STRONG MAN HEADS SOVIET IN PRIMORIA

(By Associated Press)

VLADIVOSTOK, Siberia, Jan. 29. — Nikita Denisov, the champion strong man of Vladivostok, a former longshoreman, who is credited with the ability to carry with ease a load of one hundred and twenty pounds up the gangway of a ship, is the new president of the Primoria Soviet. His vice-presidents are Constantine Pshenitain and Theodore Tretiakeff, and the secretary Nicholas Gushchin, a printer's assistant.

President Denisov in an interview with The Associated Press explained the aims of the new Soviet. He said: "In the Primoria, owing to local conditions, there is at present a slight divergence from the normal constitution in force in the Russian Social Federated Soviet Republic, which gives certain persons the opportunity of saying that the government here is a military dictatorship, but in fact there is no military dictatorship. There is only a transitory stage which is common in Russia in parts of the country which have been cleared of the enemy, and which is being organized. The existence of the Provincial Military Revolutionary Committee is certainly not opposed to the Soviet ideal. All authority in the hands of the Workers" as the unanimous election of a Soviet.

Vladivostok received the immediate sanction of the Revolutionary committee.

"The continuation of the present state of affairs will rest on our ability to bring about order. As soon as this is done and Soviets are formed in the various districts and provinces, the full authority of the government will be handed over to the Soviets by the Provincial military revolutionary committee. At present all questions referring to the government is settled by the Provincial military revolutionary committee. The deputies are chosen from the different unions in proportion to their numbers.
