

MYERS IS ON TRIAL TODAY

Charged With Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor, S. L. Myers Being Tried in Circuit Court.

The case of the State of Oregon versus Sam L. Myers, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was started in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. A jury was selected and with the testimony practically completed early this afternoon, the case is expected to go to the jury about four o'clock. Judge Knowles is presiding. Attorneys Wright and E. R. Ringo represent the state and R. J. Kitchen represents the defendant.

The civil case of Herbert Myers vs. E. A. Kirkendall et al. was completed yesterday afternoon and the jury found for the defendant. The case involved some real estate matters.

The case of Zulu Ebell vs. the

O. W. company will not be begun until tomorrow.

COMING MATCH TO BE HEATED

Neither one is expecting to fall into the other's arms Friday night, implant a loving kiss on each cheek and utter sentimental love words in each other's ears. No. "I'm going to win," says Alie. "So am I," says Gus. Both boys are just a trifle sore about the match in Vocello and "revenge" is sweet to be who will come out ahead here. Neither Alie nor Gus has ever heard the old saying that "revenge is not for this world," or if they have, it passed through without response—a response—and when the muffs flash Friday, if they haven't lost their dynamite and 7. N. T. both men will be surprised and the fans will be disgusted.

Local Semi-Final.

Chet Smith, who has appeared in the ring in La Grande once before, is working out nightly at the Y getting into shape for his fight with Johnny Natto, who is not slighting preparations for the meet. Natto's weight has been steadily settling at 145 pounds, he says so himself, and Chet tips the scales at 135—or expects to on the night of the match. Both boys have traveled the ring from rope to rope before and neither are dubs with the boxing kid gloves.

Two preliminaries, four rounds in length, will stir up the dust from the ring for the last two events. Earl Ford will meet Ed Hoffman and Joe Crane will tackle Mike Maloney in these two events.

The night's slaughter will commence at 8:15 o'clock and tickets are on sale at the Imperial Billiard parlors.

SAVE MANY MILLIONS
(By Associated Press)

CORVALLIS, Feb. 15.—Many millions of dollars have been saved by the invention of A. B. Cordley, dean of agriculture of preparing fine-sulphur stock solution for spraying. It is estimated. This solution is now used all over the world.
