OFFICE CAT

BY JUNIUS

A Pastimate Poem
 Somewhere the sun is shining bright,
 Somewhere the fish are eager to bite,
 Somewhere breezes blow cool and sweet
 But here we sit and curse the heat.

Correct this sentence: "I let Bobby go barefoot all summer," said the mother. "And he never forgets to wash his feet at night!"

A Letter

(By a La Grande man to his wife in the country.)

Dear Wife—Your 5 letters came this a. m. I happened to notice them in the mail box, as I was leaving for wk. That's the mail service for you. Well how is everything in the country? Say by the way, did you know that you were away and left the electric iron on in the kitchen? It's a wonder everything didn't burn down but the back porch, thanks to the ice man. What shall I do with all the milk that's here. 5 quarts milk and 2 pints cream? Do we use that much every day? When I opened the back door tonight to whistle for your cat, there they were (the milk). I found the cat curled up asleep in the canary cage, so now I won't have to feed either of 'em. In your first letter the 1st thing you said for is a chick and your hair brush that you forgot. I've found the brush and you ought to get it in a couple of days. What will I do about socks? I scouted up a couple of pair in the wash basket but they ain't ironed. Which do you keep the flies was? I found a con of salmon in the pantry. I made a ham loaf of it and I boiled some potatoes in the sauce, and made some toast from a half loaf of bread that got kind of hard and heated up some coffee from this y. m. and it all tasted pretty good. Don't worry about me or the house, everything's a. k. and take it easy and rest. Your affectionate husb' Hank.

E. N.—When are you coming home?

SUGGESTS NOVEL WAY TO PAY OFF BRITAIN'S DEBT

(By I. N. S.)

LONDON, July 26.—(AP)—Pay off Britain's debt to America by means of bacon and eggs was the novel suggestion raised in the House of Commons by Captain Elliott, M. P.

The Mother of Parliaments was discussing agriculture subsidies, and Captain Elliott expressed the opinion that while Britain was consuming $75,000,000 worth of imported bacon and eggs a year she would never pay her debt. He suggested that if the English produced only every third plate of bacon and eggs eaten they would soon be in a position to pay the debt without hurt.

It is said to relate that his suggestion was received with ribald laughter.

DAIRYMEN MEET FOR CONFERENCE

(By I. N. S.)

WATERLOO, Ia., July 26.—Leaders in all phases and departments of dairy work will be here for three days, beginning today, for the annual summer conference of the National Dairy Council, one of the organizations that has been instrumental in bringing prosperity to the industry.

A larger attendance than any previous conference has been indicated by advance reservations. The conference promises to be a worthy forerunner of the Dairy Cattle Congress to be held here September 24-30.

The open sessions of the conference start this afternoon. M. D. Mann of Chicago, president of the National Dairy Council, will speak of the "Relation of Council Work to the Dairy Industry."

Following him on the programme will be H. W. Bahlerston, Philadelphia; C. L. Colhee, Philadelphia; E. R. Quakenbush, Pittsburgh; W. A. Wentworth, Columbus, Ohio; C. E. Reckelheimer, Waterloo; A. E. Wilkinson, general manager of a local creamery company, and M. O. Maughan, secretary of the National Dairy Council.

Dairying as it concerns health and child welfare will be explained by the Dairy Council workers. School children will stage a series of health plays and pageants for the grand assemblage. Special Dairy Council play instructors have been in Waterloo for several days training the children.

Following the delegates will hold their committee meetings and a discussion of the merits of the experimental work as carried on by the national organization. The National Dairy Council, whose main object is to create a stronger demand for all dairy products, is continually carrying on feeding experiments showing the value of milk, butter, cheese and less cream as foods.

For Saturday morning an automobile tour of some of Iowa's leading creameries is scheduled. It will end with a big, old-fashioned picnic for all.

Crater Lake Attracts Thousands of Visitors

(By I. N. S.)

The attractions of Crater Lake National Park, in southern Oregon, which at the present time is being visited by record throngs of tourists and vacationists, are being called to the attention of the public by the Southern Pacific Company.

A photograph of this Oregon resort, depicting the lodge at the lake, has been used to illustrate the company's dining car menus during the next few weeks. With the illustration is a description of the location, beauty and recreations to be found at this national park.

Sixty thousand copies of these "Crater Lake" menus have been printed for use on Southern Pacific lines everywhere—from Portland to New Orleans and from San Francisco to Ogden.

Reports of John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific at Portland, show that 10,000 persons visited this picturesque Oregon resort during the first 15 days of the 1923 season. This was a large increase over the number for the corresponding period of last year.

Well, why shouldn't America seize foreign ships? Nobody is in shape to fight now, anyway.

Bavaria Seeks Water Power
 MUNICH, July 26. (AP)—Bavaria will have one of the world's greatest power plants when the canalization of the Middle Bear River is completed. Seven thousand workmen are engaged in constructing a new bed for the river which will make it possible to develop an electric current aggregating 450,000,000 watt hours yearly.

This was result in a saving of 500,000 tons of coal annually, the cost of which has been estimated at 400,000,000,000 paper marks.

Two proofs of Independence—Old Glory and a Bank Account

One hundred and forty-seven years ago, this—the greatest nation in the world—was born. We are indeed proud of the fact that we are American Citizens, and as our flag floats to the breeze, let us one and all be thankful for the FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE that is our inheritance. May we work with one accord in preserving the principles of Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness.
