They came over to see the work Mr. Cullen has completed at the mine in the past few months, and were enthusiastic over the showing that has resulted from the work. In the bottom of the shaft they report the showing is exceptionally fine. Mr. Cullen has recently completed the sinking of 100 feet of shaft, and at another point 25 feet on the same claim. HEALTH DRIVE URGED BY MANY

Physicians Asked to Lead a Move for a Health Campaign in America.

(By Associated Press)
 SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The demand for individual and community health protection is overwhelming, Dr. Walter M. Diekle of Sacramento, told the child specialists and other experts on preventive medicine at their sessions with the American Medical Association here today. "Its development has followed a natural course, receiving its inception in the war draft and in the health protection afforded our men while under arms," he said. "Public opinion is strongly entrenched behind the movement and scientific medicine must take the leadership in fulfilling the demand."

Dr. Henry Boswell, of Sanatorium, Mississippi, told how the medical profession could co-operate with non-medical agencies in the prevention and control of tuberculosis. In continuing the discussion Dr. John M. Dodson, secretary of the council on Health and Public Instruction of the American Medical Association, said that the successful plan must seek the best interests of the public. He pointed out that public health work is without the co-operation of the general practitioner and urged family physicians to give more attention to preventative medicine.

The child specialists and experts considered methods of lowering the mortality of infants in this country. Special emphasis was laid by Arthur B. Spalding, of San Francisco, on the relation of venereal disease and other infections of the mother to deaths in infancy. It was pointed out that proper care of the mother before the child is born will prevent many of these deaths.

Dr. John A. Foote, of Washington, D. C., stated his belief that statistics give only an approximate idea of the influenza, birth injuries and hemorrhagic diseases have on infant death, and urged more careful examination of the bodies of infants dying from such causes in order to determine methods of prevention. Only with a knowledge of the cause can prevention be scientifically applied, he said.

REARRIAGES ARE NUMEROUS

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—According to records in the county auditor's office here of 2250 records of marriages in the past year, 976, or nearly half, were of brides who had previously been married, many of them not once but many times. The divorcees number 640, while 336 had lost their husbands from natural causes.

The husbands were not far behind in the number of divorcees, for 617 admitted they had parted from former wives. Two hundred and sixty-three were widowers.

The average number of "repeaters" among the brides apparently is increasing, for until this year the number was about one-third of all those seeking licenses. Now it is not far from half.

The number of girl divorcees also was noticeable, many of the "repeaters" being under the age of 21. At least two were only 17 when they sought second marriage licenses.

A number of women admitted having gone to the altar three and some even four times.

One man had acquired five wives, lost them all in various ways, which did not include death, and at the age of 61 led a sixth bride to the altar.

STREET BECOMES DOG MARKET—BERLIN, June 29.—Unter den Linden has become one of the world's greatest dog markets. Enterprising ex-soldiers and other Germans who have police dogs to offer, go to the heart of the tourist section of the city and parade their wares before the hotel and other centers thronged by foreigners whose money stands high in relation to the declining mark.

While all the great police dogs of the wolf strain are muzzled and held on leash according to the municipal regulations, it does not prevent them from trying to fight. A police dog can fight more with a muzzle on than most other dogs can without one.

Several blind soldiers who patrol Unter den Linden seeking alms are frequently attacked by strange dogs that are no respecters of disability and policemen have difficulty in protecting the blind men when they are drawn into such scrambles.

AIRPLANES RUSH NEWSPAPERS—LONDON, June 29.—London and Paris newspaper publishers have set American newspapers a good example by transporting thousands of tons of newspapers by aeroplanes between the two capitals. It is now possible for Americans or others to purchase copies of their favorite English journals in the streets of Paris soon after breakfast, while Parisians and Americans in London enjoy similar advantages in regard to their favorite French publications.

AUTO PARK ATTRACTS—TUCSON, Ariz., June 28.—Since the establishment of Tucson's auto camp park, two years ago, an average of twenty-one motorists per day have camped here, while a tabulation of all registrations indicate that 14,537 tourists spent one day at the park, according to a report just issued by the chamber of commerce. The total number of cars stopping at the park reached 4,718. Of these, 475 came from points within the state, while the remaining 4,243 were from outside Arizona. Car-days spent at the camp totaled 6,142.

