

Classified Want Ads

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS

DR. J. L. and DR. MARGARET INGLEDUE—Osteopaths, Sarginal Curve and specialties of office and children a specialty. Office phone Main 106. Residence phone Main 106 two rings. Sommer Bldg.

DR. H. E. SCHON—Osteopathic Physician and Surgeon, Successor to Dr. G. W. Zimmerman. Office Phone Main 33. Res. 153-M. Palmer-Roesch Bldg., La Grande.

ATTORNEYS

COCHRAN and EBERHARD, Geo. Cochran and Cecil R. Eberhard. Attorneys. La Grande National Bank Building.

CHIROPRACTOR

DR. HELLE MYERS, Chiropractor. New Foley Building, Hours 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m. 7-24-1f

DR. J. E. WOODRILL—Chiropractor and naturopath. Skin and blood diseases, rheumatism, appendicitis, backaches, headaches, asthma, eczema, varicose veins, all kinds of stomach, heart and kidney trouble successfully treated. Blood pressure reduced. Diseases of women and children a specialty.

DENTISTS

DR. R. B. MILLER, Successor to Dr. R. J. Ruckman, Palmer-Roesch Bldg., Adams Ave. at Depot street. Hours 8 to 6. Phone Main 70. Special hours by appointment. La Grande, Ore.

NATURE CURE

DR. A. N. MAYVILLE, Specialist in chronic diseases, Skin and Blood diseases, Nervous diseases, Chronic Headache, Eczema, Rheumatism, Appendicitis, Catarrhs, Bowel Trouble; all kinds of chronic diseases successfully treated. Phone Main 52. Room 1, 2, 3, second floor, Coolidge Bldg., opposite Star Theater. Office hours 10 to 12 a. m., 1:30 to 5:00 p. m. Consultation free 7-24-1f

PIANO TUNERS

EXPERT PIANO TUNING—Clean and voice your piano without extra charge. Work guaranteed. Call New In Book Store for appointment. Roy H. Phillips. 4-15-1f

FRATERNAL DIRECTORY

L. O. O. F. M.—La Grande Lodge No. 350. Loyal Grand Lodge. Regular meetings every Thursday night at 8 p. m. at Odd Fellows' Hall. This Women's Monarchs' Legion meets second Monday of each month. Visitors always welcome. A. N. MAYVILLE, Dictator. C. S. SHULTZ, Secretary.

B. P. O. ELKS—La Grande Lodge No. 423. Lodge meets each Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Home and citizenship cheerfully extended to all Brother Elks. De Lila Green, Exalted Ruler. Mood Eckley, Secretary.

MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA—La Grande Camp No. 793 meets on the first Thursday evening of each month, in the K. of P. hall. Visiting neighbors welcome. E. J. HINGO, V. C. JAKE BOSTOCK, Clerk.

A. F. and A. M.—La Grande Lodge No. 43. A. F. and A. M. holds regular meetings first and third Fridays at 7:30 p. m. Cordial welcome to all Masons. LOT L. SNOODGRASS, W. M. E. R. RINGO, Secretary.

V. O. EAGLES—Aerie No. 259, meets every Friday night at Eagles Hall. Visiting members welcome. Dues payable at the office of the clerk. HARRY T. EDWARDS, Sec. Z. LILLY, W. P.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD—La Grande Camp No. 163. Meets every Monday night at Eagles Hall. All visiting neighbors welcome. Dues payable at the office of the clerk. Rooms 21-23, La Grande National Bank Building. J. Murchison, C. C. R. J. KITCHEN, Clerk.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS—Red Cross Lodge No. 27 meets every Monday evening in Castle Hall (K. of P. Hall) at 8 p. m. A Pythian welcome to all visiting Knights. E. C. FIELDS, C. C. C. L. GRAHAM, K. H. S.

WOMEN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION of the Macabees, La Grande Lodge No. 27. W. B. A. of M. Lodge meets first Thursday at 2 p. m. and third Wednesday at 8 p. m. at K. of P. Hall. Visiting members welcome. MRS. NORA B. MACKAY, C. MARGORIE EATON, R. E. K.

O. E. S.—Hope Chapter No. 13, O. E. S. holds stated communication the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Visiting members cordially welcomed. MARTHA ELLIOTT PARKER, W. M. ANNA H. GROVE, Sec.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

OLIVIA IS VERY FOND OF HORSE-BACK RIDING

SHE SEEMS TO HAVE FULL CONTROL OF HER HORSE

SOME TIMES SHE CAN GO AROUND THE TRACK EIGHT OR TEN TIMES BEFORE SHE FALLS OFF

SHE SEEMS TO HAVE FULL CONTROL OF HER HORSE

SOME TIMES SHE CAN GO AROUND THE TRACK EIGHT OR TEN TIMES BEFORE SHE FALLS OFF

SHE SEEMS TO HAVE FULL CONTROL OF HER HORSE

SOME TIMES SHE CAN GO AROUND THE TRACK EIGHT OR TEN TIMES BEFORE SHE FALLS OFF

SHE SEEMS TO HAVE FULL CONTROL OF HER HORSE

SOME TIMES SHE CAN GO AROUND THE TRACK EIGHT OR TEN TIMES BEFORE SHE FALLS OFF

THEATRES

Sherry's

Last Day "Slim Shoulders"

