ACTION NOW PASSED AT LEGISLATURE

A few of us believe in all sincerity that the time is ripe to rip out a lot of what seems to be excess material and not to replace it, until the consolidators want to take care of every little department now existing but which then around into new leadership. At least that is the gist of the bills thus far introduced.

We might add that everybody is at work. The dull days have gone and the committees are grinding. In the language of some statesmen "may Providence take care of things until we see what the legislature will finally cook up." We have hopes for the best.

Owing to bad conditions of portions of the road between Union and Cove, the local train has not been able to make its daily trip for several days.
