A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at six o'clock when Miss May Robinson and N. K. West were united in marriage by Rev. A. R. Sifton of the Baptist church at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. E. Robinson, 1094 First street.

The couple were attended by Herman Selgrist, Myrtle Ward Bunker, Mrs. Winkler, and Mrs. Robinson, mother of the bride.

The bride-elect is a well known La Grande girl, having been educated here. She has been employed as bookkeeper at the N. K. West store for a number of years.

Mr. West was one of the leading merchants for several years in La Grande and now owns a well developed farm near Summerville. He was connected with farming during the entire time he was in the mercantile business here.

HIGHWAY IS CLOSED

(By Associated Press.) SALEM, Jan. 12.—The highway department announced that the plank roadway south of Oregon City will be closed for the next thirty days. Detours were ordered.

ALLEGED WIFE SLAYER DIES

(By Associated Press.) MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 12.—Edgar C. Frady, Chicago automobile man, was shot and killed here.

One of the outstanding social events of next week is to be given Monday night when the B. P. O. E. will have a dance at the Elks' hall. Plans are being completed for the occasion, and the members are looking forward to one of the most enjoyable functions the lodge has ever given.

The Country club was the scene of a delightful party given Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. August Stange and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Larison entertained the members of the Wednesday evening Bridge club. During the evening's play Mrs. Chase Bohnenkamp received the ladies' prize, and the gentlemen's honors fell to Edward Holmes of Wallowa.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the caterer, Mrs. Burbridge.

The members of the Lucky Thirteen Bridge club enjoyed a pleasant afternoon Thursday of this week when Mrs. A. L. Richardson delightfully entertained at her home on O avenue.

Three tables of cards were at play during the afternoon Mrs. W. G. Sawyer winning the club prize and Mrs. Harry Zischick the guest prize. A delightful luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon.

Installation of officers was the order of business at Hope Chapter Number 33, Order of the Eastern Star on Wednesday evening, January 10th.

Mrs. Emma Kiddle was the installing officer and proved herself very capable, as the ceremony was beautiful and impressive in every particular from her address to the minutest detail. She was ably assisted and Mrs. Hulda Humphreys, who as sister by Rev. A. R. Sifton of the Baptist church at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. E. Robinson, 1094 First street.

A Snow Bird

Get comparatively speaking perhaps, but this bird demonstrates how carrier pigeons are being used to smuggle cocaine and other drugs over the border. They are also used in interstate traffic in carrying messages.

Although this was not the story solicited we are willing to vouch for its veracity, knowing as we do Mr. McLain's faculty for making his get-away with "sweet things."

The First Division of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Leland Hanford Wednesday in an all-day meeting. The ladies tackled four corners and a delicious luncheon was served at noon.

HIGHWAY WORK GOES ON

EUGENE, Jan. 13.—The work of clearing the right of way for the 24 miles of new highway to be built jointly by the bureau of public roads, the state of Oregon and Lane county, between Blashly and Rainrock, on Lake creek and the Siuslaw river, this being a part of the Eugene-Florence state highway, will begin as soon as contracts can be let and crews assembled, said C. E. Handels, engineer of the bureau of public road, who was here. The bureau is now advertising for bids for the clearing and it is expected that the contracts will be let and men will be at work within a month.

MAY SUSTAIN DEMURRER

ROSEBURG, Ore., Jan. 13.—Unless a court of equity can execute a contract on both sides it will generally not interpose in behalf of either party, Judge Hamilton declared today in sustaining the demurrer of Ernest D. Riddle in the case brought against him by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association. This case is attracting attention from fruit growers all over the state as it will determine as to whether or not the contracts which have been signed by growers with the association are binding.

North Powder is elated over the news that $500,000 is to be allowed for further work on the Baker reclamation project, which means much for Baker and Union counties, and especially North Powder.

A Fine Home

We have a fine large home, close in, 1001 basement, steam heat in every room, on paved street. Large comfortable front porch, big fire place, all the rooms are large and in open air condition. We sold two rooming houses this week and the thought occurred to us, what a grand high class place this would be made into. At present there are six bedrooms and three large baths on the third floor that could be made at a small cost. There is an opportunity for some thirty rapidly increasing in the fine homes of the city and the wife could not think of a $125.00 month to the family.

Mrs. A. H. McLain, formerly Miss Amy Hulse, when asked for the particulars concerning her wedding, which has been kept a secret for some time, gave us the following story. "Our next door neighbor gave a candy party the other night and set a pan of candy on the front porch to cool, and it promptly disappeared."

CHILDHOOD ON INCREASE 1922

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—No business flourisher during the last year to a greater degree, paid such spiritual dividends for his better prospects for advancement during 1922 than the business of childhood, according to President Edna Dean Baker of the National Kindergarten and Elementary League.

Grown-ups are coming more and more to consider seriously the fact that as the child grows, so does civilization," says Dean Baker, who points out that not only mothercraft but fathercraft must be given a greater degree of serious consideration, attention and research if the trend of childhood is to continue upward.

"The requirements of mothercraft are vividly conceived—art and science, literature, industry, philosophy, dietetics, psychology and religion—but the mother must be a poet as well as a housewife, a teacher and a teacher," says Dean Baker. "Mothercraft is not confined to the home, but embraces every woman who has love and understanding for the child."

And parents and teachers in charge of child training are becoming more receptive to the newer type of elementary education, according to Dean Baker.

"Partners in the business of childhood have not been oblivious to the fact that the business has suffered certain depressions. Many young women are being trained without any conception of mothercraft and motherhood. Ervilities are the major influence in the lives of many young women approaching maturity. Thousands of children do not have the advantages of guidance during the earlier stages of their lives. However, through laws to be proposed in legislatures in our states and the many forces that are laboring in the interests of the business of childhood, we expect to correct these conditions."

Dean Baker listed the National Bureau of Education, National Congress of Mothers, Parent-Teacher associations and individual educators and philanthropists as potent factors now working in the interests of the "business" who believe that of "all the business of life, particularly the business of morality, the business of democracy and civilization are ultimately only to the business of childhood."

Astoria is classed as "a far trade town of about 6,000 population" in an article which appeared in the London Daily Mail telling of the fire disaster December 8. The Seufert cannery at The Dalles represents an investment of $250,000. Both salmon and fruit are canned, and the annual payroll for labor is more than $64,000.
