WALLOWA COWS HAVE NO T. B.

WALLOWA, July 9.—Dr. P. H. Thomson, of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, and N. T. Bellie have finished testing 37 herds of cattle for tuberculosis Thursday. Of the 226 cows tested, no reactors were found. Fifty-seven cows have not been checked as yet, but it is believed that this end of the valley will have a clean bill of health. In addition to this number 95 cows were tested last May by Dr. Madden, and to T. B. was found.

The testing is made without charge and included the calves to be born. It is hoped to make the remainder of the county next fall. The fact that no tuberculosis exists in this section is an excellent advertisement. The disease is communicable to humans and every precaution should be taken to prevent its spread. Eastern Oregon is comparatively free from the disease, but care should be taken in shipping in cattle from the western part of the state where it is prevalent.

The purpose of the campaign is to eliminate any possible cases that would spread the disease. The cure of the eradication of the disease at this time would be much less than later when the disease is spread. If any cattle should be condemned the federal and state governments each stand a third of the loss. The following have had their cattle tested: Jay Hill, Lester Jackson, Wm. McKenzie, E. R. Hinch, W. H. Boyd, S. H. Moore, G. R. Lively, Hugh Hayes, G. L. Martin, Peter Knott, B. B. Oliver, Neil Baker, Wm. Johnson, Scott Hook, Chas. Johnson, Geo. Moffit, A. B. Skollings, Marion McVas, Geo. LUMBER MARKET IS UNCHANGED

No great change, either as to volume and character of demand or as to prices, has occurred in the lumber market during the last week, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Demand for both softwoods and hardwoods, though still relatively dull, has retained the greater strength noticeable during the last half of June and prospects for its expansion this month are considered good. Here building in the larger communities holds up well and city retail yards continue to move a great deal of lumber into consumption. As their stocks have by this time dwindled into a generally poor condition, they are frequently being forced into the market for new supplies. However, orders are in practically all cases for small quantities, to meet immediate requirements, and little disposition to buy future needs is

SAYS DRAMA IS COLLEGE ASSET

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The college or high school play creates in the student and his family a taste for better plays, Clarence D. Thorpe, University of Oregon, said here today in addressing the National Association of Teachers of Speech. Mr. Thorpe said: "If the study of literature in our schools is worth while, then dramatic work of the right kind is doubly so. Dramatics is the objectification of the student's reactions to literature. It is a portrayal in concrete form of the spirit and meaning of a play, and we must admit the living reality of characters made to act and speak on the stage are more inspiring than the inanimate figures of a book play. There are three pitfalls the wise will avoid: 1, the dramatic instructor furnishing all the interpretations, requiring the students to imitate him in the reading of lines and the delineation of character; 2, placing

CONTINUES WORK OF ARA

WARSAW, July 9.—While in many European countries the work of the American Relief Administration ceased simultaneously with the departure of the Americans, in Poland the activities of the ARA are being carried on by the Poles, and in some districts on even a larger scale. During the present summer season the institutions which are continuing the good work of the ARA are organizing camps. The child welfare work begun by the Americans is suffering no neglect in Poland. PICKING FRUIT AT COVE NOW

COVE, July 9.—After the two days holiday, Cove is very much alive. All kinds of vehicles are seen disposing of the loads of juicy fruits which the warm days ripened in such abundance. Cherry pickers are selecting their camping sites, and everyone is busy.

Among the many residents who attended the Oregon Trail Pageant were the families of Thos. Towle, Harry Weiner, John Weiner, Mickey Sentor, Wesley Smith, Robert Baxter, W. F. Breshars and Ralph Cameron, all of whom brought home glowing accounts of the day's festivities. Mrs. Lou Payne and Mrs. Otha Eckersley enjoyed the distinction of being seated with the pioneers on the president's stand.

The Fourth was celebrated with a picnic at the Ascension Park, followed by various fun-making contests and games. An interesting sketch of pioneer days was given by Mrs. Mary Wagner, who crossed the plains in 1851. Cove and Union were not on the way as yet, and La Grande had just entered the margin with two log cabins. A ball game between the single and married men resulted in a victory of 22 to 20 for the singles. Dancing in the evening completed a day of enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Forman are visiting at the home of Mrs. Furman's father, Frank Smith, of Union. Steve Selak arrived home from the state university to remain during vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tripper are entertaining Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Tripper and daughter, Denise, of Walla Walla, also Mrs. Griffith, of Union.

Mrs. Kight is reported very ill. Dr. Gilmore is in attendance.

Mrs. Bertha Proctor of Alexandria, S. D., is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Daniel.

A trip by auto to Wallowa Lake was a treat given by Mr. and Mrs. Antles to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Baer before their departure for Lincoln, Nebraska.

A very pleasant party was given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Daniel in honor of Mrs. Gay Barker's sister and friend from Portland.

Miss Esther Sammers, who taught in the Cove high school last winter, was a visitor on July 4th. Mrs. J. K. Lantz has returned to her home in Cove after spending several months with relatives in the east.

Mrs. Clifford Kall and daughter, Esther, are visiting Mrs. Kall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antles. Mrs. Robert French and son, Stuart, left Sunday for Long Beach where Stuart will attend the summer school. Mrs. Paul Ellis is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Barton, of California. The home of Oscar Lund is being brightened with a new coat of paint. Miss Bessie Goyette, with a friend from Portland, is visiting her parents in Cove.

Mrs. Cora Bloom received the sad news of the death of her mother, Mrs. George Corpe, at El Monte, California.

Helen Payne, of Walla Walla, and Marion Conklin were shopping in La Grande Saturday.

Lose Baby En Route to North Powder

NORTH POWDER, July 9.—A very sad accident occurred to the Paul Stevens family while they were on their way here from Chicago. Helen Eloise, their fifteen months old baby, who had been in a more or less delicate state of health since birth, took quite unexpectedly ill and died at Clinton, Iowa. As they were traveling on a through train it became necessary for them to take the dead child to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for burial. Here the Stevens family found many friends belonging to the Woodmen and Royal Neighbors lodges, who took charge of the funeral and greatly lessened the burden of the grief-stricken parents.

It seems the family had been followed of late by the hard luck jinx, as the trip itself was necessitated by the condition of Mrs. Stevens' health, she being a sufferer from tuberculosis. If this climatic benefits her health the family will make their permanent home here.