The new Irene Castle picture, "Slim Shoulders," which opened yesterday at the Sherry theatre is one of the most entertaining screen productions in which this charming star has ever appeared. The story is by Charles K. Harris, the noted song writer, and the picture was directed by Alan Crosland.

The story is about the daughter of a man who is threatened with financial ruin. She agrees to marry her father's chief creditor, in order to save the family fortune, but death intervenes and removes the man from her path. Still another danger looms up, however, when it is learned that a note forged by her father is in the dead man's safe. Then comes one of most sensational developments in the story, and Mrs. Castle is called upon for some of the best dramatic acting of her career.

In the end everything comes out happily and the heroine marries the nephew of the man she had promised to marry in order to save her father. Mrs. Castle does a little of everything in this picture. She wears beautiful and gorgeous clothes, drives a fast motor boat, rides horseback, dances, swims and drives a fast car. It is one of the best pictures ever shown on the screen, and without exception is the best Irene Castle production ever released.

Also Showing A Comedy.

At Star Thursday "The Hotentot"

Thomas H. Ince has picked a winner and produced a thriller in his film version of "The Hotentot." Adapted from the stage play of the same name in which Willie Collier scored his greatest success, the picture is a novel combination of hilarious comedy and tense drama.

The witty lines of the play which won such endless laughter from audiences throughout the country have been retained in sparkling subtitles. The absurd situations in which a horse-trapping yachtsman finds himself when he becomes the accidental hero of a runaway and is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of the same name have been developed on the screen with the expertness of the master showman.

Just by way of good measure, Ince has filmed a stepphase which couldn't be included in the stage play, and is a thrilling achievement of daring riding and spectacular photography. It took a month and 200,000 celluloid feet to enter the huddling horses and their riders in action rapid enough to satisfy the producer.

From beginning to end "The Hotentot" is crowded with laughs. Sam's introduction to Percy Fairfax, with whom he promptly falls in love, is one of the funniest incidents ever screened. The horse-trapping yachtsman has just shaken hands with her when her horse, on the contrary, jumps on the running-board of his automobile to pursue her. When the car hits a rut he is thrown into the air and lands on the back of a riderless horse that has been plunging along in mad fright beside the auto.

By sheerest accident the terrified yachtsman on the ground is seized by the horse man who pulls the girl from her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

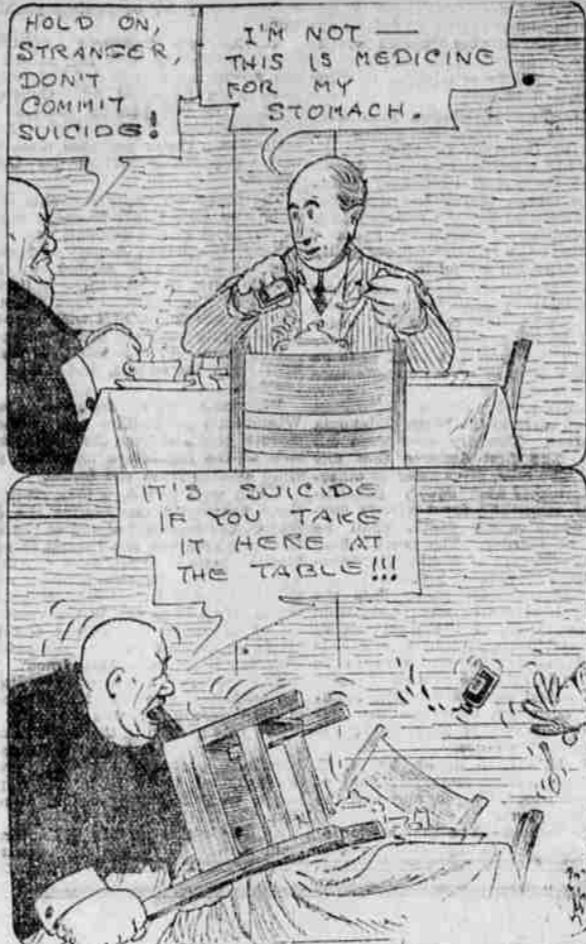

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

EVERETT TRUE

By Condo

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Madge Bellamy, recently starred in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone," is at her winsome best as the vivacious little sportswoman for whom Sam overcomes fear. Douglas MacLean, as the horse-trapping yachtsman, and Raymond Hatton, as Swift, the

her mount before he himself is thrown violently over a railing and crowned with a flying horseshoe from the violently pawing horse that has just run away.

