Mrs. J. T. Richardson, after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Heming of Portland, has returned home.

The Kaffee Klatch will not meet this week, as was formerly announced.

The Young Ladies Sodality are laying plans for a card party and social to be given upstairs in Eagles hall Wednesday evening. A pleasant evening is anticipated, and all friends are cordially invited.

and Most Beautiful Seen in La

Mrs. J. C. Ardrey of Portland, is in La Grande visiting at the guest of Mr. C. T. Barton for several days. Mrs. Ardrey is well known here as she was a resident of this city for many years.

Mr. E. Jacobson, who spent the week-end at Umatilla, returned to her home in La Grande last evening.

Mrs. B. C. Carney left last evening for Walla Walla, where she will spend a short time visiting before returning to her home.

Miss Mary Bullock will arrive this evening from Portland and will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Richardson the remainder of this week.

Fashion Notes

Black and Silky Straw
Paris—One clever little hat worn here today with a brim rolling up slightly in the front is of black and silky straw. It is trimmed on one side with the inevitable ribbon cockades, very small ones in this case. The upturned brim is embroidered in colors matching the cockades.

Single Fastening at Neck
Paris—A single fastening at the neck below the high collar is seen today on most of the hip length jackets. This single fastening enables the jacket to flare apart at the waist line and reveal a brilliant bodice. The fastening is generally a jeweled clasp.

Bolero Effect in Some Gowns
London—There is a bolero effect in some gowns of light materials at the moment. The bolero matches the lower part of the skirt, and all the space between is filled with a rather haphazard, but graceful blouse of some figured silk or georgette, with an apron effect in front.

Twisted Boudoir Cap
London—The newest boudoir cap

looks as though it had been turned round, wrong side to. The bow used to hang down the back is so arranged that it comes across one cheek and curves under the chin. It forms an attractive and softening frame for the face.

Another Panel Location
New York—There is yet another location for the panel which for so long has been wandering from place to place on the costume. Today it has settled at the back of the neck and is more than likely to extend to the hem of the skirt. Often it is of a material different from the rest of the garment.

French Knots on Lingerie
New York—French knots trim much of the spring lingerie which comes in such spring colors as dawn pink, heliotrope, primrose and violet. The knots are often black and arranged in a prim little pattern. Pajamas are embroidered with the owner's monogram.

Cigarette Case, Too
New York—The latest vanity case is a cigarette case as well. Not very large and topped by a silk cord, the double case is of brocaded silk and constitutes another very bright spot in one's wrist bag.

Fad Is Spreading
New York—Egyptian ornaments have betaken themselves to the crowns and the borders of frocks. Camels, pyramids, arabs, palm trees and a sphinx or two, cut out of some material resembling celluloid are today sewn on hats and frocks where they will do the most good from an artistic standpoint.

SOCIAL NEWS FROM THE PARK

(Special to The Observer)
THE PARK, April 24.—Bert Van in bus with his crop, but otherwise he reports his family in excellent health, and the kids are walking to school, as he has not the time to take them back and forth with team but as the roads are in good condition, the children don't mind the walk.

John Lay is still on the Losley place with his family.

Orville Lay was home for a visit from Big Creek where he is working for Bob Wankler.

The children of The Park entertained some of their friends from Big Creek, by having a swell picnic on the high cliff overlooking The Park, back of Clarence Vanorder's, Sunday. All report a jolly time back there in the woods.

Wallace Buels was a stage passenger with Bud Lay Tuesday, going to Union, on his way to Corvallis, Oregon.

Clara Hunter took the stage for Union Thursday, on her way to La Grande.

From Wiggansworth is busy at his cron on Haynes Flat.

Jack Haley is undecided as to putting any crop on his place, as he is worried that his place will be sold by Stover and Davis, who have it under option.

John Linscott has bought a fruit ranch somewhere in Washington, the place is not known at this writing. As was reached here that Mrs. Stover, who knows here, residing in College Bluffs, Washington, is recuperating over a bad spell of sickness lasting many months. All are glad to hear of the good news.

Dessie Stover is still going to college, at College Place, and doing fine as the last news received.

Charlie Stover is reported going abroad in the near future as a missionary to the Adventist.

Wood enters occupied the old Hall place for a while after leaving The Park.

Little Jack Hunter repaired their telephone line, which was broken close to the bridge by a fallen tree, that fell during the storm Tuesday night.

L. J. Foster is reported much better after the visit of Dr. Gilmore from Union.

Friends of George Losley and his good wife, Alice, are delighted to hear that their young baby is full of life and health—also the mother is getting along the finest.

Lottie Vandercanter is expecting going to visit her sister, Mrs. George Losley, at Big Creek in the near future.

Eva Vanorder went to the picnic last Sunday, reporting a fine time.

Ada Hunter from Union, called on her friends, Clarence Vanorder family, reporting that she is doing well at school, but anxious to go home, when the school will be out in May.

Little Jack Hunter caught four-teen nice trout—all from six to 12 inches long, while the water was pretty muddy; but Jack knows where to "get 'em."

Pheasants in large flocks are getting down from the high places—a few are as far down as the creek bottom, but most of them are flying on the benches next to the creek.

