They were met here by several cars from Imbler that took them through to their destination where they were scheduled to play this afternoon.

"This is God's Country"
 Such are the words of praise given by H. J. Martin of Portland, after arriving in La Grande yesterday afternoon from Pendleton, via auto. "This city, from Pendleton to La Grande is unequalled for beauty, with the exception of the few miles of bad roads that are now under construction." According to Mr. Martin, Pendleton has not been saying much of the Round-up and are turning their attention to the Old Oregon Trail pageant that is to be held at the Top O' Blue Hill.

Rain Partly Stops Traffic Over Hill
 The rain we have been having for the past week has partly stopped the traffic over the hill between Pendleton and La Grande," said Robert Hines, of Pendleton, last night while waiting to catch the train for John Day City where he will spend several days on business. Mr. Hippy said there were six cars stalled in the bad stretch of road and that he considered himself lucky to have made it through.

Roads Hard to Travel

RESPECT FLAG MEMORIAL DAY

Proper Treatment of Stars and Stripes Explained; Display at Half Mast On Memorial Morning.

The Flag should be raised at sunrise and lowered at sunset. It may be raised at other times but should never be left overnight, except when it is under the fire of an enemy. On Memorial Day the Flag should be displayed at half-mast from sunrise until noon, and at the peak from noon until sunset.

In raising the Flag to half-mast or half-staff, it should always be run to the peak and then lowered one breadth of the flag. In retiring, it should first be run back to the peak, then retired. It should never be allowed to touch the ground. When the Star Spangled Banner is played or sung, remain standing at attention in silence until it is finished. When the Flag is passing on parade or in review, if you are walking, halt; if sitting, rise, stand at attention, and uncover. The Flag should never be worn as the whole or part of a costume. As a badge it should be worn over the left breast. In decorating, the Flag should never be stooped or draped. Always hung flat. If hung so stripes are horizontal, the Union should be in the left upper corner. If hung perpendicularly, the Union should be in the right upper corner.

When the National Flag and another flag fly from the same pole, there should be double halyards, one for each flag. The Flag should never be placed below any flag. It should never be used in such a way that it might become soiled. When carried in parade or at when crossed with other flags, the Stars and Stripes should always be at the right, the place of honor.

When the Flag is used in unveiling a statue or monument, it should never be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony. When the Flag is placed over a bier or casket the blue field should be at the head. If used as an altar covering the Union should be to the right as you face the altar, and nothing should be placed on the Flag except the Holy Bible. The Flag should never be reversed except in case of distress at sea.

REVIVAL MEETS ON THIRD WEEK

A goodly Monday night audience greeted Mr. Gilstrap in the opening of the third week of the revival meeting at the Christian Church last evening. The evangelist's sermon was upon the query of the apostle Peter to the Christ, as he asked, if we leave them, "To whom shall we go?" Developing the sermon, the speaker declared we follow persons not doctrines, declaring that among all the religious movements of the world that there is not one that has not had inspired in its very heart a personality. Buddha, Mohammed, commission for permission to reduce books are illustrations of this truth. "Don't ask what the world believes, for the average person has not thought of what he does believe; ask whom the world believes and follows." "The wife who goes astray does not follow some thing off, but she follows some one into sin, and a home is wrecked." "The member of the family of God who becomes careless and spends his time at the card table and drinking at the fountain of social froth has allowed evil personality to cut in between him and Christ. I am not opposed to society, unless it is society opposed to Christ, but remember that all society has as its center, personality." "The one who has allowed an evil personality to estrange him from the saving program of God is generally first to criticize a revival meeting calculated to save souls from sin." "That is the only one who can raise us above disappointment. Disappointment will come to all. If you can't stand it you had as well dig a hole, jump in and pull in the rim." "Christ can lift us above worry. There are two kinds of worry. First, worry about things over which we have control, and second, worry about things over which we have no control. How foolish to worry about a thing which you can control—and out and control it, and again how foolish to worry about something you cannot help—forget it!" In closing, Mr. Gilstrap announced he would skin the "Campbellites" in the sermon tonight.

REV. MCKINLEY TO SPEAK AT WALLAWA LAKE CAMP MEET

WALLOWA, May 29.—The Rev. Thompson W. McKinley, D. D., of Philadelphia, who gave up the pastorate of a great church of more than a thousand members and a salary of $5,000 to become an Area Evangelist, has been engaged by the Methodist Camp Ground Association of Eastern Oregon for their annual camp meeting which is to open at Wallawa Lake June 3rd. He will be assisted by Prof. Thos. E. Isaacs and Mrs. Rhoda Kennison, the musical evangelists whose splendid ability is well known throughout this section.

The Camp Ground Association is building a dining hall, kitchen and commissary and have engaged a large chautauqua tent for the occasion. The new camp ground of 110 acres is rapidly being whipped into shape for the convenience of the campers and about double the usual number are expected to attend this year. The improvement of the highways will bring people from a much wider territory than heretofore. Twenty-eight lots have been sold upon the grounds and a number of cottages will be built this summer. The public is cordially invited to attend. The work will be sustained by freewill offerings.

There will be plenty of free camping space, free fuel and pure running ice cold water at three points on the ground. If you wish to make reservations for tents, cots or meals either for a short or long period write Henry Young, Mgr., Joseph, Oregon. The meeting will run until June 24th and will be followed immediately by the Epworth League Institute.
