Boxing Treat At the Star On Tonight

Bus Bairie, of La Grande, and Young Wright, of Yakima, to Head Classy Card.

La Grande fistiana is expecting its best boxing treat of the entire season tonight in the Star Theatre when Bus Bairie, of La Grande, and Young Wright, of Yakima, Washington, don the leathers in the ten round headliner.

Mike De Pinto, one of the classic lightweights on the coast, who hails from the Rose City, will have six special rounds with Kid Sarp, of La Grande, following the semi-final six round event between James Coker and H. Wright, of La Grande.

Ed Ford is giving the fans a real "mixed" card tonight. Besides the battle royal, with six local boys in the scrap, which will precede the Coker-Wright go-two game rooster, equipped with spur gloves, will contest four one-minute rounds—and who ever saw a cock that didn't know his stuff in the ring?

All in all it looks to be a crackerjack of an evening for ye followers of the leather-pushing game.

A Little About Bus.

Bus Bairie, formerly of Utah, but now the idol of La Grander, will have his best chance to prove his skill with the peaceful weapons tonight. Wright is a tough nut to crack without a doubt and Bus believes that he has the nut-cracker in the form of a punch that will turn the trick.

Bus came to La Grande several months ago and fought his first fight here against Allie Nelson. The fans liked Bus so doggone well, and Bus liked La Grande so, he decided well that he decided to locate here in the railroad center of Eastern Oregon.

Since that time Bus has made his home here and has a following of sportsmen now that is the size of a young army. He has fought Allie Nelson, of Pocatello, Idaho, here twice, getting even honors in the two scraps, he met and defeated Eddie Shannon, champion for the Pacific coast lightweight crown which Danny Nunes wears here, and went to Aberdeen, Washington, and met Ted Krane. Although he lost to Krane he expects a return bout with him and those who witnessed the fight are expecting Bus to slip one over on the Hoquiam Logger when they meet again.

One thing about Bus that brought him instant favor in the eyes of local fans is the fact that he is a through and through gentleman, both in the ring and out. In addition to playing a mean glove, Bus is an all around sportsman. Wednesday he went fishing and came back with three nice finny displays and in between times he is knocking the spots off the squirrels in this district with a .22 that hardly ever misses.

Preparing for Baker Contest

Trapped, battling, fielding and general practice marked the workout of the La Grande Pirates last evening at the fairgrounds. A large number were out working up for the Baker-La Grande game at the Green City's new baseball park Sunday and the team looked fine yesterday. Bud Knight, infielder, was out last night for the first time and showed up well. Manager Crews stated that Mance will be available as pitcher next Monday and is hoping that Tex Knight will be able to join the squad before the Baker game.

Alternative line-up will be announced Saturday for the opening game. The new uniforms, of a green and grayish-white color, are expected to arrive either this evening or tomorrow and the Pirates will be sartorially correct at least, when they tackle the Frogs.

Indications point that a large crowd of La Grande fans will journey to Baker Sunday in witness to their attempt to make the Colts with the name plunk. All in all, it looks as if the first game at Baker will be one of the largest opening games ever held in the Eastern Oregon section.
