IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR
Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cream, gives such a quick relief, even to hay eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

AGNES AYRES HAS A STARTLING SCENE IN NEW PHOTOPLAY
However, It Is Only One of Many In Picture, "A Daughter of Luxury."

A beautiful girl with her hair hanging down her back, her shoes off—in a hotel room alone with a married man! This is the startling situation in which Agnes Ayres, Paramount star, finds herself in her role of Mary Fenton in her new picture, "A Daughter of Luxury," which will be a feature at the Arcade Theatre today.

The situation, however, which immediately conveys the idea of scandal proves to be the most innocent imaginable. Mary Fenton, the character played by Miss Ayres, hungry, penniless and homeless, sees a man whom she thinks to be an old friend from her former home town. She accosts him, then discovers she has made a mistake. The man, seeing she is faint with hunger, invites her to dine. She accepts.

They find the only tea room in that section has just closed. He suggests that they go to his room and he will order tea and cake sent up. She wavers between propriety and hunger and finally yields to hunger. After the tea, during which she removes her shoes to rest her aching feet, she stands in front of the mirror to repress her hair so she may once more start out in search of a job. It is at this point that she is discovered by a gossip.

Out of this complication grows the big climax of the story, when Mary, to save the honor of the man who has befriended her, allows him to introduce her to the gossip as his sister-in-law, an heiress, and thus is forced to play the impostor during a good part of the remainder of the story, and suffer humiliation of final exposure. A jewel robbery is one of the big incidents.

The picture is an adaptation by Beulah Marie Dix of the play "The Impostor," by Leonora Morlock and Michal Morton. Tom Gallery plays opposite the star.

AT SHERRYS—LAST DAY VALENTINO IN EXOTIC PICTURE

Rodolph Valentino, first as a college swain at Harvard, then as a prodigious young prince of India, in the treat promised for screen fans when Valentino's latest Paramount picture, "The Young Rajah," comes to the Sherry theatre. Last times today.

The story was adapted by June Mathis from John Ames Mitchell's popular novel, "Amos Judd," and the play of the same name by Alethea Luce. According to the story, Valentino is a Hindu Prince who, as a child, is smuggled out of India to save his life and is brought to America and placed under the care of a New England family.

The boy grows up and becomes an athletic hero at Harvard. His love affair with a young heiress is broken off when he is suddenly kidnapped by emissaries from India and taken back to his native land. A usurper has seized the throne there and Valentino, now back in the garb of an Indian prince, ousts him. Out of a sense of duty toward his people he is about to sacrifice his love for the American girl, but a series of unexpected happenings brings things out happily. "The Young Rajah" is said to abound in magnificent settings and lavish costumes. Comedy showing, No Money to Guide Him.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy, and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.
