Louisiana Judge Deplores 'Testimony' of Bloodhound

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—"Bloodhound testimony" savors of superstition, according to Charles A. O'Neill, Chief Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court dissolving from a majority opinion upholding a conviction for murder, and is as barbarous as witchcraft itself. The court affirmed the conviction of Mitchell Davis, of Franklin parish, found guilty because it was testified a dog followed a trail from the scene of the murder and brought up at Davis' home a quarter mile away, but the dissenting opinion of the Chief Justice has won for the defendant a rehearing of his petition for a new trial. Davis was sentenced to life imprisonment.

"The ruling that such evidence is admissible is contrary to the weight of authority and is violative of the fundamental right of an accused person to be faced by and to cross examine the witness against him," said the Chief Justice. "In a sense, of course, it may be said that the bloodhound does not testify, that his conduct is the subject of the testimony merely, and that the circumstance showing guilt of the person trailed by the hound. But this statement, that the bloodhound does not testify, is only skin deep. The bloodhound, in such case, is a supposed expert witness, who cannot give any reason for his expert opinion of the guilt of the person who he trails.

To admit such testimony is the same as to say that testimony of lookers-on would be admissible to prove that a human being with an abnormal sense of smell trailed the person on trial and pointed him out as the guilty party even if the human being could not give any reason for his expert opinion. The administration of justice is a practical affair.

"Some men put more credence in weird, uncanny, unexplainable circumstances than they accord to simple facts, and some have more faith even in mystic messages from planchettes and ouija boards. The so-called 'bloodhound testimony' being unexplainable, savors of superstition, and is as barbarous and dreadful as witchcraft itself."

Central States Note Big Increase in Auto Travel

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 7.—There has been approximately fourteen per cent more travel by touring automobiles through the Central States, both east and west, during the first five months of this year than during the corresponding months of last year, according to statistics compiled by the Chicago Automobile club.

During the first five months in 1923, 17,443 motorists registered at the Chicago club, as compared with 15,151 during the first five months of 1922.

The answers to the call of the road began in January, when 1,869 tourists registered. This was 50 per cent more than in 1922 when 1,308 tourists stopped at the club during January.

The travel continued heavy during February, 1923. The March figures were 2,923 in 1923 and 1,594 in 1922. In April 2,914 registered as compared with 2,592 in April, 1922.

The increase jumped again in May when 8,258 tourists registered as compared with 7,380 in May, 1922.

NEW YORK WOMAN FIRST

(By Associated Press)
HILO, Island of Hawaii, July 7.—The lofty, snow-tipped summit of Mauna Kea, highest spot in the Hawaiian Islands, has been surmounted, for the first time in history, by a party of women, which included Miss Katherine MacGregor of New York, a noted hiker, mountaineer, climber and writer.

Mauna Kea, upon whose lofty slope is the ever-active volcano of Kilauea, rises to a height of 12,825 feet above sea-level. The country on the slopes is of the roughest nature and the ascent is made from the semi-tropical temperature of sea-level to the bitterly cold arctic temperature of the peak. None of the party of eight suffered severe hardships except sunburn, windburn and blisters, they said upon their return.

Four days were consumed in making the ascent over the lava and the summit was reached so late in the afternoon that it was necessary for the party to spend the night at the summit, which was swept by heavy winds. Only two days were necessary to make the descent.

Ban is Now Lifted.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7. (AP)—Until recently through inheritance, the woman teacher has never had financial or social recognition; her salary has never been adequate, and her name was excluded from the social blue book because she was a woman teacher, Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of Journal of Education, Boston, Mass., told delegates here today at the annual convention of the National Education Association.

DRIFTING TO A WAR, IS CLAIM

(By Associated Press)
DES MOINES, July 7.—Seeds of hate being sown throughout the world are causing it to drift into another world war, according to Frederick J. Libby, of Washington, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, in addressing the Inter-Union conference of the International Christian Endeavor convention here today.

"The world drifts toward a war of gas and airplanes and neither the government nor the churches nor organized women have taken one effective step to prevent it," said Mr. Libby. "The seeds of hate are the seeds of war and they are being sown again in the French sections of the Ruhr. So fondness that we may feel for France can blind our eyes to the awful consequences of the policy she is pursuing. Many of you present at this convention will be drafted to be killed if the present drift toward war cannot be stopped and law be established in the place of war as the accepted method of settling international differences.

