The Power Shortage Is Over

While the improved water conditions have not existed long enough to accumulate much storage, we feel justified in stating that our power shortage is past, especially as spring is now so far advanced as to make it improbable that we will experience any more very cold weather.

All loads that were temporarily discontinued have been resumed except the dredges at Sumpter and we expect to be ready to serve them within two or three days. Furthermore all new power customers have been notified that they can begin operations.

We Greatly Appreciate the Co-operation Which We Have Received From Our Customers

The past few months have been the most trying in the history of our Company, but through it all we have been encouraged and stimulated in our efforts to meet the emergencies by the whole-hearted and ungrumbling spirit of co-operation and helpfulness that we have received from our customers. — We take this method of telling you of our appreciation so far as words can do it. In addition, we take up our normal operations again with a renewed determination to maintain every previous standard of GOOD SERVICE and to keep pace with the growth and progress of the communities we serve.

Within a few days announcement will be made of the first step in our plans for providing more capacity. Approximately $100,000.00 will be spent on new equipment in this first step in addition to our regular annual program.

AGAIN WE THANK YOU
