

Playtime Frocks May Be Tubbable

A chic, tubbable dress is an asset beyond words; and with summer time so near, and the need for good-looking things which may be laundered so prevalent, these fresh stocks of lovely new Mina Taylor and other frocks are the more interesting. For they're of fabrics that may be tubbed any number of times, in all the new shades of the season. The dyes are fast—they won't fade—and with pricings so low, you can afford more than one.

Society

A reception and house opening of the new parish rectory of the Church of Our Lady of the Valley, Fourth and K streets, will be held by the ladies of the Altar Society this Sunday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. After completing the present beautiful church, built by the Rev. Father Driscoll, the members of the parish deemed it fitting to erect a rectory corresponding to the church. The building committee, consists of F. L. Meyers, J. H. Pearce, Henry Nurre and W. H. Casey. The erection of the building was supervised by C. B. Miller, local architect and the general contract was allotted to W. C. Hansen, local contractor. All materials and furnishings were handled locally. The furnishings were selected and purchased by the Altar Society and the Young Ladies Sodality.

The house is designed from the English-Gothic style of architecture, with its steep gables, capper flees, half timbered roof with masonry bases. It is thought that this type of construction is very appropriate for the present purpose. The main floor of the rectory contains the office, parlor, dining room, the kitchen and commissary; the housekeepers apartments and bath room. All rooms are connected with the main hall with double and single French doors which can be thrown open into one large room and allows for perfect ventilation. The second floor contains the library with its fireplace and the rector's rooms, quarters for the missionary and guest room, including lavatories, sleeping porch and bath. Linen chests are conveniently arranged in the halls, all halls properly connected with the stairs and exterior entrances. The basement contains the furnace and fuel rooms, vegetable and service supply rooms, and complete laundry connected to both floors with chutes. There is also a large attic. At present, lawn, trees, shrubbery and flowers are being planted to give the building a proper setting.

A reception committee will be organized to show the visitors through the house. A very cordial invitation is extended to all, especially to the general public, to attend this house opening.

The English Lutheran congregation held a community gathering last evening in Lane chapel which was a very pleasant occasion. The chapel was filled with young people. Rev. Bogstad and his wife were in charge of the program. After singing "America," little Juanita Stittinger recited a poem on the "American Flag," which was very well done indeed. Miss Helen Jansen, Mrs. J. C. Stittinger and Carl Keller rendered a vocal selection in trio. Miss Jansen then recited "Little Orphan Annie," which was followed by a baritone solo by Carl Keller. Bruce Dennis, of the Evening Observer, talked for a short time telling of his personal acquaintance with Dr. Lane, who before his death saw the need of the chapel that bears his name, and succeeded in having the Presbyterian church of La Grande build it. The remainder of his talk was devoted to patriotism, which was the subject of the evening's program.

Ladies had prepared lunch boxes and Jesse J. Towery acted as auctioneer selling the boxes to the guests. When this had been completed games for the old and young occupied the remainder of the evening except the time consumed in enjoying refreshments.

The W. F. M. S. of the First Methodist Episcopal church met for their monthly meeting, in the parsonage Wednesday afternoon. The study hour was conducted by Mrs. Cooper. Among the special features was a solo by Mrs. Dunning and a Missionary play by five girls, a demonstration of work in India entitled "Patients and Practice." Refreshments were served.

The general aid of the First Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the aid rooms of the church.

Mrs. C. R. Jones of Portland passed through La Grande last evening on her way to Boise, Idaho, where she will visit.

Mrs. Mary Garner returned to her home in La Grande last evening after visiting for several days in Forest Grove with friends.

Mrs. Clipper, who resides at Nampa, Idaho, returned to her home last evening after spending several days in La Grande.

Mrs. Sellers, who has been visiting for a short time in Penitence, returned to her home in La Grande last evening.

SHIPPING AT POWDER HEAVY

NORTH POWDER, April 12.—The Bidwell-Evans Grain company have kept tab on the shipping of five sacks shipped from North Powder the past few months. Finishing on March 31st, there had been 32 cars of cattle, 5 cars of hogs and five cars of horses shipped to various points. This is not half of the tonnage shipped from this point. Over ten cars of ice and as many of hay and grain have been shipped from this town in the same length of time.

If the live stock market, as well as the grain market, were to be compared to other prices, there will be much more shipped than at present.

The school board of Wolf Creek met with Mr. Dixon of La Grande and Mr. Hatterman of Hatterman-Nelson company of Portland. This was for the purpose of drawing up the legal documents pertaining to the situation of voting the bonds. Messrs. Dixon and Hatterman will handle the legal end of the bonds.

H. O. Gorbes has returned from a five month trip and has traveled several thousand miles and returned to the home of his wife and children in California, Texas, Illinois and Nevada. His daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer-Dunning, who will spend some time here visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr. Gorham has been in Eastern Oregon for many years and was one of the earliest settlers in the vicinity of North Powder, where he still owns large ranching interests.

Alva Peters Sells Durkee Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Peters spent two days in Baker last week finishing up the sale of their ranch which they owned at Durkee. Mr. Peters is much pleased with the sale as he found it too much work to try to run two ranches at one time.

W. A. Hudson, E. J. Spencerbox and A. C. Hess went to La Grande to meet with the county court to get some action on the post roads that are at present almost impassable. They were promised relief as soon as the tax money is apportioned. Mr. Hess and Mr. Hudson took up the matter of grading Wolf and Glover creek roads and after much discussion they decided to build the Wolf

Creek road if they had to condemn the right-of-way.

The county court will be in the city in a few days to view the road and see what has to be done.

Some years ago there was a farm-ers' mutual telephone line out on Wolf creek, but it is said that now there is none. Trouble with the central office made the farmers give up the service as well as the raising of the rates and now there is none in that section. The phone is a necessity on the farms and the farmers had ought to get together and rebuild the line and not let it fall into disuse again.

The water meters that were ordered some time ago have arrived and will be installed as soon as the work can be done. Marshal John West will have charge of the work. Contracts have been used as these are said to be the best.

A special meeting will be called for the coming week to determine what action the town will take in the matter.

The signers of the guarantee received notice from the Cadman people that the contract had been canceled. The reason given was that the representatives had no authority to sign a four-day program and it would cost $1,000 for five days. No one cares to make such a large guarantee as we will not have any chautauqua this year.

The richest man in the world is the one who is satisfied with what he has.

The speedometer said sixty miles an hour. The constable said it was ninety. The natives said it was a crime. He said it was the life; but—His friends said it with flowers.

The joke is certainly on the mayor of San Francisco who talked into a broadcasting outfit an invitation to everyone who heard him to send him a telegram. Next day he found that the bill for the telegrams he received amounted to $12,000.