"And it will be a war of gas and airplanes. Recently in Dayton, the home of the Wright brothers, a young man asked me if I knew about their little 'bug.' I said 'No' and he went on to tell me that it is an airplane which they have sent from Dayton to Xenia, turned around and brought back safely to Dayton with no one in it, guiding it by wireless. 'And it might have been spraying gas all the way to Xenia and back?' I asked. He nodded and said 'Yes.' Airplanes, poison gas and hate make a trio of destruction so deadly that no one can contemplate the present drift toward war without horror.

"Our military men say: 'Prepare for war.' I am frank to admit that if we are not going to work far more effectively for peace in the next few years than we have up to now, it is our task to make the nation ready for war when war comes. They know that if a great war splits Europe, whatever politicians may say, America cannot remain aloof. The world is too small for us to be unaffected by anything that affects Europe.

Mr. Libby urged the adoption of the world creed as one step toward the prevention of war and also the reduction of armaments and education for peace.

NEW ERA SHOW FOR ECONOMICS

(By Associated Press)
OAKLAND, Calif., July 7.—Home economics teachers must acquaint themselves with the forward economic movements, for their success depends largely on the co-operation of the consumer, whose ignorance and opposition will defer the day when better economic and ethical standards prevail in the industrial world, Mary S. Woodman, specialist in vocational education, Boston, Mass., told the American Home Economics Association, National Education Association, at the annual convention here today. She said:

"About ninety-six per cent of the dirty goods in America are bought by women. Of these, 60 per cent are high costs and difficulties brought about by reconstruction of industries after the war, it is now especially necessary that women buy wisely. They sway the market and unintelligent selection is reflected in output.

"Federal legislation for branding cloth with its content is pending. The ignorant consumer is attracted, for she is assured that by this means she can judge the kind of cloth to buy. This species of legislation has long been opposed by the American Home Economics Association as it not only sets the futility of the argument advanced but knows that the enforcement of the bill, if passed, will raise prices of cloth with no corresponding advantages.

"The financial world has awakened to the need of eliminating wastes in industry and distribution. The Federated American Engineers surveyed six industries, textiles and clothing being included. They have made a report of their findings with suggestions for improvements. The Department of Commerce and the United States Chamber of Commerce have been working on simplifications by the elimination of unnecessary styles, sizes and cuttings.

"The Bureau of Standards has been called upon for advice by manufacturers' associations who are considering reorganizing their methods to eliminate waste. Codes of ethics are being drawn between interrelated industries to overcome methods adverse to success. The better business commissions are working to remove misleading terms and improve advertising methods. The opportunity and responsibility for increasing in textile matters lies with the teacher of home economics."

GOLDEN RULE IS HELD PANACEA

(By Associated Press)
DES MOINES, July 7.—When America can bring about industrial peace in this country by the application of the Golden Rule, they can solve the problems of the world, according to A. J. Shurtle of Boston who spoke last night at a session of the International Christian Endeavor convention.

"The teachings of Jesus when applied to human relations will solve all disputes," said Mr. Shurtle. "The trouble is that men and nations are blinded by greed and are not willing to do unto others as they would that men should do unto them. Remove greed, fear, and suspicion from the hearts of men and peace will result.

"The greedy employers because of their love for money can see only their own interests and it permitted to do so will grind down their employees because of love for money. The greedy employees will likewise cheat in their rendering service and deliver as little work for the most pay possible. Where this unfair dealing exists it is supplanted by the spirit of good will based on the application of the golden rule, there is peace and prosperity and happiness.

"The golden rule works where it is worked. As an abstract principle it is no better than healing medicine, carried in a bottle. We, as Christians, should preach with more earnestness the application of this golden rule and when we in America by its application can bring about industrial peace here we can solve the problems of the world.

"It is because of the faith we have in the efficacy of this principle that we are bold enough to suggest a program of world peace based upon good-will."

The survey for a railroad for ten miles up Catherine Creek has been practically completed and it is stated that the company will soon be ready to ask for bids for construction.

All this news will be welcomed by our people, who are especially interested in the completion of the plans of the Blue Mountain company, to the end that the mill may be built and the timber brought out this way.

Following the work already done by the Blue Mountain company, and considering the progress made, an obvious hope, our people have ample reason for feeling greatly encouraged over the project.
