LOVE AND MOON HAVE SO MUCH IN COMMON

What are the glimpses of the moon, moments in life? In Edith Wharton's novel, "The Glimpses of the Moon," pictured for Paramount by Allan Dwan, and which comes to the Arcade Theatre for three days, beginning today, they are the moments when love first blossoms to find fulfillment, moments that bind lives together safe against temptation.

But there are other "glimpses of the moon" moments, according to Hebe Daniels, who plays the role of Susan Branch, the heroine of the picture.

"Every time you do a charitable act; every time you accomplish something worth while; every time your thoughts are tempered with magnanimity toward your fellows, you experience what I believe to be 'glimpses of the moon moments,'" explained Miss Daniels. "They are the moments when you feel the ecstasy of a full life and reach mental, spiritual and physical heights that lift you above the materialism of every day living."

"There is something about the moon when it shines in all its glory that brings a peaceful calm to those who look on from the earth below. It is this same calm that comes to lovers in perfect accord and of which Mrs. Wharton wrote that explains the meaning of the title of her novel, 'The Glimpses of the Moon.' We all seek such moments in our lives, and some find more of them than others."

Biliousness and Constipation.

"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Tea-time is Sandwich time

Tea and light sandwiches make a pleasant bracer to tide you over until the evening meal is served. Chat goes so well over the tea-cups that everywhere tea-time has come to be the most popular hour for informal friendly hospitality.

Make your tea sandwiches dainty both in size and kind, without crusts. Fillings should be smooth and delicate, preferably of lettuce and mayonnaise, watercress, chopped olives, minced chicken or turkey. Here is something new that will appeal:

Savory Sandwiches: Blanch almonds, and brown one-half cup in cooking oil placed in a skillet. Chop fine. Season with salt and paprika and add two tablespoons of chopped pickles and one tablespoon chopped chutney. Cream one large egg, mellow and spread on thin slices of bread. Sprinkle with the almond mixture and press top slice of bread into place. Cut in triangle shapes.

The tastiest sandwiches are made with Superfine Milk Bread. It is a delicious eat-y loaf, rich in the flavor and nutrition that satisfies. Ask your grocer.
