Probably one of the most enjoyable and largest attended affairs of the debutantes occurred last evening when about 200 couples of P. T. Powers dancing classes gathered at Rex hall and spent a most pleasant evening from eight o'clock until eleven in dancing. The little folks did remarkably well in dancing the three step, schottish, waltz, fox-trot and other dances, under the able direction of Mr. Powers.

Blending charmingly with the affair, were the decorations, consisting of blue, white and pink crepe paper ribbons twisted about the lights and orchestra stand, and hanging most delicately from ribbons were pink and blue paper roses. Special mention should be made of the attractive dresses of the pastel shades, which the girls wore, which added much to the spirit of the affair. At one end of the hall, a rest room was arranged, in which bouquets of spring flowers, consisting of tulips, daffodils and other blossoms were attractively arranged. Punch was served during the evening.

The balcony and seating capacity on the main floor was filled with the parents of the children. General appreciation of the manner in which Mr. Powers has trained the children in the proper and polite ways of dancing is shared by the parents and children alike. It is believed that he has done a great good for La Grande youngsters in this epic of life, when dancing has become one of the chief amusements.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet, the premier social event of the year among the high school students, will be held this evening in the banquet room of the Domestic Science department of the L. H. S. The Juniors at this time, are hosts to the Seniors, who graduate this year. The banquet in reality being a farewell affair. The Sophomore class are caterers.

To say that the high school is alive with preparations today is only half. Busy hives of Junior and Sophomore girls and boys arrived at the high school early this morning.

Spring blossoms will decorate the banquet room as the Junior and Senior class colors. Blue and white decorations, the high school colors, decorate the gymnasium, where dancing will be in order following the banquet.

What was ostensibly a dinner party for the members of the Methodist church choir Friday evening at the home of the pastor and Mrs. George H. Quigley, blossomed into a happy spring marriage ceremony.

After the guests had assembled and were waiting to be seated at the dinner table, Miss Ruth Quigley, and Mr. Arthur E. Kinman, quietly appeared on the scene and arranged themselves before the greatly surprised guests and immediately listened to the reading of the marriage ceremony by the bride's father. The occasion was a full and complete surprise to the members of the choir who had accepted the dinner invitation without any suspicion of being wedding guests.

After the solemn vow had been taken, and prayer offered by District Superintendent, Ira R. Aldrich, the bridal party was seated at a sumptuous dinner served by the Misses Lietta Leighton and Myrtle Gore. Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Kinman quietly slipped away and left on an auto wedding tour. They will reside at 1427 Washington. The bride and groom have been residents of La Grande for about a year and are both graduates of the local high school. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kinman, who are residing at 1427 Washington, where his relatives reside and Mrs. Kinman coming from Bismarck, North Dakota, with her parents.

Since the first day Miss Quigley reached La Grande, she has been a faithful and accomplished worker in musical circles, especially in the church. Her ability as a piano and organist is of a high nature, coupled with a willingness to assist in church and public affairs at all times.

Mr. Kinman is employed in the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company office and has made many friends since his arrival in La Grande.

Chapter I. P. E. O. was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Emma Kiddle, Friday afternoon, May 4. After the regular business meeting, Mrs. Edith Currey took charge of the program and read a paper on "20th Century Invention." Mrs. Currey had given much thought to the subject, her paper was carefully prepared, and was very instructive.

This being the nearest meeting to Mother's Day, the president, Mrs. Palmer, brought spring blossoms for each member to wear, with loving thoughts of those dear mothers of ours.

Mrs. Wallis read a paper on the Origin of Mother's Day, and how it came to be a National day.

Miss Icie Bryant read a beautiful and appropriate poem.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Kiddle and Mrs. Wade, with Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Hunter presiding at the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Blanchard entertained Wednesday evening at "500" in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Garber, who are visiting here, after two years spent in the Samoan Islands.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Donohue, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reinhold, Miss Georgia Stringham, Emmitt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Chinlund, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. Schwyner, and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Garber.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening, which was very pleasantly spent. Mrs. Garber was formerly Miss Vera Swalberg, and she has many relatives and friends to welcome her back.

At the Christian church parsonage Friday, at high noon, George L. Cota and Miss Ruby Mitchell were married by Mr. O. W. Jimes. The marriage came as a surprise to their many friends in La Grande, who wish their happiness in their wedded life.