TREATED HIM ROUGH BUT WITH PENDELTON SPIRIT HE LIKED IT

When Mr. and Mrs. Dan Burroughs of Pendleton came over to visit Mayor Merton Kiddle and family of Island City a couple of days ago Mr. Burroughs' mind was filled with special and business ideas, his dress was of a modern gentleman calling on a friend, and it was evident that he did not anticipate a "roughing up." But he got it. When he showed on the streets of La Grande wearing a white collar the big doings started. Marshal Runyan, he of Tonopah and Gold fame, spotted the Pendleton man and called his band of hand-boiled policemen together. The rush was made. Burroughs put up a good fight but he was overpowered. When arraigned before Police Judge Birnie he was sentenced to "carry the banner" which he did like a good sport, even though his clothes were tattered, his collar was gone and instead of appearing as a man of social intent he looked more like an amateur cowboy who had tried to ride Long Tom and failed.

Pat Longman, of Pendleton, was another "choice morsel" for the kangaroo court. He was given the first degree only and turned loose with the promise that he had two more degrees coming at an early date. While Pat had a big paying contract cooking that needed his attention, he beat it for the "tall and neat" and no one has seen him since.

PENDELTON STORES TO CLOSE JULY 3-4

PENDELTON, June 29.—In Pendleton practically all businesses, except those that will have to be open for the accommodation of the public's needs, will be closed for both days of the Old Oregon Trail pageant. Restaurants and service stations will be open, and the East Oregonian will issue both days, but prospects are that the streets of the city will be mighty quiet and deserted when the voice from the mountains call.

McKenzie Road Closed—EUGENE, Ore., June 29.—Owing to construction work going on, the upper McKenzie river highway above the Belknap Springs turnoff, is closed to traffic until further notice, according to word sent to Eugene by the government engineers in charge. No detours can be provided on this route and as operations take up the full width on the roadway it would be impracticable to allow traffic on the road at this time.

The snow still blocks the highway at the summit and as a result there is but little traffic on the upper road. As soon as the pass is open traffic will be allowed on the upper stretches, it was announced.

Spokane Preparing—SPOKANE, Wash., June 29.—President Harding and his party will be greeted here by "Miss Spokane" (Mrs. Walter Shiel), and "Princess Columbia" (Miss Elizabeth Thompson), when they arrive in Spokane July 2. The official greeting has been arranged by a general committee to represent the Inland Empire.

CONSUMER GROWER MUST CO-OPERATE

 es, one at Butte and the other at Helena. Declaring that the need of the present is to shorten the bridge between producer and consumer, President Harding in his address here greeted here by "Miss Spokane" (Mrs. Walter Shiel), and "Princess Columbia" (Miss Elizabeth Thompson), when they arrive in Spokane July 2. The official greeting has been arranged by a general committee to represent the Inland Empire.

Public to Protect Itself—"I believe the suggestion is worthy of careful examination and consideration," the president asserted. "I am convinced that its discussion will be fruitful of good results and a reminder to some who are disposed to take unreasonable tolls from both the consuming and the producing public, that this public has the right, the power and the ability to devise means to protect itself."

The president further said that as a result of studies and investigations he hoped to be able to "recommend for the consideration of the congress, measures which shall represent a beginning along this line."

"One of the most engrossing problems of our time, confronting all countries and all societies, is the exorbitant cost of living," the president said. "We realize that the real producer, under our elaborate and costly system of distribution, is not permitted a fair share of his product for his own use and enjoyment. We have been convinced that somehow our system of distribution has grown too cumbersome, too costly, too complex, too indirect, too unrelated to the interests of the real producer and legitimate consumer. We must find methods to take up as much as possible of the slack in the long line between producer and consumer; to give the producer a better share in that which he furnishes to the community, and to enable the consumer to meet his requirements at reasonable cost.

West Leader in Co-Operation. "To this end many experiments have been made in co-operative production, transportation, distribution and purchasing. To a great extent these experiments have succeeded from the enterprise and initiative of the western people, to whom these problems have presented themselves with especial insistence. But for the spirit of co-operation, the willingness to be mutually helpful, the determination to give first place to the interest of the community, you could not have made your west what it is. Working co-operation on a great scale, practical in operation and adequate to cope with our problems, can never be possible except where there is this spirit, determination and purpose. It is because the west has led so far in devising such workable programs that I have thought to say a few words along this line today."

Wife Steps Out Too Much—SALEM, June 28. (AP)—Using her husband's car to take her affinity out riding and frequently staying out over night is charged to Marie Jones in a divorce complaint filed in the circuit court here today by Edwin Jones, who asks for the custody of their two minor children.
