THE OPEN COURT

Editor, La Grande Observer: While the subject of stage drivers is in the air, I should like to pay a tribute to that rapidly disappearing class of men. I was born in Western Oregon in 1857 and came with my father's family to La Grande in 1875. I have traveled hundreds, perhaps several thousand, miles by stage. During my boarding school days as a young girl, I often traveled alone, sometimes the only passenger, and always received the most respectful consideration. In fact, I feel quite sure that a young woman traveling alone in those days was less likely to meet with any annoying experiences than in those days of luxurious Pullmans and Observation cars.

While we could not be so unappreciative as to regret the improved means of travel, yet we must admit that traveling by stage coaches had some compensations. When you took your seat by the driver and were buttoned into "the box" and at the crack of the whip these six spirited horses spring into action and you sped up over the mountains, down into the valleys, on through the fragrant forests, your face glowed and tingled with the fresh air and you felt an exhilaration that you will never find in the stifling atmosphere of your draped Pullman. Yes, truly, stageing had a fascination of its own. The men who drove the stages were a class unto themselves. They have no successors. Their type died with them, and I, for one, mourn their departure.—Harriet R. Macdonald.

Asks A Delicate Question

To the Editor: Are young men losing respect for womanhood? I am writing this article in the hope that it will serve as a mirror to those afflicted with this so-called love disease or whatever it might be called.

I consider myself a respectable young woman and like to have fun and a good time of the right kind. In this old world of ours, amid worry and strife, a jolly good time, where one can laugh and enjoy life, is a necessity and not a luxury. I thoroughly enjoy good company as most of us do, and it is really a treat nowadays to meet a good man. But why is it, that so many of these apparently fine men—men that seem above reproach and are admired for it in public life—will, when alone with a girl, take advantage of the situation and harass her with violent hugs and indulge in such other conduct as will make a girl lose respect and wish she had never met him, and at once shrinks him to littleness in her estimation?

DISGUSTED.

ANGELS SHOULD BE IN HEAVEN

To the Editor of The Observer: As a reader of your paper and especially the Open Court, would like to voice my ideas, and those of others, regarding such articles as opposition to carnivals or to Sunday dancing and other crowd-hanging articles as appear. If these people cannot see the bright side of anything, they will get no credit for outliving the shady side.

If you cannot smile, weep to yourself. Everybody wishes to be good, thrifty and honest, if you'll give them a chance.

They also want to live and enjoy themselves. That's what this world is for. We cannot be angels, as their place is in heaven. If you want to be an angel, that's the place for you. There is no drinking, no Sunday dances, no flappers, no spooning, no gambling, no living, and that's the place for anybody who is an angel. L. G. K.

Buy Guard to Protect Forests

OTTAWA, Ont., July 6. (AP)—One hundred and forty thousand Canadian school boys have been banded into an army of guards to watch for and prevent forest fires in the Dominion this year, according to an announcement made by the Canadian Forestry Association.

The new organization, which is known as the Young Canadians Forest League will, it is expected, save several million dollars worth of timber from fire ravages.

Egypt Needs New Building

CAIRO, July 6. (AP)—The Egyptian Ministry of Finance has asked for a special credit amounting to about $175,000 for the purpose of erecting an annex to the Cairo Museum, the building of which has been rendered necessary by the discovery of King Tutankhamen's tomb.

The work is expected to be commenced without delay, though the exhibition of the objects discovered will not be possible for some time after the careful and expert treatment they will require.

My Baby Skin

Soft and rosy as 40 years ago. Due to a new-type clay
By Edna Wallace Hopper

Almost any girl one-fourth my age might envy my complexion. In color, its softness and its bloom. Yet I have been a star in my own beauty for more than 20 years.

Today I am famous the country over for the beauty I retain. I look like a girl of 15.

I owe this to my mother, she taught me to foster and preserve my beauty. Together we traveled half the world over to find the best ways known to do it. Those beauty helps out 20 years of searching and a fortune, but they made me what I am. Now, in abject gratitude, I am adding others to get them, and at modest cost. I hope in this way to bring to millions what they brought to me and mine.

White Youth Clay

I owe my complexion, above all, to a clay I found in France. They said there a novelty, used by famous beauties only. It was a clay that made them famous.

Now countless women are using clay. Clay has become a recognized essential to beauty at its best. Also to continued youth. The results are relative to women who care for their looks.

But many are using crude and muddy clays, such as I quit years ago. Thanks to science I have today something ten times better.

Now a super-clay

The clay I use—my White Youth Clay is fairness to yourself.
