Ralph Huron in Portland—

President Harding made a great hit with the citizens of eastern Oregon who assembled at Meacham to hear the chief executive when he appeared on July 3, says Ralph Huron, postmaster of La Grande, who was at the Benson hotel yesterday. Mr. Huron has been attending the state convention of the Spanish-American War Veterans held at Albany. In addition to being a veteran of the Spanish war he was in the World war and is now commander of his post of the American Legion in La Grande. For several days previous to and upon the day of the president's visit Mr. Huron was a very busy man. He organized the members of his post into a cavalry troop and with him as leader the unit made an escort for the president. The men were dressed in the old post-civil war uniform of the cavalry and were mounted upon the best horses that could be obtained in the Grande Ronde valley. "We secured the valley for weeks for the best available horses and then practiced our drill for days," said Mr. Huron yesterday. In addition to forming the troop the American Legion sold souvenirs at the exercises and raised more than $800. This amount will be forwarded to the national headquarters of the legion as a donation of La Grande service men to the fund which will be used to give perpetual care to the graves of men who are buried in France. Few posts in the United States have made such a substantial donation.—Portland Oregonian.

HARDING TO GO FURTHER IN INTERIOR

uriant vegetation, wild grasses and brilliant flowers, pink blues and deep purple.

The weather was ideal on the last day of the 450-mile rail trip the warm July sun bringing the temperature above 90.

The day's ride started Sunday morning at Broad Pass, on the summit of the Alaska range, where the train had been parked overnight. After leaving Broad Pass, Mount McKinley came into view, its lofty white crest rising in majestic grandeur above the other peaks.

Sight-Inspector Herd.

Arriving at Cantwell the party left the train and, soon, over a nearby hill appeared a herd of 1000 reindeer, a portion of the 300,000 which have been developed in 25 years by the bureau of education from the original train imported from Siberia and Lapland. "President and Mrs. Harding, viewing the sight, said: 'That herd would sadden the hearts of the American children and pull all Santa Claus' sleighs to their homes on Christmas.'"

Passing along the edge of McKinley park, the train arrived late in the day at Tonahna bridge, where President Harding drove a spike of gold, significant of the Yukon river.

Secretary Work, presiding, introduced the president, saying, "representing the government department which is charged with supervising the construction and financing of the Alaska railroad, it is a pleasure to report its completion. No one would have conjectured when the project was entered upon that the nation's chief executive himself would drive the last spike. This simple ceremony and this spike will become historical. They complete and dedicate to public service 473 miles of commercial highway and mark the passing of the last frontier.

Connecting Link.

"Mr. President, these steel bands you join will almost connect the Pacific ocean with the Arctic ocean thru the Yukon. From this great gate waterway will come travelers and traffic and it will mitigate the products of this new principality with those of old countries.

"Speaking for the hardy workmen who suffered cold and defied death, I present the work their hands have wrought. It means more than wood, stone and steel, although fabricated with consummate skill into bridges and tunnels and towers. It means domination of the natural elements and a tribute to unconquered American courage. It has been said that every great achievement is but the shadow of a man. The great builder has woven himself into the fabric of this railroad and enshrined in the hearts of Alaskan people the name of Frederick Meade. Fifty-six million dollars was expended by him in a wild country, with little supervision, but without avoidable error. In tribute to your active co-operation and your sympathy with the hopes of Alaskans, Colonel Meade wishes you to drive the golden spike presented to him by the people of Anchorage and drive the tie that will bind Alaska's commercial relations to the United States and signify an empire's pledge of loyalty to your administration.

Harding Handles Throttle.

TALKEETNA, Alaska July 16.—President Harding, as head of the government, drove one of his own locomotives Saturday over his own railroad. He and Mrs. Harding had as much fun as two youngsters on their first train trip.

When the train arrived at Wasilla on the Alaska railroad, which the government has just finished, Mr. and Mrs. Harding went up to the engine, and climbed into the cab. The chief executive, after brief instruction, took the throttle and drove to Willow, the next station. He was in charge of the engine for 24 miles which was travelled in 51 minutes. Mrs. Harding occupied the fireman's side of the cab.

The engineer said that Mr. Harding was a good engineer, but the dining car steward disagreed. This functionary pointed out that in stopping the train, the pilot had jerked the cars so severely, 11 cups were broken in the dining car.

While the engine took water the president visited with some section men at work nearby. He helped them paint a new bunkhouse, welding the brush vigorously. He discovered that Torry Harden, son of the section boss, was born on the day the people almost had a revolution. Traffic was held up at the Willamette bridge until the stock could be herded across the river in small bunches not to exceed twelve in number.

Robbie Boach, the world's youngest trick rider and trick roper is present. He is from Pendleton. Ollie Osborn of Union will take part in track and arena events.

The track has been worked and now is in the best of condition for all track events.

While the purse and prize list has not been made public, it is reported that the grand total will be well up in four numbers.

end, have been spending much of their time in a speeder. This is an automobile with flanged steel wheels fitting the rails. Traveling in this behind the train is much better than staying in the presidential private car. Mrs. Harding assured other members of the party.

PREPARING FOR ALBANY SHOW

ed cowboys and cow girls led the Spanish War Veterans parade. The thing that distinguishes Albany as a show town is the fact that a "cowboy rest" has been established. An old style cow camp is sheltered in one of the fair buildings, a cook in a high hat and high heeled boots reigns. Tin plates and cups, with food by the gallons supplies interest for the town people.

Yesterday over a hundred head of wild horses, bucking mules and donkeys arrived. Traffic was held up at the Willamette bridge until the stock could be herded across the river in small bunches not to exceed twelve in number.

100 per cent Cows' Milk

CARNATION MILK is just pure milk—100 per cent cows' milk. It contains all of the food elements in the fresh whole milk.

Nothing is added to Carnation, not even sugar. Only part of the natural water is removed to reduce the bulk and give you doubly rich milk in convenient-sized containers. Carnation is then sterilized (heated) to keep it pure and absolutely safe.

Removal of part of the water leaves twice the proportion of cream in Carnation as in whole milk. Thus Carnation is twice as rich as ordinary milk. For cream purposes, use it as it comes from the can; for whole milk, put back the water we removed (equal parts); for cooking uses add from 3 to 4 parts of water.

The high quality of Carnation is due to the excellence of the fresh whole milk and to our extreme care and long experience in preparing Carnation by the most modern sanitary methods.

Millions are using Carnation because they have found it the economical and dependable Pure Milk Service.

You, too, will find that Carnation Milk is just "100 per cent cows' milk," rich, safe, convenient, economical. Order a supply from your grocer today and learn the food value of Carnation for all of your daily milk and cream needs.