After this absurd scene which every one believes has been a brilliant success, Sam is mistaken for a famous stepphase rider of his same name. His struggles to extricate himself from a situation as embarrassing as it is dangerous, in view of the fact that he can't ride at all, make Sam's life miserable from that time on. In the end he either has to admit himself a coward to the girl he loves or ride the wild Hotentot in a break-neck stepphase.

"The Hotentot" is the sort of a picture that is sure to appeal to comedy is brilliant and wholesome from start to finish. There is a strong love interest and a smashing climax in the manner of a stepphase.

Biliousness and Constipation.
"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me, I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.—Adv.

Measure Food Values
(By the Associated Press)
VIENNA, July 25.—Austrian government employees, fighting to gain payment for their labor's contribution to maintain their families, have proposed their own in a novel way. Instead of relating that in the old days they could buy for five crowns what now costs them 50,000, they have used minutes of labor as a measuring unit, and produced an interesting table.

In 1914 a loaf of bread cost 12 1-2 minutes of labor; today the cost is 49 minutes. A measure of sugar that cost 26 minutes nine years ago, now calls for 162 minutes. Coal has risen from 1 hour and 18 minutes to 12 hours and 26 minutes, and a pair of shoes from 6 hours and 18 minutes to 19 hours and 39 minutes.

All is vanity, and nothing lives forever except the soul and the one about the two irons.

Our idea of zero in something to get excited about is the right of equal opportunity in China.

Watch to see your grocery bills grow smaller

Cherry Pudding

Scauld a pint of bread crumbs in a quart of boiling milk; add a piece of butter the size of an egg, a good pinch of salt, four eggs, a cup and a half of sugar, a little ground cinnamon and a quart of stoned cherries. Bake in quick oven.

Macpherson's Bakery
La Grande, Oregon

Power

The three most vital units in the economical and satisfactory operation of motors are the Piston Rings, Pistons and Piston Pins, all of which we carry in stock, and with our cylinder grinding equipment we are able to give you a very complete piston assembling service.

Leighton's Welding & Machine Works

Heacock's Radiophones are four times louder than any other on the market. Enterprise, Oregon. 2-5-2f

Rags Wanted at the Observer

POULTRY! POULTRY!

We Want Heavy Hens and Lots of Them

Hens 4 1/2 lbs. and over 18c
Hens 4 to 4 1/2 lbs. 15c
Butterfat 42c

Buy Meadow Harvest Butter if You Want the Best

Union Creamery Company
112 Jefferson
Phone M-122

FORD & GEORGE TAXI
Service Enclosed Cars
CALL MAIN 44
After Midnight Call Foley Hotel
MAIN 773

La Grande MATTRESS SHOP AND WEAVING WORKS

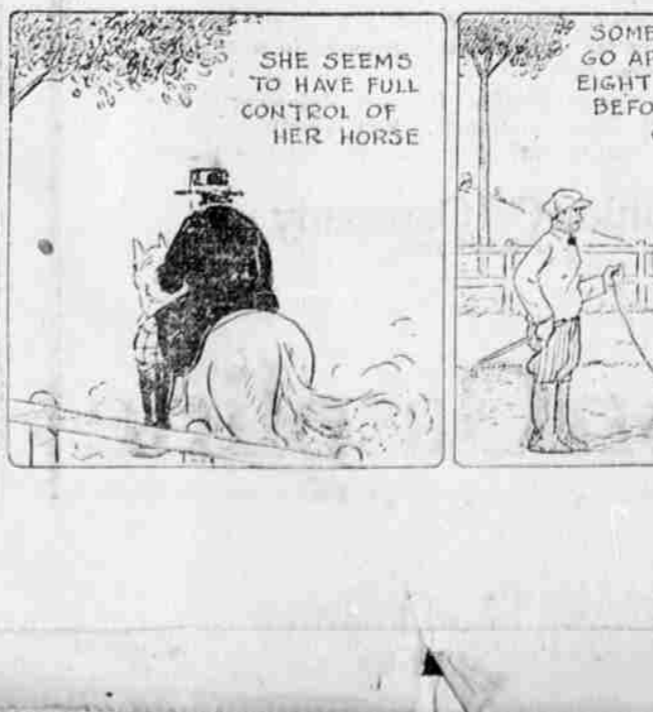

Mattresses of all kinds cleaned and rebuilt. Feather Renovating. Rag Rugs and Floor Mats cleaned and dyed.

Carpet and Rug Cleaning
5212, $1.00 and up
Chas. Edwards, Prop.
Factory Phone 253-W

Money To Loan

on business or home property on easy monthly terms
Apply J. R. Oliver
Phone 232-W

Olivia's Doing Fine.

BY ALLMAN