Mountain and blue grouse are numerous around the small springs. They are after the new grasses—grouse like grass as well as chickens on the farm. Indications are that they will be plentiful this season—just not being much disturbed the last few years. Most people who hunt them don't know where the birds live, at different seasons—when one goes where they are, it is no rare sight to see flocks of fifty and more—in cases like this ignorance is bliss—yes, for the birds.

A buck, a doe and a yearling of the mule deer type passed the "big log cabin" Wednesday evening within a hundred yards. They stopped, listened to the dog barking a while and proceeded on up the mountain where the grasses are more tender.

Pence doesn't cramp the style of the orator. He just substitutes "Wall street" for "the kaiser" and uses the same old line.

UNION LADY IS 104 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Elizabeth Godfrey, of Union, Four Years Over Century Mark; Does Her Own Housework.

UNION, Apr. 24.—Union has several old pioneers and others who are much advanced in years, but perhaps the most remarkable example of longevity is that of Mrs. Elizabeth Godfrey, who celebrated her 104th birthday anniversary last Wednesday. Mrs. Godfrey is still able to get around and work. She makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Ricker, in South Union.

The funeral of little Donald Wiggans, who lost his life when he fell into Catherine creek Wednesday, was held from the L. D. S. church Friday afternoon. Among the out of town people who attended the services were Donald's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggans of Imbler, and Mr. and Mrs. Zeemer of Elgin.

A meeting has been held and efforts are being made to revive interest in tennis here this summer. A court is practically completed at the Ed Miller home in North Union and several have signified their willingness to help form a tennis club for the season.

Present Play.
The Senior class of the high school will present their class play, "Under the Skies" at the high school assembly on Thursday evening of this week. This will be the first of the class plays for the year.

Christ Fauerso, who returned Saturday from a trip to Echo, where he was inspecting construction work on the highway, reports that he ran into a fresh snow six inches deep near Kamela.

Rev. Quinn, pastor of the Methodist church, has donated a fine history set to the high school library, for which the school feel deeply grateful to Mr. Quinn.

Kenneth McCormick was over from La Grande Saturday to attend the funeral of W. W. Reuter.

Boys Leave Home.
Four Union boys, averaging about 12 years of age, decided last week that the old home town was a little too dull for their enterprising spirits, started out Thursday to see the world. Marshal Van Houten was dispatched after the youngsters, but they succeeded in evading the officer and had journeyed as far as North Powder when they were turned over to the local justice. Responding to a phone message Mr. Sirmine went up to North Powder and brought the runaways back home.

Some of the boys had been guilty of a misdemeanor and it is believed that fear of punishment was the cause of them leaving home. All of the boys are back in school and feel very penitent about the matter. The boys are Ole Harn, Carl McClellan, Mery Blacker and Lawrence Sirmine.

A rabies scare was caused in this end of the valley last Friday when a coyote was killed in one of the barns on the Phy ranch near Hot Lake. The animal was discovered in a stall and the men finally succeeded in killing it. The animal's mouth was filled with porcupine quills and this may have been the cause of it coming down to the ranch in daylight, but the authorities were a little suspicious and the coyote head was put in a box and shipped away to be thoroughly examined.

Superintendent Bonney, of the state fish hatchery, returned Friday from a trip to Wallawa Lake, where he is looking after the construction of a string of ponds. These ponds are situated near the resort at the head of the lake and the water used is being taken from a spring. There will be several ponds arranged in a long single line with the water running through all of them. When Mr. Bonney came home he left the work in charge of Willard Miles, who with Mrs. Miles, is now living at the resort.

Funeral Services Held.
The funeral of W. W. Reuter was held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Quinn, the local pastor, and Rev. Quigley of La Grande, in charge of the services. There were many floral offerings from the various lodges to which the deceased and his sons belonged and from other sources including a very beautiful wreath given by the druggists of La Grande. Rev. Reuter had been pastor of the Methodist church here about 32 years ago, and was well remembered by many of the older residents. Although there are several children in the family, owing to the distance they were away from here, and the death coming so suddenly, only two were present at the funeral services, Walter, of La Grande, and Eugene of Union. The body was laid to rest in the Union cemetery.

Work is progressing on the new dwelling the state is putting up at Superintendent Bonney at the fish hatchery. The basement, which is about completed, will be the full size of the house and will have a furnace to heat the entire building. A Portland man, who has the contract for the entire job, will be here in a week or two to start the framework of the house. It is understood that he will, to a certain extent, use local labor in constructing the new home for Mr. Bonney.

OPEN GOLF LINKS
OAKLAND, Calif., Apr. 24.—The new municipal golf course will be opened here July 1. The links will be in charge of Fred X. Fry, who is coming here from Seattle in June.

In San Diego it's

by 220%

On a busy street corner in San Diego, a checker stood and asked the first hundred motorists that passed: "What gasoline do you use, and why?" 52 of them answered "Red Crown," as against 16 for the brand showing the next highest preference—a lead of 220%.

Not only in San Diego, but throughout the Pacific Coast field, Red Crown is the popular gasoline, because it vaporizes completely, burns cleanly, and is uniform always and everywhere.