Mr. Cota travels for the Sweet Candy company of Portland, and the bride is a professional nurse, having been employed at Enterprise.

The happy couple will make their home in La Grande for the present.

Women of Mooseheart Legion met at the home of Mrs. Laura Crandall in Old Town Thursday afternoon, for the social meeting.

The time was spent at needle work and playing games. Mrs. Hugo Klinghammer and Mrs. Will Crandall assisted as hostesses. At the close of the afternoon a delightful luncheon was served.

Guests present were Mrs. Clara Young, of Minam, Mrs. R. Millenger, and Mrs. Ivy Crandall. Members present were Mrs. J. G. Stuart, Mrs. A. A. Stoop, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs.

D. Brannon, Mrs. E. S. Norris, Mrs. A. V. Fisher, Mrs. J. Lund, Mrs. A. N. Mayville, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. C. S. Shultz and the hostesses.

The Ladies Aid of the First M. E. church had a most delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sherwood Williams on Wednesday.

The affair was given in honor of Mrs. G. H. Quigley who will soon leave for Boise, Idaho.

During the afternoon Mrs. Ira R. Aldrich in her charming manner sang a group of songs, "Violet" and "A Day in June." Mrs. Dunning, another talented singer, sang "Santa Lucia" and "When You and I Were Young Maggie."

During the afternoon a dainty two-course luncheon was served by the committee in charge. About fifty ladies were present.

Mrs. I. A. Howell will be hostess to the Alice ladies, when their Aid Society meets with her on Thursday, May 10.

Mrs. E. M. Murphy and Mrs. W. E. Harshey are to have charge of the afternoon's program which is a study of Missions. Mrs. Murphy will have Home Missions, a subject very near her heart. She always has something new and interesting to offer whenever she presents Home Missions to the Aid.

Mrs. Harshey's topic is China, and will, if it can be arranged in time, give a little play as an illustration to her talk. Mrs. Harshey is a very able speaker, filling one pulpit both morning and evening on the Alice, Imbler and Summerville circuit, so the ladies look forward to having quite a treat in her address on Foreign missions, which always is an interesting subject.

Mrs. Howell will be assisted in receiving guests and serving luncheon by Mrs. E. D. Jasper, Mrs. Ralph Chenault, Mrs. I. E. Chenault and Miss Eva Wright.

The Girls Friendly Society has issued invitations to many of the young people of the city to attend a box social at Honan hall on Wednesday evening, May 9th at 6 o'clock. Boxes will be sold at auction and a guarantee is made that only reasonable prices will prevail. Dancing on Honan hall's new hardwood floor just completed will follow the sale and the young folks are anticipating a good time. The party will be properly chaperoned.

One of the most interesting social affairs of the season, and one to which many La Grande ladies are looking forward to is the event to be given at the beautiful home of Mrs. R. P. Landis Friday of next week.

Mrs. I. M. Hoyt of La Grande, returned from Baker last evening after a short visit in that city with friends.

Miss Leslie Campbell of Baker, but formerly a teacher in the commercial department of the La Grande high school, arrived in La Grande last evening for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Short left last evening for Portland on a short visit with friends.

Mrs. Perry J. Lynch of Portland who has been visiting for the past several days in La Grande, left for her home last night.

Seldom has a more appreciative, responsive and sympathetic audience been assembled than last evening in the library auditorium, when a capacity house greeted the presentation by Miss Florence French of Miss Isabel McArthur in piano recital. Acclaimed as we are to expecting artistic work from Miss McArthur last night's performance exceeded our expectations. Her program was one of wide range.

Miss McArthur was assisted by Mr. George Huntington Curry, a singer already dear to the Baker public. Her group of songs were well chosen and especially fitted to her voice and interpreted so wonderfully that the audience was carried along with her phrase by phrase. Her tone is full, free and singing and her rendition of "The Song of the Soul" by Brill, especially mature and broad in conception. She was well supported by the artistic and sympathetic work of her accompanist, Miss Florence French.

Both Miss McArthur and Mrs. Curry were well remembered by their many admirers, lovely flowers being showered upon them after each group of selections.—Baker Herald.

