

About Ties—

TROUBLE with most ties is that they won't stand being knotted over and over again. After a few weeks they look like fury. We're featuring ties that will stand a thousand and one knottings—and be too good to throw away even then!

No Middleman in the Electric Business

You buy a simple article and the price makes you gasp. "Who's getting the big profit?" you ask. "It's not" replies the retailer, and he points to the wholesaler; the wholesaler to the jobber; the jobber to the manufacturer, and the manufacturer to the laborer.

The same old chain, with profit on every link. Is all business like that? Must we pay two, three, or four profits on everything we buy?

No, indeed. Here is your electric company selling you service; delivering current direct from the plant, right to the point of use in your home without middlemen or middlemen's profits and with every item of its cost regulated by your treated representatives.

While some merchandising profits range from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent., we are allowed to make but one profit, and this profit not to exceed 3 per cent. on money actually invested. Frequently it is less.

What other business renders so complete a service at so small a return?
