—One's the new crepe sole Bostonian. Honestly, fellows, it's just like walking on air. A pure gum sole with a leather liner.

—The other's the new brogue. It has a broad toe and is a semi-straight last—it's the latest, both in comfort and style.

ASKED INDOORSE BAKER PROJECT

Mayor Russell, of North Powder, Makes Request of Member of the Reclamation Service.

NORTH POWDER, Apr. 17.—Mayor L. B. Russell has asked Mr. David H. Baker, of the Reclamation Service, to endorse the Baker Project on the understanding that the Union Pacific railroad would one-half of the expense of relocating their tracks at this point. The board of directors also sent a similar letter, as did the irrigation committee, of which Senator Strayer, of Baker, is chairman.

All indications point to the success of the project, but the officials are leaving nothing undone that will help matters along.

When this business starts this town will be a busy one. There will be the work of the railroad, the highway commission and the reclamation service. There is the construction to be done on the Glover Creek and Wolf Creek roads.

The lumbering interests are looking up and much activity is manifested in that industry. Indications now point to a busy and prosperous year for North Powder.

Arrest Made.

A man giving the name of George Robinson was arrested here last week on the complaint of Mrs. J. D. House, of Tulelake. She says that in January Robinson was a visitor at her home in Tulelake. He was peddling suits and talked her son into giving him ten dollars for a sample case of goods and the case was never delivered.

She saw Robinson in town and had him arrested and brought before Justice Sencenbros. The sheriff was in town that day and took the man to jail. Robinson was in jail for a few days and it is reported that he jumped his bail and has disappeared. Owing to poor sidewalks in the east part of the town the council ordered that cement walks be laid from D street to B street. They must be laid between time of noon and July 1st. This is a much needed improvement as the old board walks are worn out and have large holes in them that are dangerous to all.

Mark Gilkison was given the work of making the meter boxes, which will be made of concrete. Mr. Gilkison made a cheaper bid on this work than did anyone else.

The water committee will be allowed to do as they think best about extending the water mains to the property of persons in the northwest part of town. There are several persons wanting water.

The street committee was instructed to see about the construction of two culverts that are badly needed in the north part of town.

Several muddy places are being filled in and the good work had ought to be kept up until no more mud or water is on good roads as any town in the Northwest.

The members of the "500" club were entertained at the home of Mrs. L. B. Russell on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Volney Lee and Mrs. Russell. Four tables of cards were in play and Mrs. Hudson received the prize for the highest score. A nice two-course lunch was served and all present had a nice time.

A large number of the people visited the auto show last week and all report a good time. No sale of autos at the show have been reported as having been made by any local people.

S. E. Stevens is rebuilding the barn on his property which is now occupied by Walter McGrath. He will paint the house and make some other needed improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dalton, of Oak Grove, are in the city and will stay for some time as Mr. Dalton has large ranching interests here and will spend the summer in looking after them.

Mrs. Williams, who underwent a major operation at the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Baker last week, is reported as getting along fine and will soon be out as well as ever.

The North Powder baseball team was defeated in a game between Imbler and the team of the North Powder high school.

There will be a game on the North Powder grounds next Friday, April 20th, and the boys will give a different account of themselves.

John Burdette is working at the San Davis ranch. He is plowing for spring grain.

A large number of people have been attending the shows in Baker the past week and all report them as very good.

Mrs. Fred Rice, who has just been out of the hospital for a short time, is not very strong and may have to return to that institution for further treatment.

Mrs. Della Gibbs has been having her residence remodeled and made over so two families can live in it very nicely. She also has had the place fenced with a woven wire fence, which materially improves the look of the place.

R. B. Garrison has been in town looking after business the past week.

JOHN BOYLE IS AT THE PARK

THE PARK, Apr. 17.—A pleasant group of friends gathered at the home of Clarence Vanorder on Friday, April 13th, when Jack Hunter and his wife Ida, came over the hill from the Forks, in anticipation of meeting their old friend John Wallace Boyle, who arrived in the Park last week. Clarence started from his home and met them nearly halfway, showing that spirit of cordiality and hospitable nature in "going" for his friends and neighbors.

"Here comes 'Peggy'—yes sir—that's 'Peggy' Boyle."

And "Peggy" it was. "Peggy," that's John Wallace Boyle's name, when he was a young cowpuncher years ago, when he used "to chase the young elk fawns out of the way to go through the 'Park'—this place was a regular elk breeding ground then," as he recounts his past years where they were received by "Jolly" Maud, and "Bill," daughter of Jack and Ida Hunter, who had been visiting the Park for a few days. Clarence and Kenneth let all work go, and the men sat in the sun, between the barn and house, and between admiring the sheep with their lambs, the cows and young calves, the nice horses, the big pig with ten little ones—and incidentally rescuing baby Floyd, who got too familiar with the lambs, from the attacks of the annoyed mother—all listened to "Peggy" telling of the new country he was in at Aberdeen and Hoquiam, Washington, where he has been with his grandson Harold for the past few years. And now he has rented a fine five acre place in the university city of Oregon, Corvallis, where he will return next week. And then the call for dinner rang out bright and clear, from the healthy lungs of the hostess—Maud—and the dinner—well there was home cured bacon and ham, rich brown beans, potatoes, water cress greens, pickles and salads, rich gravies, bread and butter, milk or coffee, plenty of cake, custard pie, huckleberry and apple sauce with a one gallon pitcher of pure "cow's cream" to use as you like and by the way of surprise all the genuine all-cream ice cream that you wished to eat—and that is part of the living in the Park.

By Stanley

Then Jack and his daughter "Bill," got in the "huck" which Clarence had already hitched horses to, and he "drove" them up to the Smith place. Ida, at the request of Maud, stayed over-night where they chatted and talked nearly all night, she returning home with the mail man the next day.

It is reported that A. J. Vandervanter was going to Baker on business Saturday.

Clarence and Kenneth Vanorder are contemplating starting full blast at their crops this week.

Jack Hunter bought potatoes from Kenneth Vanorder Friday.

The only bad place on the road now is between the summit and the old Uofine place, reports "Bud" Lay, the mail man.

In the old days they put citizens in jail for debt, but an Arkansas town is putting its citizens in debt for a jail.
