ALL ARE INVITED:—Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths.—Isaiah 2:3

The Stock Show

And it grew to proportion never dreamed of; it became the big event of Eastern Oregon because it had merit, because it was well managed, because it is situated in a county that is the best breeding county of the western country.

That briefly tells the story of progress of the Union Stock Show which is now in progress at Union. People do not drive for a hundred miles just to be driving. They do not leave their homes and their business for the sake of losing a day. There is a magnet, and a pretty strong one these days, to get men and women to congregate in one spot for the entire day—that magnet is the stock show.

The best of the west is here exhibited. The industry that caused the pioneer to ramble across the plains, the same industry that will ever be one of the foremost of the nation is on exhibition.

With such a magnet to attract there is added the social side of the event which is no small side. People look forward to meeting friends once a year at the stock show. They look forward to the vacation period when they can go to Union and while witnessing the splendid exhibition, also visit with old friends. And the city of Union does her part nobly every year.

Coming Of The President

Oregon is to be honored with a visit from President Harding. Eastern Oregon is to be so honored. On July 3rd from 9 in the morning until 9 in the evening, the chief executive of this nation will visit with the people of the northwest who congregate on top of the Blue mountains to attend the Old Oregon Trail Pageant.

This is an exceptional pleasure and privilege. Remember the U. S. A. is a big country and Warren G. Harding is just one man. Think of what it means to actually have the president of this great nation spend a day with us on top of the mountain.

It's great! It's glorious!
Eastern Oregon is going to show her ability to entertain a president—the first time in her history. It will be a good entertainment, and the president will enjoy himself.

Let every citizen become a committee of one to help in this great celebration. In order to make the event worthy of the president's attendance it must be a big event. The program as outlined is truly wonderful, but let's embellish it a little, let's put an extra curl in the old stage driver's mustache and do a lot of little things which will please the chief executive.

Oregon will greet the president in a way he shall remember. And it will be done on top of the old historic mountains.

Junking The Constitution

The mid-western group of newspapers which has set out to junk the constitution of the United States by the adoption of a constitutional amendment giving congress the power by a two-thirds vote to overrule the supreme court doubtless will achieve no little publicity for the syndicate which fathers it, but it cannot hope for success.

In effect such an amendment would give power to any congress at any time without previous warning of its intention to scrap the whole United States government and give this nation something entirely different.

With the proposed amendment in force congress might pass a law to abolish the constitution and by a two-thirds vote overrule the supreme court's decision against the legality of such an act.

In short, the country would be forever at the mercy of a two-thirds vote of any congress, the supreme court would become the mere plaything of politics, and the will of the country would be likely to be overruled by some election freak that would result in a congress not representative of public opinion.

The end of free, popular government in America would be in sight the moment such a fool amendment were made to the constitution of the United States.

OREGON ELKS TO CELEBRATE

Heading one of the best fighting cards ever lined up in The Dalles, two clean boys, Frankie Grandetta of Spokane and Abie Gordon of Portland will wipe the question off the slate. In Portland recently three boys met in one of the most hotly contested battles ever witnessed by Portland fans. The result of this fight was that Grandetta won the decision with just a shade to favor. Gordon, acknowledged one of the most formidable light feather weight fight artists on the coast, has the confidential backing of his followers that he is as good in the ring as his shifty opponent, Veteran Pete Mitchell, who has weathered many a storm of blows will meet "Mysterious" Billie Smith, Jr. of Portland in six cantos. Other rising talent is being lined up to fill out the card.

Big Parade.
The mammoth Elks' parade, stretching over a mile in length, with bands and floats and Elks in attractive regalia, will march through the streets of the city Saturday evening before the opening of the fireworks display. The 19 different Elks' lodges in the state will be represented in this parade, probably the longest ever seen in The Dalles. Floats, bands, fire and drum corps and comedy features will be included in the great march of the Elks.

Good Music.
At least five well known state bands will produce music during the three hilarious convention days. The famous Elks' band of Portland, with over 50 pieces, will be on the job to scatter over the city. The McMinville band, known over the state for its organization and harmony will not be in the background when the music begins.
The ladies will not be overlooked. Golf parties at the country club, motor trips over the beautiful avenue leading out of The Dalles and a dozen varieties of enjoyment have been provided for Mrs. Bill, when she loses her husband in the riot and shuffle of things.
Ritualistic work and business sessions of the different lodges will be held in the local Elks' temple.
The housing problem is being handled by competent men, who have stated that at least 4000 visitors can be conveniently accommodated.
There were 7,285 divorces in Chicago in 1922, and our guess is that not one of the women concerned could make good lemon pie.

Fact was, he was the worm.

NEAR EAST PARLEY IS AT STANDSTILL

(By Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, June 7.—The Near East conference is again in troubled waters, with each side waiting for the other to give way on unsettled problems, and no immediate solution is in sight. The conference is virtually at a standstill, each delegation waiting for instructions from its home government.

Temet Pasha summoned a Turkish correspondent Tuesday night and informed him that the Turkish delegation had said its last word on concessions and that the Ottoman debt and peace depended on the reply of the allies.

Temet said he promised the Angora government not to sign a treaty which would annihilate Turkish resources, and unless the allies made some arrangement whereby Turkey would not be obliged to pay the interest on the debt in settling, the treaty would be crippled. As for foreign concessions, Temet was convinced that negotiations on these would be successfully terminated by Angora.
