A fire in London which burned up tobacco enough to make 240,000,000 cigarettes is said to have caused a loss of $5,000,000, but if the owners had not lost that much, the cigarette smokers would, so it is all the same.

Lumbago

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."-Adv.

BARTHELMESS HAS POPULAR ROLE IN "BOND BOY"

Richard Barthelmess goes back to the Virginia mountains, the location of his forgotten "To Abbie David," for his most recent First National picture, "The Bond Boy," which will be shown at the Arcade Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

As Joe Newbolt, impoverished son of aristocratic parents, he is forced to bind himself out to Isom Chase to work until he is twenty-one. The humiliating part of it is that Chase is the very owner of the Newbolt farm, having gotten possession of it when Joe's father, a visionary inventor, was forced to relinquish it to his one time hired man.

How Chase is accidentally killed in an unfortunate martial tangle, how Joe is arrested for murder and condemned, how he effects his thrilling escape, solves the mystery and brings about his own freedom and happiness these incidents are dramatically woven into a charming love story in this screen version of George Washington Ogden's fascinating tale.

The production, which was directed by Henry King, is headed as a screen sensation. With Barthelmess appears an imposing cast, including Mary Thurman as leading lady, Charles Hill Mailes as Isom Chase, Virginia Magee as the ingenue, Mary Allen as the star's screen mother, Lawrence D'Orsay, Robert Williamson, Leslie King, Jerry Sinclair, Thomas McGuire and Lucia Backus Seger.

A late Fox News reel is also on the program.

SHERRY'S COMING TOMORROW SEVEN NOTABLE PLAYERS FORM POWERFUL CAST

Seldom in one picture can so many favorite players be found as will appear in "The Marriage Chance," the Hampton Del Ruth production which comes to the Sherry theater today. Alta Allen, Milton Sills, Henry B. Walthall, Tully Marshall, Irene Rich, Mitchell Lewis—all on the same screen! Each one is well known, each is capable of strengthening any cast, and together they create a powerful ensemble.

Miss Allen, tall, slender, girlishly lovely, is making her reappearance after an absence from the screen. She last appeared with Mix Linder in "Seven Years' Hard Luck" and "Be My Wife," and has been waiting for the right role, which, of course, she finds in the new picture.

Milton Sills is too well known to require anything like an introduction but it is always interesting to recall that he was a professor of psychology—a very youthful one, by the way—at the University of Chicago, when he forsook his chair for a stage career. He appeared in more than one noteworthy Belasco play before making his film debut.

Henry B. Walthall, as time goes by, finds himself in the position of a veteran of the screen, if not the veteran. The list of his photoplays is perhaps longer than that of any other actor, for he began in 1909 and has played continuously ever since. Among the discriminating his finest work is thought to be in "The Avenging Conscience," best popular or all the Griffith pictures.

Tully Marshall has been before the public no less than 30 years. Before he appeared before the camera his acting was the talk of Broadway in Clyde Fitch's "The City," "Paid in Full" and many other big plays. He has appeared with success in scores of important photoplays; while Irene Rich, leading lady for Will Rogers in six productions, finds herself in great demand where characters of womanly appeal and gentle breeding are required. Mitchell Lewis, star of several productions, excels in the portrayal of primitive types. He has the role of a mite in the new picture.

Comedy, "Faint Hearts."

TAKE FAMILY TO SEE THIS AT ALL COSTS

Last night we saw a picture which thrilled, delighted and entertained as much as anything has in years. It is unique in every sense of the word. It is Universal's "Hunting Big Game in Africa," at the Star theater, and it is absolutely fascinating from the opening shots of over a million pictures diving into the ocean, as a whale hunters shooting harpoons into huge whales, to the close-up of a great African elephant charging into the camera, which makes you want to get up out of your seat and hunt for a tree.

By all means see this picture and take the children. For if you don't they'll never forgive you if they ever find out about this show. There is action in every foot of the picture. A wealth of material has enabled Mr. Snow to be more than generous, and when you are not marvelling at the astonishing animal shots you sit entranced by the picture. A wealth of material out of Africa.

There is comedy; the antics of a herd of giraffes provide a hearty laugh, human interest; the native trackers at work, drama; buzzards feasting on stricken oxen, charging rhinoceros, sinking lions, a deadly
