BIG HEART THROB IN "WHO ARE MY PARENTS?"
If there is anything to be told by titles, "Who Are My Parents?" should be filled with heart interest. This William Fox Corporation feature comes to the Arcade Theatre Thursday.

Here is a monster screen drama which presents a problem of the ages. It is a splendid photoplay that should appeal to those who care for good clean dramatic material. The author of the story, "Mr. X," has worked out the single idea of holding the interest of the spectator from start to finish. To accomplish this he has diversified the action by the introduction of a number of appealing kiddie characters and given them many charming revelations of child nature.

J. Scarle Daxley, who directed the picture, has brought in an amusing episode in which the kidnapping of the mother of a litter of puppies by the dog-catcher figures in a pathetically humorous way. The picture also contains a pointed rebuke to the class of society women who refuse to present their husbands with a family of little ones, but have plenty of time to devote to a pet dog.

Peggy Shaw, who was a former favorite with "Ziegfeld Follies," has one of the leading roles. She appears as the true hearted daughter of a stern father who attempts to stop her when she accepts the love of a fine young chap who is long on good looks and short on cash.

Florence Billings plays the elder sister who is devoted to her pet poodle, and Roger Lyton is the Colonel Lewis, the selfish, hard-hearted pursuer. Other important parts are played by Ernest Hillman, Robert Gray, and the lovely Frances, Niles Welch, and Marie LeBarat. A pair of clever youngsters, Florence Haas and Jimmy Tappley, have appealing scenes which they act with remarkable skill.

SHERRY'S TODAY ONLY.
What person with an ounce of red blood in his veins who does not recover a youthful thrill at a tale of quest for hidden treasure? The old-time thrills have been re-created and imprisoned for all time on celluloid by Gouverneur Morris in Goldwyn's film version of his story, "Yellow Men and Gold," which comes to the Sherry Theatre for Today only.

This absorbing tale of adventure and conflict on an island in the South Seas partakes of the romantic fervor of the old-time legends. The color to be found in Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," two rival factions set out for a lonely island off which an old Spanish galleon, laden with treasure, was thrown. A conviction of nature has thrown the galleon up above the water until it rests like the skeleton of a whale, upon one of the highest points of land.

About the skeleton of this old ship occurs much of the action of the picture. Physical prowess and endurance of an unusual sort was called for on the part of Richard Dix, Helene Chadwick, Henry Barrows, Rosemary Lane, Michael Toker, Fred Kohler, Jerry T. Herbert, William Moran, John King and the other actors in depicting the scenes on the island. Fight follows fight in rapid succession, each one more strenuous and thrilling than the one preceding it.

"Yellow Men and Gold," was directed by Irvin Willat and he has succeeded in imbuing the film with the color, speed, picturesqueness and character values of the original story. It is a tale that will make spectators forget everything else until the final foot has been unrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven in their latest Two Reel Comedy success in making a big hit.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair in good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are appearing in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-made product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by mirroring the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is a treasure.
