Scotchmen Like to Bet.
 LONDON, July 24, (By Mail.)—Betting among the thrifty Scotchmen is done on a scale that has shocked members of the House of Commons, men who are accustomed to deal with millions of pounds of the government's money every year. A Glasgow bookmaker admitted to the House committee on betting, appointed to investigate the possibilities of the government placing a tax on horse race betting, that he took in an average of $25,000 a day, or more than $5,000,000 a year in bets. This particular bookmaker operates a credit account system in established offices, and his business comes within the law.

Uses Her Hip Pocket.
 PARIS.—The French women in sport costumes, which by no means implies participation in any sport, but that of looking chic—has a clever way of dropping a watch into the hip pocket of her short coat. One woman was seen today evidencing that cleverness by allowing the smart fob to hang outside, half way to the coat hem.

Speaking of food supplies, why don't sportsmen go out and cut down trees and grain just for the joy of killing something.
