HOLLAND, 31, SHEIK, 90,
IN DESERT FILM

Noted Screen Player in "Burning Sands" an Artist at Make-up.

Though in these days the motion picture producers are given to choosing old men to play elderly roles wherever possible there are times when it is necessary to depend on makeup entirely for the effect desired and a case in point is the remarkable transformation effected by Cecil Holland in the role of an old Sheik in "Burning Sands," a Paramount picture which will be on view at the Arcade today and Saturday.

Mr. Holland, who will be recalled for his admirable work as the halfwitted Roger Unthank in "The Great Impersonation," is in his early thirties; made up as the old Sheik he looks fully eighty even at close range.

By means of a peculiar substance which he puts on his face the skin and features seem to shrivel and are seamed with many wrinkles which in turn are accentuated by the careful use of the grease paint lining pencil. The addition of heavy gray eyebrows and beard of crepe hair, so perfectly applied as to defy detection, with the striped bournouse and head dress, complete the transformation to the last detail.

It proves that our boyhood heroes of detective fiction who resorted to disguise so successfully were not exaggerated except in the matter of time. To create a makeup such as the one in question, a good deal of time and the most painstaking work is required. No lightning change could be possible, of course.

Wanda Hawley and Milton Sills are featured in this production which originally adapted from Arthur Weigall's story. It is a picture fully as thrilling and spectacular as "The Sheik." It is claimed, Louise Dresser, Winter Hall, Jacqueline Logan, Robert Cain and others of note appear in the big cast.

SHERRYS—LAST DAY
WES BARRY IN SCREEN CLASSIC
Plays Irish Ragamuffin Who Turns Slueth in Thrilling Story.

Wesley Barry, the boy actor whom everybody likes to watch on the screen because he is boyhood incarnate, the spirit, that never dies, in his latest picture, "Heroes of the Street," a Harry Rapf production distributed by Warner Brothers.

This is a screen adaptation of Lem Parker's stage play. The scenario was written by Edmund Goulding and Mildred Constantine. The story centers around young thirteen-year-old Mickey Callahan, Irish up to his blue eyes, and blessed with a pair of fists which he finds useful in defending his reputation in the usual street fights of kids. Mickey's father is a goodhearted policeman who loves his family devotedly. A gang of clever blackmailers is busy in the city; they are the tools of some mysterious super-criminal, unknown even to the crooks themselves.
Mickey's father is shot dead in the course of his duties; and all clues point to this shadowy slayer, but the only merchant who has the ready cash in the community and can't sell his goods doesn't call it splendid isolation.

The disquieting thing about a faster mail service is that it gets your checks back before you are ready to protect them.

A writer says that half the boys of 1890 wished to be bandits. Well, well; so that accounts for so many filling stations.

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Peter and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, and well-known druggists here, because it makes the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, lustrous hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Daddy, will you take me to a movie, please?
No, not tonight but some other time I will.
I wanna go tonight!
If I would have cried like that when my daddy would have given me a good spanking.
He must have been a bum daddy!
Is that so, young man? Well, my daddy was a better one than yours any day!
You don't? Well, go get your hat and coat and we'll go to a movie!
I don't believe it!
