One of the most delightful informal receptions that has been given for some time in the city occurred Friday evening when about 100 guests gathered at Honan hall to bid welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Sydney Creasy and daughter Margaret. Rev. Mr. Creasy is the new rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal church of La Grande.

The hall was made very attractive by decorations of flowers consisting of peonies, daisies, and many other varieties.

During the evening, G. L. Dutton rendered two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Dutton at the piano. George Birnie gave two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Birnie at the piano, and short talks were given by Rev. A. R. Sisson of the Baptist church, Rev. Moss of the Presbyterian church, Rev. V. S. Creasy and Archdeacon M. McLean Goldie. The Senior Warden of Baker also gave a short talk. The Senior Warden of the La Grande church, R. A. Pratt, presided.

In the reception line was the president of the guild, Mrs. Bert Carr, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Zurbick, E. Marx, Mrs. W. B. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Holmes, and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Creasy and daughter Margaret. Mrs. L. H. Russell and Mrs. J. D. Slater cut leas.

The 20th birthday anniversary of Miss Ethel Burbridge was the inspiration for a most pleasant birthday dinner at the Country club Friday evening.

The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations.

The guests were, besides the hostess, Miss Ethel Burbridge, Norma Mayger, Ione Zabel, Meryl George, Lucille Craig, Marion Howell, Wilma Neiderer and Carrie Burbridge.

The evening was spent in playing cards and in a social way.

Miss Florence Howell was honor guest at another delightful function when last evening Miss Maud Langrell and Mrs. Bessie Trebbie entertained with cards at the Langrell home on 5th street. A delicious two-course luncheon was served, the centerpiece being a lovely hat box which was given to Miss Howell in anticipation of her departure tonight for her home near La Grande. On opening the creation, it was found to be filled with beautiful towels, gifts from her friends. Miss Howell was wedded today at high noon to Fred Weis, the happy couple to take their departure by auto for a honeymoon trip to Crater Lake and other points, expecting to be gone about six weeks.—Baker Herald.

C. H. Catching, who has been doing the decorating for the past few months in N. K. West's and who had the contract for all the decorating in the New Summer hotel, entertained all the clerks of N. K. West & Co. Monday night at a banquet in the dining room at the hotel. It was also Mr. Catching's birthday.

About 25 guests were present and they were seated at one long table which was decorated with coral, sweet peas. A five course dinner was served and Olson's orchestra played during the evening.

Gray or Beige Shoes London.—The light tinted afternoon frocks of today has as accessories the gray or beige shoes with very high Cuban heels. These shoes have a highly cutout and decorated front with a fancy buckle at one side.

Blond Silk Crepe for Bride London.—The unique going-away dress of a bride recently married here was of blond silk crepe. Embroidered slantwise across the fairly low waistline was a heavy cluster—almost a basketful—of flowers. These blossoms, of several kinds and colors, were embroidered in chenille.

Pleated Blouse, If You Like. New York.—The pleated skirt may be supplemented today if the style suits you, with a pleated blouse. Of crepe de chine in white or sand, the blouse is a triumph of pleating except for the plain and wide neck band and outside giraffe.

Posies on Bathing Caps. New York.—It was not to be expected, in a season when flower-trimmed hats are so well liked, that the bathing cap would escape the posy decorations. One bathing cap shown here today is a perfect mound of rubber daisies, white, yellow and pink.

Pleated Gingham Shade.
New York.—A charming effect is given the summer porch or boudoir, or even the living room, by a pleated gingham shade on the lamp. In a firm check, and in blue, pink, green, red or yellow, these shades have a seasonable, airy appearance in addition to softening the light.

Rock Sable and Ermine.
New York.—Rock sable and ermine, among the summer furs, are fashionable today for the collars of wraps. There is an especially beautiful wrap in a gleaming silk tulle in shades of soft brown, gray and tan, which is beautifully set off by a collar of ermine or rock sable.

