The home of Ben and Kenneth Gokeler was the scene of a most enjoyable party Wednesday evening. The 25 guests spent their time most pleasantly at cards and before the party broke up delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Art McCall is quite ill at her home.

A very interesting meeting was held at Grange Hall Saturday by the Blue Mountain Grange. During the lecture hour Mrs. Clyde Hopple and Pave Golden each furnished music in the form of piano solos. Mrs. A. J. Hine read an article in which she enumerated the duties of the economic committee. Roll call on "What is the plan, if any, have you to make of the work of the county board?"

Several able talks on free trade policy led by Minnie Holman. The Grange's subscription ended by the members casting a vote on the question. The majority was for free trade policy. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, There is a bill before the legislature to abolish certain boards and commissions in the interest of economy, we the members of the Mountain Grange ask our senators and representatives to adopt the same as far as possible.

BE IT RESOLVED, By the Blue Mountain Grange, that we heartily commend the senators and representatives who have taken the stand against non-taxable securities. Signed by Mrs. M. H. H. Beckley, Sec'y. J. W. Jumper.

BANK CONDITIONS SOUND

OLMPIA, Wash., Jan. 26.—Washington last, but not least, small banks through failures last year. Between November 1 and January 5, 1922, there were 16 bank failures in Montana, 7 in Minnesota, 5 in North Dakota, 4 in Idaho and 4 in Oklahoma. In 22 states whose banking departments reported to the state banking department there were a total of 78. Eight of these were national banks. "These are statistics to which State Supervisor of Banking Duke points in answer to the loose statement that Washington financial institutions have surrendered in the fight to overcome the shock of liquidation that followed the readjustment of business conditions after the war and which was made more serious by a series of crop failures."

FLOWERS BLOOM ON THE IMNAHA

ENTERPRISE, Jan. 26.—Signs of spring weather on the Imnaha, after a brief winter early in December, has mixed up the seasons a bit, say farmers living in the canyon. From the middle of December there was not even a frost on the river until last Friday night, which was followed by a regular freeze Saturday night.

These nips have not, however, altered the appearance of spring. Green grass is thick on the lower benches, the hatterups are in bloom up and down the hillsides and around the houses the lilac bushes are putting forth their leaves. The bees are leaving their hives, even those who insects having been deceived into thinking it time for them to be abroad.

All livestock is in excellent condition. Cattle do not slide when they are strong, and the steep hill sides are free of frost and give good footing to animals. The growing grass has raised hopes of sheepmen, who last year from low lambing records of their flocks. With a liberal crop of lambs, the sheep business will be profitable this year, as prices are satisfactory all along the line.

So live that it will never be necessary to send your influential friends around to ask the newspaper to leave out the sordid details.

MADAGASCAR RADIUM SITE

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 24.—Madagascar has huge uraniferous deposits which are capable of producing in the near future 40 to 46 grams of radium bromide a year, according to Professor Lecroix, secretary of the French Academy of Science. This production would be equal to about half of the world's present annual supply.

Ten tons of "betafite," the name given by Professor Lecroix to deposits found in the Betafo district of Madagascar, furnish 15 grams of radium bromide. He adds that the crystals from which the radium bromide is obtained are found conveniently in red earth, and may be extracted by washing, as is done in the case of gold bearing deposits.

POSTMASTER TO REMAIN

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 26.—That Postmaster Halderman, who is resigning Astoria at Washington, D. C. remain in the national capital until after Congress acts on the measure to extend federal aid to Astoria was the request made by the executive committee of 10 at its meeting this afternoon, and a telegram to that effect was sent to Mr. Halderman. The action was taken in reply to a telegram by G. C. Fulton, town manager as follows:

"It seems I have done everything possible to assist in the Astoria matter. Having before senate committee, I shall not report our bill out before next Tuesday and vote in the house, but probably before one week thereafter. My presence here might possibly hinder the passage of the bill."

CRABTREE HAS ROW

LEBANON, Ore., Jan. 26.—Crabtree, a small town situated some seven miles north of Lebanon, which boasts of having the first union high school in Linn county appears to be in the throes of a community row over the dismissal of one of the high school teachers by two of the directors over the protest of the chairman of the board. The chairman asserts he was not present at and had no notice of the meeting at which action was taken on the dismissal.

At the beginning of the Christmas holidays the teacher A. D. Symons, was notified by two of the directors that his services were no longer desired. It is alleged by the chairman that no charges were filed against the teacher and no trial held. Following the holidays a new teacher was employed. Both are now claiming the right to teach. The new looks as if the district was facing litigation to settle the matter.
