SUPERR ARE THESE TOURNAMENT SCENES

Those who like musical comedies or circuses will especially enjoy the tournament scene in the big Concor-dian production "When Knighthood Was in Flower," a Paramount picture starring Marion Davies which opens at the Arcade theater today for a three-day run. Tiers of fan-cifully decorated boxes fluttering with flashes and pennants and draped with garlands of roses; beautifully gowned women; court attendants; knights in armor and court jesters make this brilliant scene one of the most sparkling events imaginable. The glitter and the splendor of it all remind one alternately of a circus or musical comedy.

In the central box sit King Henry VIII and Queen Catherine while Princess Mary Tudor leans over the railing, enraptured at the vision of the gallant Charles Brandon, clad in armor, as he stops his coal black horse directly in front of the royal party and bows low. Marion Davies plays the part of Princess Mary and her charm was never set off to greater advantage than in the royal jeweled robes of the princess who was willing to forsake a throne for love.

Robert G. Vignola directed the impressive production. Luu Harding plays King Henry VIII. He is one of England's foremost actors and he played the part over two hundred times on the legitimate stage. Theresa Cooper Maxwell is the queen. "When Knighthood Was in Flower" is one of the most elaborate seven productions ever made in this country. Three studios were used in the filming and the costumes cost a small fortune.

GRIFITH'S "WAY DOWN EAST" COMING D. W. Griffith's pictureization of "Way Down East," based on the stage play by Lottie Blair Parker, which for the past twenty-two years was one of the rural classics of the American theatre, will be presented at the Sherry Theatre on Sunday for Three days with the following cast: Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Mary Hay, Burr McIntosh, Lowell Sherman, Creighton Hale, Mrs. Morgan Edmund, Kate Bruce, Edna Neeson, George Neville, Vivia Gaden, Porter Strong, Josephine Bernard, Mrs. David Landis, Patricia Preen, Florence Short, Emily Fitzroy and Myrtle Stetson.

Mr. Griffith's production of "Way Down East" represents ten months' work of the most exacting character.
In his screen version of the story he has endeavored to follow closely the narrative of the stage play, with here and there a digression for the purpose of dramatic value, or elaboration.

"Way Down East" is the biggest production Mr. Griffith has made.
Several Griffith innovations are proposed, including a genuine New England ice break on the River.

Following the premiere performance, the production will be offered fully, including an evening. There will be a special music program.

SHERRY'S
TODAY & TOMORROW
Every person who saw Rupert Hughes' two big photoplays, "The Old Man" and "Dangerous Curve Ahead," will not want to miss his next picture, "The Wall Flower," featuring Colleen Moore, which comes to the Sherry theatre Today and Tomorrow. It was directed, as well as written, acted and cut, by Mr. Hughes and possesses the same humor, penetrating insight and sense of the dramatic that the two former pictures revealed. It was produced by Goldwyn with a fine cast including Richard Dix, Tom Gallery, Rush Hughes, son of the author, Gertrude Astor, Fanny Stockbridge and others.

Idlene Nohlin has been an impressed by her mother and her brothers and was dressed so queerly that she seemed to herself and everybody else an ugly duckling. At dances she was left sitting against the wall. She had a false attitude towards life and towards herself. She tried to kill herself, but succeeded only in getting both legs broken. The wealthy girl to whose home she was taken, and her guest, a Westmore, decided to try letting a little sunshine and sympathy into Idlene's life and to teach her how to dress and to walk. Idlene, the wall flower, blossomed into a charming and beautiful girl under his treatment and won the love of the doctor. It's a story of everyday life, told truthfully, humorously and sympathetically as only Rupert Hughes can tell such a tale on the screen.

Larry Semon in his latest 2 reel laughing success, "The Counter Jampper."

Nothing the movie critics have to say can be heard above the clink of cash at the box office.

What to Eat and Why
"Proteins" in Your Food Important for Tissue-Building The Proteins in our foods are in charge of an important work for us. They are a necessary factor in building and maintaining the body-tissues. We need a certain, definite quantity of Proteins daily from our food—and the quality as well as the quantity of the Proteins is important.
Grape-Nuts includes the excellent Proteins of the wheat, and the supply of Proteins is supplemented by the cream or milk with which Grape-Nuts is eaten.
The Proteins in Grape-Nuts are combined with a very desirable form of carbohydrates (the grain starches) which are partially predigested through the long, slow baking by which Grape-Nuts is prepared. In its easy and quick digestion and assimilation Grape-Nuts helps prevent the unfavorable intestinal conditions which often occur from other sources of Protein supply and which greatly interfere with nutrition.
Grape-Nuts, with cream or milk, is a complete food, containing phosphorus, iron, calcium and vitamins—elements vitally necessary for the body's needs but often lacking in modern, "refined" foods.
You will find Grape-Nuts wonderfully crisp, savory and appetizing—a delightful part of any meal and an important aid to health and fitness.
