Three Arrested—
 Three arrests were made by the local police yesterday and last night. J. W. Spencer was arrested charged with speeding and forfeited $10 bonds by non-appearance for trial. Jackson Williams, colored, was turned over to the police by Special Agent Rooney, charged with larceny of coal. His trial will be held later. K. Mino, Japanese, was arrested charged with being drunk and forfeited $20 bonds by non-appearance for trial this morning.

Local Health People Meet—
 The La Grande group of the Union County Health Association met last Thursday in the offices of County Nurse Juliet Whitaker in the West-Jacobson building and discussed work that had been done and the program for the near future. General satisfaction was voiced by those present and a number of new members were added to the roll of the association. The next meeting will be held in May.

Gold Teeth Decreasing—
 The stylish toothed belle or beau of today wouldn't think of flashing the golden blucapids. La Grande dentists say. To be the last bite in fashion, it is no longer necessary to have one's mouth look like the golden baths of Diocletian. It must more nearly resemble a modern porcelain bathtub. Time was when the girl with the double row of 24-karat gleamers could smile and be proud of it. There was a fortune in her face. Many a husband was known to knock a couple of his wife's teeth out on a Saturday night and then go and spend the proceeds on hard liquor. Tooth paste has changed all that. The girls who sip from the tooth paste ads have all adopted the porcelain style. They don't rust, you know. Then there's the price. A real double row of whites costs only $20 in some tooth stores. A single tooth is sold for $8 to $8.

Go to Church Sunday—
 The following opinion by C. J. Black, of the L. D. S. church, relative to the "Go To Church Easter" slogan that forms the basis of a front page story on the second section, was set up too late to be run in the second section. Mr. Black states, "Why should we go to church on Easter? Of all Sabbaths that probably should be the most sacred to the Christian world, because on that day our Lord and Saviour arose from the grave and broke the bonds of death for all mankind, making it possible for us once more to take up these bodies and go on in progression and gain perfection as our Father in Heaven has gained. Then, again, it is a time of renewing, when all nature is taking on new attire, heralding a time to purge and cleanse our souls and begin a new life. By all means, go to church Easter Sunday."

Eberhard in Portland—
 "We've more children than we have school accommodations in La Grande, and so we intend experimenting with the Gary system. This can be done with a minimal cost and we hope it is successful. If it doesn't work out, well, then the taxpayers will have to pay for a $100,000 building," says C. H. Eberhard, attorney of La Grande and a former member of the state senate for Union, Umatilla and Morrow counties. "The platoon system has been studied by our superintendent of schools and he is quite enthusiastic over it. The idea, roughly, is to have one group of pupils at recreation in a gymnasium while another platoon is using the classroom. This arrangement will save, we hope, the cost of building a big school at a heavy expense." Mr. Eberhard says that the mild weather now prevailing in Portland has been on for some time in Eastern Oregon and the farmers are worried about it. The weather is bringing out the buds and the farmers predict more cold weather, which will cause damage to the freshly starting crops. The warm spell is also pushing back the snowline into the foothills. Mr. Eberhard was in Portland on professional business and attended the old-timers' night at the Elks.

PACIFIC COAST GENERAL OUTLOOK IS VERY GOOD

California, however, the trend has been greatly modified. Reaction has taken the form of a pause in growth rather than any prolonged downward movement. In Los Angeles, for example, during the boom year of 1919, business nearly doubled. But in 1921 and 1922 it about held its own. It is possible, of course, that some weakness may develop later but in view of the industrial progress of the locality, such a recession should not be severe.

Warns California.
 "I hesitate when in Florida," continued the statistician, "to forecast definitely for California. First, because I am apt to be misquoted; and secondly, because I love and believe in the Pacific coast. California may some day have a population of 25,000,000—or perhaps more. It has the possibilities of a great empire. On the other hand, it has no monopoly of sunshine and the more rapid growth is due to the fact that Florida has been asleep. However, I say this as a friend of California because I want California to realize that during the next ten years it will have more competition than it has had during the past ten years. Trees do not grow to the skies and this applies to orange trees as well as to every other specie. Little does California realize the tremendous orange plantings in Florida during the past few years. These will come into bearing almost at one time—about 1927. Beginning then, there is bound to be a tremendous struggle for eastern markets between these two states. I want my friends in California to be prepared for the flood when it comes."

"California has thus far been sort of immune from the great business depressions," added Mr. Babson in conclusion. "This is due to the great influx each year of new people with money. People who make money in other states have been carrying it to California. When business in California would have fallen off, this natural decline was offset by new people and new money coming from other states. Can this always continue? I simply ask the question and urge my good California friends to think about it. In the meantime, let me say that business, taking the country as a whole, is making an exceptionally good showing. The Babsonchart stands today at 5 per cent above normal compared with 12 per cent below normal a year ago today."

Rain Forecasted.
 (By Associated Press.)
 PORTLAND, May 31.—Rain tonight and Sunday. Cooler tonight. Moderate southeasterly winds.

The most satisfactory substitute for coal is spring weather.
