. W. W. Berry was the able accompanist for all the vocal selections.

When La Grande people left the Richardson home Monday afternoon they did so with a greater admiration and deeper appreciation not only of the Neighborhood club and its members, but also of the citizenship of the city, for the attendance had been large including both men and women.
