

Local News In Brief

COMING EVENTS
April 12—April Antiks by Associated Girl Students of La Grande High school.

Doing Nicely—C. C. Proffy, who recently underwent a major operation at the Grande Ronde hospital, is convalescing rapidly.

Mrs. Ivanhoe Returns—Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county superintendent of schools, returned this morning from Spokane, where she spent the past week attending the Inland Empire Teachers' association.

Back from Spokane—L. A. Stoop and Floyd McKennon returned this morning from a business trip to Spokane. They claim the interior Washington country is looking fine and that a spirit of optimism is everywhere present.

Directors Asked To Meet—All directors of the Union County Ad club have been asked by President Larison to participate in the planting of the Ad club tree in Victory Way.

Attorney Devers Here—Assistant Attorney General J. M. Devers, of the state of Oregon, is in La Grande at present, handling the legal counsel for the defendants in the mandamus proceedings now being tried in the circuit court.

Baker Attorney Here—A. A. Smith, prominent Baker attorney, well known throughout state legal circles, has been added to the legal forces of the delegation, headed by Mayor Joe Trappier, of Cove, plaintiffs in the mandamus proceedings now being tried in the circuit court. While in La Grande Mr. Smith is a guest at the Foley.

Hard maple flooring has been ordered for the Union gym and the same will be laid as fast as it can be done by the Manual Training department of the high school. The laying of this floor is made possible through the guarantee of several local organizations, and much of the expense of installing this fine floor will be met by dances given prior to stock show time. The gym floor will probably be the finest dancing floor in the county.—Union Republican.

Long Ship Being Built—The water was let out of the log pond at the Nibley-Minnaugh saw mill for the purpose of putting in a new log slip. The old one, built in 1910, has become decayed so a new one had to be constructed. As a part of the timber is under water it was necessary to drain the pond. Due to the softness of the ground in the woods the logs were not brought in to the mill Wednesday.—Wallawa Sun.

First Baptist Church Services—Sunday school 10 a. m. Sermon at 11 a. m. Shall we continue in sin that grace may abound? God forbid! How shall we, that are dead to sin live any longer therein? Subject, Deliverance from the power of in-willing sin by union with Christ in death and resurrection. Baptismal service at this hour as we had to postpone the baptismal service last Sunday on account of a bursted coil in the heating plant. This has been repaired. Funeral services at 2 p. m. for Roy Murr at the church. We have all prayed publicly and privately for him during his sickness and we must submit to the will of God but it is sad to give up one so young and with such bright hopes for the future. His parents and brothers and friends have our sympathy at this time. Young People's Meeting at 6:30 p. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. Subject, The kind of Christian life that tells for good in the world. Mrs. C. E. Hapner will direct the music. Congregation singing and responsive reading will be encouraged. The congregations were better Sunday. Keep it up.—A. R. Sifton, pastor.

NOTED SPEAKER TO COME HERE
Clarence C. Hamilton, field secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, will be in La Grande on April 20th to conduct a rally and speak to adults and young people. Delegations from neighboring towns are expected to attend, according to reports received by the committee in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hamilton's tour on the coast includes California, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. In Oregon his itinerary includes Medford, Albany, Corvallis, Marshfield, Salem, McMinnville, Portland, Astoria, Pendleton, La Grande and The Dalles. He will be at The Dalles April 27 to 29 to close the Oregon C. E. convention to be held there.

Mr. Hamilton's talk gives an all-round Christian Endeavor message and also the latest in the way of news, policy, and program from the national Christian Endeavor headquarters in Boston. The meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church during the afternoon and evening and a most cordial invitation is extended to all that they may hear one of the greatest speakers of modern times on the most important topics in existence "Christian Endeavor."

TREE-PLANTING PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR TUESDAY
When the armistice was signed, there was no emergency relief at Bay Point and the men left for other parts. Clyde its inhabitants. The lights and the lawns grew shabby. The trees were neglected. Concrete walks. Today there are more than 200 beautiful homes and nine families in the city. The damages cost $5,000. There is indication that it is to be revived and that gain will be a city beautiful.

Best Coast Chemical company building a temporary unit at the Coast Shipbuilding plant manufacturing it expected to April 10. The company headquarters are in San Diego and for munitions must be a delightful profession. You don't have to begin at the bottom.

Getting up in the world is just a delightful business of getting up a little later in the morning. A partisan says Germany is revealing unsuspected will power. Also, for that matter, unsuspected won't power. A critic asks how long chorms girls remain young. Perhaps one doesn't tell on them as it does on the short ones. If spring is in the air it must be one of those recall springs.

COYOTE SHOT AT THE PARK

THE PARK, April 7.—A coyote came within fifty feet of Little Jack Hunter, while he was cutting wood, a small distance from the house. Jack ran towards the house, yelling to his father to take the gun, which was brought out and handed to him, just as the coyote turned up the side hill running. Jack took a shot at it—at about 200 yards, clipping one of its feet; taking another crack at it, broke its front leg close to body. It ran pretty fast on its three legs, being about three hundred yards when Jack sent his third bullet through its brain. Taking in consideration, that it has been estimated that a coyote averages the eating of four sheep a year, not counting the havoc it raises among the deer, especially the young fawns, the wild chickens and numerous birds of value—all this and the bounty, the present value of the pelt—the killing of such an animal is indeed worthy of the exploit.

