IS LOVE A DISEASE? "OUTCAST" SEEMS TO PROVE IT

Elsie Ferguson's New Paramount Picture is Packed With Thrills.

It has been asserted that love is a disease, and you might think so to see how it affected Geoffrey Sherwood in "Outcast," Elsie Ferguson's new Paramount picture, which is to begin its two days showing here at the Arcade theatre today. Moreover, Sherwood evidently thought it was incurable for he attempted to drown himself, choosing alcohol as the medium. He would have succeeded, too, but for Miriam, played by Miss Ferguson, though she was not the object of his affections or the cause of his trouble. Mary McLaren, in her important role of Valentine, is the girl.

Not content with her choice of wealth instead of Geoffrey, she later tries to win him again. But Miriam leaves Sherwood; she has dragged him back from the depths and she determines to hold his love. Her fight for him, with the great handicap under which she struggles makes "Outcast" one of the best screen dramas of the season. The picture version, directed by Chester Withey, was adapted from the play of H. H. Davies of the same name. Miss Ferguson also starred in the play in 1914.

An admirable cast supports the star. David Powell, one of the screen's best known leading men, plays opposite the leading woman for Wallace Reid, and who recently appeared in "Lionel Barrymore in 'The Face in the Fog' is another notable member. Other players include William Powell, Charles Wellesly and William David.

AT SHERIDAN'S LAST DAY

A typical cowboy dance is one of the features of "The Cowboy and the Lady," a Paramount picture with Mary Miles Minter and Tom Moore, directed by Charles Maigne. This dance, moreover, is the scene of a tragedy which affords the material for the most climax of this pictureization of Clyde Mitchell's famous play. During the dance in the anteroom the villain is murdered, but who the guilty person is cannot be determined because of the shot being fired in darkness. In the end, however, all comes out as it should. Much of the picture was made in Wyoming near Jackson Hole, a famous resort for cattle rustlers and outlaws in times gone by.

Also showing "Better Late than Never," a Hall Room comedy.

Another great need of Europe is a device to make moral support edible.

RED PEPPER FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism at once. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red pepper. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone. Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

Where thickness of a Hair Equals a Mile

THE hair of a human head averages from two to three thousandths of an inch, and if motor service shop work is based on accuracy so coarse as a "hair's breadth," only poor results can be obtained.

Automobiles may be designed alike, and look the same, yet one, because of precise fits, has more power, speed and less vibration. When pistons and cylinder bores are held to limits of one thousandth plus or minus, it means that often a piston .001 undersize goes into a bore which is .001 oversize; and, in case of a three-inch piston, instead of having a wall clearance of .003 .001 for each inch of piston diameter, it has .003 and becomes an "oil-pumper"—an error of less than an average hair's breadth, yet, the results could have been no worse had it been a "mile."

Avoid errors as broad as a hule and for closely fitted pistons and perfectly ground cylinders have your repairmen bring your cylinder block to us for regrinding and piston assembling.
