SHERRY'S - LAST TIMES TODAY
In the filming of the big new motion picture, "Where Is My Wanderer?"

Not wishing to picture any but the real shots, a special time was appointed and on one cold, shivery, wet night, director, camera men and staff visited one of the most famous showery missions and shot actual scenes of that renowned line of friendless derelicts who come to receive food and whatever shelter these missions provide.

The actual line as it moved forward showing the broken attitudes, forlorn expressions, and hopeless haggardness of a crowd of human flotsam was filmed with exactness. Nobody resented being photographed, while one old man, called upon to enact the part of adviser to Cullen Landis, the young boy in the film, played his part true to life, exactly as it is lived in the slums of New York.

No person can view these scenes without pity for these poor unfortunates who seem to ever remain a fixture in the seething maelstrom of the big cities, and who constantly serve as a stern reminder that the path to glory lies in duty well done. "Where Is My Wanderer?"

Just Received

THEATRES

"ON THE HIGH SEAS" WRITTEN BY A FAMOUS PLAYWRIGHT

The fruits of Jesse L. Lasky's efforts to persuade the world's leading authors and dramatists to write original stories directly for the screen are gradually being harvested.

Edward Sheldon is the latest pupil in Mr. Lasky's school. The well known author of such successful plays as "Salvation Nell," "Romance" and "The Carina" moved his typewriter into movieland and, after serving as an interested observer for a short period, produced a story called "On the High Seas" which so delighted the heart of Mr. Lasky that he purchased it on the spot.

Mr. Sheldon's screen effort is something quite different from "Salvation Nell" and "The Carina," though it exhibits evidence of the same shrewd observation of human nature, under stress of emotion that marks those successful stage pieces.

"On the High Seas" is a roaring love story of the sea, of shipwreck and storm, and of the things the sea does to the souls of men and women.

"The Pride of Palomar"
Proving itself to be an epic of the screen, "The Pride of Palomar" a Cosmopolitan production for Paramount of Peter H. Kyne's celebrated novel of the same name, was warmly received on its presentation at the Arcade theater last night.

"The Pride of Palomar" is an excellent story and doubtless will prove to be one of the outstanding successes of the current season.

Don Mike Farrell - half Irish, half Spanish - who returns from his army service in Siberia to find his father dead and the family in the hands of strangers.

The young man finds that the ranch has practically been bought by Mr. Parker, father of the girl with whom he has fallen in love.

LOCAL CORSETIERE for Barclay Corset. Mrs. J. F. O'Connell, 1104 O Avenue, Phone 147-J. Strictly Custom-made Corsets. Guaranteed throughout. Also Hemstitching and Picot Edge. Work Guaranteed. 3-1-1f

AND IF YOU'RE NOT FEELING WELL, MR. TRUS, TAKE MY ADVICE AND KEEP AWAY FROM THE DOCTORS. THEY'RE THE BUNK. THE EXERCISE OF A LITTLE COMMON SENSE IS ALL THAT'S NEEDED IN DEALING WITH BODILY ILLMENTS.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT, JOHNSON. I SAY YOU OUGHT TO!!! YOUR WIFE TELLS MY WIFE THAT EVERY TIME YOU FEEL A LITTLE SICK YOU HAVE TO HAVE THE DOCTOR PARK HIS SEDAN IN FRONT OF YOUR HOUSE LONG ENOUGH TO REASSURE YOU THAT YOU'RE NOT GOING TO DIE - AT LEAST RIGHT AWAY!!!

ing "Boy Tonight" will be shown the last time today. A two-reel western is also being shown.

COMING TO SHERRY'S
Rex Ingram's claim to film immortality is justified again in his remarkable new production, "Trifling Women," which comes Sunday to the Sherry theater.

The brilliant director of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "The Prisoner of Zenda" and other big Metro pictures, is himself both author and adapter of his latest success. This fact makes his triumph all the more complete, for the story and continuity are on a par with the production itself.

In all it is a distinctly worth-while photodrama, and it is recommended to those who want the best in their motion picture fare.

The story is concerned with the fascination of Zareza, a crystal gazer, whose green-like fascination attracts men into her net.

In the cast are brilliant players. Lewis Stone is seen as the Marquis Peroni; Barbara La Marr as Zareza; Ramon Novarro as Ivan, and Edward Connelly as Ivan's father, Baron de Maupin. Others in the cast are Bomero Cannon, Hurdie Mack. The fine photography is the work of John P. Seitz.
