LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But leaving at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

In Summer hot, when sidewalks steam, and our desire is more ice cream, and comes the coal man, beastly brute, with truck and shovel COAL and chute, and wakes us from our blessed dream of lemonade and more ICE cream; our passions rise, our one desire, to chuck that COAL man in the fire. But lo! when comes December's sleet and our desire is much more heat, and comes old Jack Frost, heartless, bold, with blizzard, snow storms, bleak and cold, assails in vain our home, complete with every comfort comes with heat; our ego swells—We are immune, WE FILLED OUR COAL BIN UP IN JUNE.

There's nothing like a long, invigorating walk to make a person feel good—but there's no use trying to walk in shoes that hurt your feet. Nor should you try to walk in shoes that are not made for walking.

In the first place, it's injurious to feet and health. And you cannot expect shoes that are made for dress wear to stand the hard use that walking shoes get. For both health's and economy's sake, you should have a good strong pair of oxfords, fitted so that they are absolutely comfortable. Then 'twill be a pleasure to "walk and be healthy."