The good news flashed over the telephone, Saturday morning, that John Wallace Boyle, known to his friends as "Peggy" Boyle—the oldest resident of the Park, and one of the oldest pioneers of Eastern Oregon—was at Union, on his way "home" to the Park. Wallace owns one of the best farms here, but after the demise of his first wife a few years ago, has leased his place and gone to Aberdeen, Washington and vicinity. Mr. Boyle is a well educated man, both technically and with practical experiences from the knowledge of "Hard Knocks." He has a wonderful memory, and is therefore a very interesting entertainer. It is good to hear him tell thrilling stories of bear, cougar, and Indian fights—for he was acquainted with the best "cracks-shot" with pistol and gun in his day. He has swung the "jerk-line" over many horses and mules, in the old coach days and is an expert with four "ribbons" and a four horse whip, as well as a number one rider. He is a well known right hand doer.—He is no boastful whatever. He has been a successful rancher here for many years, is a lover of fine graded horses, always handling the best farm animals. He has a brother, who is a minister of the gospel in the West, was the Park Sunday school teacher for years. It is a great privilege to any community to have such a character, and the Park is certainly proud of John Wallace Boyle.

A. J. Vanderventer and family are reported to be in excellent health. They are preparing to put in a large crop this spring. John Lay may put in a small crop on the Looney place, unless he moves away, which is not improbable. Joseph Lay, went to Baker with his team Thursday morning, transacting business in the Queen City, returning and reaching home the same night about twelve o'clock. He reports good roads, dry and dusty from here to Baker. To the regret of the school children there was no services Easter Sunday as has been the custom here at the school. Elva Vanorder, celebrated her fourteenth birthday on Friday March 30th. She was gladly greeted at school with good wishes and was served with a "big feed" of cake and ice cream—pies and puddings, not counting all the other niceties piled high on the table in her honor, when she reached home from school. Floyd Vanorder (the baby) while scrapping with another visiting baby, had a good cold bath, ending the scrimmage by falling backward in a tubful of cold water, kicking and splashing the water all over the amused family. Frank Wigalaworth, went to Union on business, from Havem Flat. His family is in excellent health. Ed Gilhepie, is reported busy mixing "dope" to poison the squirrels and cooners on his place. 6 to 8 PM.—The boys are preparing to lose their neighbors with the hot bath. Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Foster are busy putting in their crop. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones were Union visitors, transacting business in the busy little "big burgh" on Friday.

FARMERS SET NATION'S PACE, SAYS WALLACE

Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, Makes An Interesting Statement.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 7.—The urgent need for a better understanding between the important groups of citizens engaged in agriculture, in industry, and in general business is forcefully pointed out by Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, in a statement discussing their relationship.

"As our civilization becomes more complex," he declares, "the relationship between agriculture, industry and general business becomes more and more intimate. What hurts the one will certainly hurt the others. In general, what helps one will help the other. They must work together for the common good."

"There has always been a tacit recognition of our national dependence upon agriculture. We have given an intellectual assent to such statements as 'The farmer is the backbone of the Nation.' A prosperous Nation depends upon a prosperous agriculture. Agriculture is the basis of national life, and so on. The truth of such statements has never been driven home to us so effectively as during the last two years. The drop in prices which began early in 1920 is familiar history. Farmers were the first to suffer and suffered most. Taking prices of 1913 as representing 100, the prices of farm products in May, 1920, stood at 238. During that month they began to fall, and before the decline could be arrested they had dropped below parity level, standing at 94 in December, 1921. Then we had a terribly vivid illustration of our dependence upon agriculture and the intimate relationship between agricultural prosperity and business prosperity. Many farmers could not pay current expenses. The ratio between prices of things the farmers produced and sold and prices of the things they bought was so distorted that they were forced to practice the most rigid economy and reduce their buying to absolute necessities. Great industries which depend directly upon farm buying were plunged almost immediately into profound depression. Thousands of manufacturing plants had a similar experience. The railroads suffered thru reduction in freight on things farmers buy. Business of every sort shared the disaster. Hundreds of banks failed. Thousands of banks tottered along the edge of bankruptcy. Perhaps three million men were thrown out of work. The financial depression was widespread. The turn was reached in the winter of 1921-22, since which time there has been a gradual increase in the prices of farm products. Gradually farmers have been able to pay some of their debts and resume their buying. As a result there has been a steady improvement in business, until now there is general optimism. The ratio between prices of farm products and prices of other commodities is still abnormal. Until this ratio becomes more nearly normal the full measure of prosperity will not be restored. "While the experience of the last three years has brought sharply to our attention the intimate relationship between business and agriculture, the existence of such intimate relationship is no new thing. A comparison of the farmer's purchasing power with business figures during the last third of a century tells the story in a graphic way. During the 10 years 1890 to 1900 the purchasing power of the farmer was below the 30 year average; the percentage of business failures was considerably above. From 1900 to 1920 there was a gradual increase in the farmer's purchasing power. From 1901 to 1908 this purchasing power was almost the average of the 30 year period, while from 1908 to 1920 it was considerably above. The percentage of business failures dropped below the 30 year average from 1899 to 1920 with the exception of two short periods, one in 1908 and the other in 1914 and 1915. "We have about 6,500,000 farms. More than one-fourth of all our people who are engaged in gainful occupations work on the farms. The capital invested in farming is about 70 billion dollars. The money invested in farm buildings, machinery and silos, etc., not including the value of the farm land, would buy all of the railroads in the United States and in addition a considerable number of the mines. "The number of people engaged in farming is 30 per cent greater now than in 1870, but the volume of crop production in 1920 was 250 per cent greater than in 1870. "Business and agriculture are dependent upon one another. A prosperous agriculture means a prosperous nation. It is to the advantage of the business man that the farmer be fairly prosperous. Conversely it is to the advantage of the farmer that business be fairly prosperous. It is not to the advantage of either that either the one or the other should be so prosperous that intemperate speculation and waste is stimulated, because adversity always follows such a period."