Fashion Notes

Cape With Sports Frocks
 Paris.—A hip-length shoulder cape finely plaited goes with some of the sports frocks today. Three-piece frocks usually have the cape in a shade matching the skirt. Whether or not the skirt is plaited the cape usually is entirely plaited except for the roll collar.

Lends Harmony
 Paris.—In this Egyptian age of today when so many colors are massed on one costume, an air of harmony may be obtained by having the accessories match some shade in the embroidery. One of Worth's afternoon costumes shown today has hat and shoes matching a brownish orange tone of the silk and bead decoration.

Bustle Revises in England
 London.—Since the Duke of York's bride included in her trousseau a gown with wide-ribbon loops arranged something like a bustle, fashionable England has revived the bustle idea in modified form. Usually the idea is expressed today in a large bow of stiff ribbon with many looped ends.

Ecotlastic Hat
 London.—A number of the hats both large and small today are outlined loosely with tulle, much as Sir Conan Doyle's ecotplasm outlines the body of a medium. A close fitting hat of straw often has a fold of tulle about it which rises as high as the top of the crown and comes down as low as the tip of the nose.

Posing the Veil
 New York.—The embroidered tulle veil with which many hats are trimmed today is sometimes posed at an unusual angle. One veil hangs over the shoulder in graceful folds from the side of a small hat's crown. The upper end of the veil is slashed into long, flowerlike points flat against the crown, and held in place by a ribbon.

Another Use for Hanky
 New York.—Uses for the decorative handkerchief of the bandeau or batik type seem endless today. A tiny handkerchief is knotted around the wrist of a sports blouse sleeve, as well as around the neck. A batik handkerchief is fastened to the wrist by a bracelet. Another, cut into folds, forms the cuffs of a coat sleeve.

On Jaquette Suit.
 New York.—Sometimes the jaquette suit of today has a heavily embroidered motif somewhere on the skirt. This is to prove that, though the skirt be of another material and shade, it nevertheless "belongs."

Matching Bathing Suits
 New York.—Cretone shoes, sun-shades and handbags to match the bathing suit are a clever series of thoughts. The bathing suit for summer, by the way, is frequently of black or dark blue satin with cretonne panels set into it.

DISABLED VETERANS MEET
 (By Associated Press)
 SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 5.—Better cooperation between government agencies and the various veterans' organizations and units representing ex-service men, will be urged at the coming annual state convention of Disabled Veterans of the World War, here May 23-25. Officials of the Disabled American Veterans and the leaders of the United States Veterans' Bureau offices will meet in conference here while the conclave is under way.

BIGGEST PACIFIC CONVENTION
 (By Associated Press)
 SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., May 5.—A total of 250,000 World war are expected here for the fifth annual national convention of the American Legion, October 15-19, according to the local post officials. Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett, general chairman, has started active preparations for the conclave, which, it is said, will be the biggest ever held on the Pacific coast.

NEW CLUB AT SHANGHAI
 SHANGHAI, May 2.—Arrangements have been made to begin early in the summer the building of the new structure that is to house the American Club of Shanghai. This is to be a modern seven-story building on American lines. It will be located near the heart of the business district in Shanghai on Foochow Road, across from the new municipal building.

Empty Eye Sockets Solve Chinese Murder Mystery

SHANGHAI, May 4.—Why two Chinese policemen were murdered under singular circumstances recently in what is called the Kiangwan district, Shanghai, remained a puzzle until, by chance, two days after the crime, it was ascertained that the eyes of both victims had been gouged out. The discovery cleared up the mystery for the Chinese authorities, who recognized an ancient criminal practice.

The two police had been bludgeoned to death at different times in the night and their bodies, one a half mile from the other had been left near the Shanghai-Woosung railway line. They had not been robbed and their carabines were found with the bodies. A foreign inquirer, questioning a Chinese police official about the murders, was answered briefly. "Police see too much," the official said.

Correct this sentence: "I'd like awfully well to have a car," said the wife, "but I think we should finish paying for the house first."

KEEP THE POWER LINE OPERATING

Your nerves are really power lines running from the "brain-ignition" to the various "motors" or organs of the body. Just as a storm plays havoc with an electric power line and cripples the motors, the subluxation of any of the vertebrae of the spine prevents the nerves from properly supplying energy to its particular organ and disease results. Chiropractic and Naturopathy adjust these subluxations and promote health.