Carefully Selected Oil Means More Car Power

When your motor gets wheezy or starts to knock, and seems to have lost its old pep and newness, it is time to think about using a different motor oil.

Possibly it has never occurred to you that different motor oil might give your motor more power. Most of us think of power as a matter of engine design and fuel. Yet it's a fact that oil has a great deal to do with power. Lubrication experts say that almost any motor is well enough designed to handle ordinary bills, provided that motor has not been abused by improper lubrication.

Just how motor oil influences motor power is very simple. An important function of lubricating oil is to fill up the space between the cylinder wall and the piston rings. If this seal is perfect, there can be no loss of compression. No power escapes past the rings.

A proper piston seal is also important to prevent raw gasoline getting into the crankcase and diluting the oil. Oil dilution is dangerous. Too much dilution seriously affects the oil's lubricating qualities and serious damage, such as burned out bearings, scored cylinders, and so on, may result. Too great dilution is usually noticeable through your oil pressure gauge.

The great value of a wholly distilled oil is that it makes it possible to use a heavier oil than you otherwise could use. It minimizes the danger of oil dilution because it can stand more dilution. It keeps a better seal, therefore, between the cylinder wall and piston ring; and a more lasting seal because a wholly distilled lubricant does not break down as quickly as a compounded oil.

An interesting experience which illustrates this point is that of a driver of a two-year-old Buick car. The car lacked pep and wouldn't climb even small hills. The dealer from whom he bought the car told the owner that he needed new rings and named a price for putting the motor in shape. A second repair man said that new pistons and rings were needed and named a higher price. A third man said that the cylinders were undoubtedly in bad shape, that new pistons and rings were needed and named a still higher price. He then consulted a fourth man, who happened to deal in a straight-run, wholly distilled motor oil. The crankcase was drained and refilled with new oil and the car not only gave no further trouble, but the oil had restored all its original pep and smoothness.

Study lubrication. Appreciate the fact that proper lubrication is the very life of your motor; that the character of the oil you use makes or breaks that motor; and that good oil will not only increase power, but save you a lot of money in gas consumption and repair bills. If your motor is perfectly lubricated it will run forever. Moral: Get the best oil you can.

Clay Did This

A white, refined super-clay By Edna Wallace Hopper

My complexion is the envy of countless young girls, and the marvel of millions of women.

For I, remember, have been 22 years a stage star, and this still, mine is a grandmother's age. Yet my skin is just as soft and rosy as at sixteen, and glowing, as 40 years ago.

Seven of my friends, on the stage and in society, have obtained the same white in my clay. So I know that most women can do it, and I am glad to help them if they wish.

A new-type clay You read much now about complexion clays. But these new are made and made, like I, still years ago.

A French beauty expert first told me about clays. Then few women used them, so some of those women became the envy of millions of women. Now complexion women use them. Clay is recognized as a prime essential of beauty at its best. Women who omit clay cannot hope to compare with women who employ it.

My exceptional results came from a new-type clay, perfected by 20 years of scientific study. It is white, refined and dainty. And this expert has found ways to give it manifold effects.

Where it excels It is found that only rare clays—contain mineral laden clays—contain

Constant Vigilance the Price of Quality

To the man on the street, cement may seem nothing more than an uninteresting gray powder which is used in construction work. But to the chemist—the trained scientist who knows—it has a pedigree. To him cement is a carefully compounded product, the result of a long series of chemical and mechanical operations, checked by the unremitting watchfulness of modern laboratory skill.

At every stage in its manufacture from quarry to loaded box car, portland cement and the materials from which it is made are subjected to the most exacting scientific tests.

The geologist and the chemist must make their examinations and approve the available raw materials even before the site for a mill is chosen.

Once the mill's machinery is busily making cement, chemists and physicists test raw materials and finished product at least eleven times.

The plant laboratory operates 24 hours a day to maintain constant control on every process. Finally, each carload is sampled before the railroad hauls it away. Cement is a quality product.
